Latest from the Seat of War.

ISMAILIA, Aug. 23. Arabi Pacha was here three days ago and dined with DeLesseps.

Seven more of Arabi's officers surrendered on Tuesday. They allege that many officers and men wish to surrender, but are afraid, owing to Arabi's spreading reports that the English shoot all prisoners.

Nefich forms our advance post, and from thence a chain of sentries extends around Ismailia. The nearest camp of the enemy is at Rameses, and the next at Poy, 14 miles away.

According to authentic information Arabi Pacha has 2,500 men at Kafr d'Dwar.

Large numbers of men are constantly entrenched at Tel El Kebir, and there is little doubt that the big fight of the war will occur there.

The prisoners taken at Serapeum, on Monday, report that many of the enemy's wounded died during the retreat across the desert to Tel El Kebir.

ALEXANDRIA, Aug. 23. The Austrian gunboat Nautilus, bound from Port Said to Alexandria, passed Aboukir on Monday.

The Austrian admiral has sent the Nautilus back to Aboukir.

During the night the enemy have thrown up entrenchments in their extreme right across sands to Lake Aboukir, probably in consequence of a movement of the Highlanders on Sunday, which threatened to outflank them.

LONDON, Aug. 23. A despatch from Ismailia says the troops now at Nefich, with the addition of three squadrons of household cavalry, two guns, a detachment of Hussars and mounted infantry will march in the morning to Mogfar, on the fresh water canal.

Arabi Pacha has 25,000 men and 60 guns at Tel El Kebir. A despatch from Port Said says that the British have captured Buchdi Pacha, formerly the Khedive's minister of finance, and Suelikah Pacha, of the Khedive's household, who had espoused the cause of Arabi Pacha.

The military police have arrested 19 Greeks who were pillaging in the Arab quarter in Ismailia. Ten of the prisoners were shot.

The water in the fresh water canal is falling perceptibly at Ismailia. It is feared that Arabi Pacha has diverted its course.

The canal company has issued notices requesting economy in the use of water.

A MEETING was held in St. John, on Tuesday, for the purpose of considering a scheme for establishing a Baptist newspaper in the Maritime Provinces.

Fatal Fishing Accident.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT AT RUSTICO—A BOAT STRUCK BY A BREAKER—GALLANT RESCUE.

YESTERDAY MORNING the two sons of Mr. Thomas Blackee sailed on the regular trip to the mackerel fishing grounds off Rustico. They were accompanied by Theophilus Piemo, Hugh Fraser, and J. McAlister.

The day was very stormy, and the boats which were at the fishing grounds experienced great difficulty by winds and waves. On the return, and when crossing the bar at the entrance of the harbor, the Blackee boat was struck by a breaker and instantly upset.

A Terrible Accident in Town.

A MAN SEVERELY, PERHAPS FATALLY, INJURED.

A young man named John Percival, in the employ of Messrs. Peake Brothers & Co., was severely, if not fatally injured, on board the brigantine "Alpheta" to-day.

Foul Play, or What?

THE drowning of the young girl Sparrow seems to be enveloped in mystery. Various sensational reports are in circulation, and the fact that the most important witnesses are keeping out of the way of the coroner, suggests that there is something strange about the drowning.

CORRESPONDENCE.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions or statements of our correspondents.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—Having made my statement of the case between Mr. Brecken and myself, and submitted my proposal to leave the matter in dispute to the arbitration of a convention of our supporters, I would not have again reverted to the subject, had not Mr. Brecken, in his reply, by omitting several important points, given a false coloring to the question.

He first omits the fact that before the recount was instituted, we had information that in two polling districts, where Mr. Davies had a majority of more than 120, the votes were uninitialed. Had this proved to be correct, Mr. Davies would have been out and the two Liberal Conservatives returned.

Mr. Brecken errs when he says "it was found that the rejection of the uninitialed votes would not effect Mr. Davies' return." As a matter of fact, Mr. Davies' majority was reduced by twenty-six from uninitialed ballots, and thirteen on the general recount, making his majority thirty-nine less than the return, and had not two polling divisions, of which we knew nothing and in which we had a majority proved to be uninitialed, the whole election might have been voided on petition, by the reduction brought about by the recount.

Mr. Brecken further omits to state the very important fact that, in reply to his application to the president of the Liberal-Conservative Club, a committee was appointed, of which I was a member, to submit a statement of the case for the prospects of voiding the whole election, and that before the Committee had time to submit the case to Council, and 13 days before the expiration of the time allowed for putting in a petition, Mr. Brecken filed his own petition thus forestalling the committee.

Mr. Brecken very naturally omits to state that from the commencement of the recount he permitted himself to make very discourteous remarks aimed at me, and that when the judgment was given he made a most offensive personal attack on me, and that he afterwards reiterated this attack in still more offensive terms to one of the most prominent of our opponents thus closing the door against any amicable personal arrangement of the question—and now he declines by proposing to have the matter settled by the party without having recourse to the law.

As this proposal is rejected, I am now prepared to quote Mr. Brecken's language, "to fight it to the bitter end," and if the end should prove more bitter than he anticipates, he has yours to thank.

Yours truly, J. T. JENKINS.

The Chief Clerk of the New York City Sheriff's Office, Mr. John A. Lowe, thus speaks of St. Jacobs Oil: "I happen to be one who has been cured by St. Jacobs Oil, and I think that the remedy cannot be excelled for rheumatism. I certainly found it a most pleasant and effective remedy and one which did for me what many others failed to do—cure me. I therefore have a good word to say for the Oil, who ever opportunity presents itself, for I consider it a splendid remedy."

On Tuesday a man named Duffy of St. John struck his wife in the head with an axe, and inflicted injuries which may prove fatal.
