Cubs agree in saying "the Cub Camp this year was the best ever."

With the exception of two or three days, good weather was the rule during the Provincial Camp, differing from last year's record of thirteen wet days out of sixteen.

Swimming, bridge building, plaster cast work, sand pit work and alarmingly were some among the many activities.

It is regretted that so small a number were present at the Provincial Boy Scout Camp, there being only twenty three all told. It is not often we have such an experienced leader as Mr. Hopper, and it is unfortunate that more Scouts were able to attend. Patrol Leaders were unable to be present.

The fact that large numbers of the older Scouts go into camp with the Scouts for Active Militia, possibly accounts for the small number at the Provincial Boy Scout Camp.

NEW ZEALAND'S MANUAL OF WAR

(Canadian Press)

WELLINGTON, N. Z., July 22.—Announcement of a "New Zealand Government War Book," detailing plans for an emergency, has been made by Prime Minister Savage. The book is the result of 400 committee meetings and the co-operation of 40 government departments. Most of its chapters will remain secret until an emergency. Mr. Savage reviewed the main headings: Emergency legislation; mobilization; medical examination of recruits; guards for vital points; overseas passenger traffic; control of the enemy; coast watching; telegraphic correspondence; priority of printing; accommodation for extra troops. The book provides instructions to members of the various emergency services for action: first, secondly, "during a precautionary period when war appears to be probable," and thirdly, when war has broken out.

A comprehensive organization for supply is outlined, involving action by 24 departments and providing for foodstuffs control, medical and oil supplies and overseas trade.

Queen City Will Be Scene of Convention

TORONTO, July 22.—Reginald Spencer, Moncton, N. B., today announced Toronto has been awarded the 1940 International Gyro Convention. Mr. Spencer made the announcement at a luncheon given by Toronto Gyro Club. He is on his way home after being elected president of the International Gyro Club at its recent convention in Jasper National Park, Alta.

girls, who are in the habit of swimming near the Butts, failed to return with their usual promptness. Their clothing was easily located, but not the children. A search party was just getting under way, when they appeared rowing themselves in a small rowboat. Not content with swimming they had commandeered a boat that they had found anchored by the shore and making their way under the bridge were out of sight when looked for. They were very much surprised to find themselves the object of search, as they had not realized the passing of time, nor could they believe that they had been in any danger. Damsy rumor has it that they were drifting out into the harbor, and had to be rescued. This is not so, as they made the return trip under their own power, much to the relief of those interested.

St. Avards and vicinity might well have been termed "The Deserted Village" during the Confederation Celebration last week, with old and young attending the numerous events early and late. All pronounced themselves delighted with the various programmes.

Do you send to Toronto for your groceries? Do you send to England for your butter and eggs? Of course not. You buy them in the Maritimes and let the money work at home. So, too, should it be with life insurance. Why should Maritimers send $15,500,000.00 a year in premiums out of their provinces when the Maritime Life—an all Maritime institution—provides complete life insurance coverage at minimum cost and with equal security.

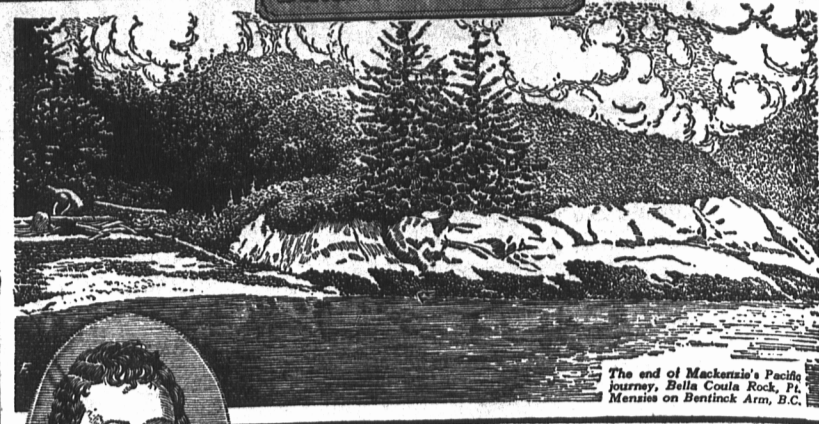

Is It Common Sense?

That Body of Yours

THE PEPTIC ULCER

A few years ago there was much controversy between physicians and surgeons as to which was the best treatment for ulcer of the small intestine—peptic ulcer. Physicians were able to show that by resting the stomach as much as possible, by use of soft foods, and preventing formation of too much acid digests, many cures were obtained. Surgeons, on the other hand, advised a new opening from stomach to small intestine. Recently a physician, discussing peptic ulcer with a prominent surgeon head of a surgical service in a large hospital, was surprised to hear the surgeon say, "I don't operate on as many cases of peptic ulcer as I did some years ago, as you medical men are curing and preventing this condition. Of course, when medical treatment fails, I still operate and also have to operate when an ulcer has healed but has left a mass of scar tissue blocking the passage of food from the stomach of small intestine."

The reason that more cures are being obtained by medicine, and fewer operations are being performed, is that both physicians and surgeons now realize that it is not the ulcer that needs to be treated but the patient himself.

Dr. Joseph Daly, Toronto, in the Canadian Medical Association Journal, states that it is now admitted that no treatment is suitable for all peptic ulcers. "The physician no longer aims to treat the ulcer but to direct the management of the patient who has an ulcer diathesis (predisposition or tendency to ulcer) and the surgeon confines his efforts to correcting the complications that arise during the course of the disease.

That there is a tendency to peptic ulcer in some individuals and families who are of the very nervous or emotional type is shown by the following:

1. Ulcer patients have a tendency to excessive worry.
2. The symptoms disappear or become less when there is a prolonged period of relief from the wear and tear of life.
3. A return to usual work, worry, or mistakes in diet bring a return to ulcer symptoms.

COMMISSIONS OPEN TO WARRANT RANKS

LONDON, July 22.—A new scheme to facilitate promotion to commissioned officer from warrant rank, announced by the Admiralty recently, will be brought into force Oct. 1 instead of being deferred for four years.

The system, one of selection instead of seniority, will see promotions made twice yearly, on April 1 and Oct. 1.

The exceptional officer will receive promotion at from eight to 10 years seniority, the majority at about 10 years seniority and the others at from 10 to 12 years seniority. Those not regarded as fit for promotion at 12 years seniority will be liable, at Admiralty discretion to be placed on the retired list.

To ensure all warrant officers with high seniority in prescribed categories having a chance of promotion at not more than 10 years seniority the number of promotions in the next year or so will be somewhat greater than would have been made under the 10-year rule.

Investigation Launched Into Police Dept.

BOSTON, July 21.—(AP)—A former Boston policeman's alleged statement that he had turned burglar and had gained the commission of Burglaries on their beats resulted in the launching of an investigation today by department heads.

The former patrolman was held for the grand jury today after pleading not guilty to a charge of possessing a "burglary tool." In a statement issued after the court appearance, two detectives, Patrick and William L. Thomas S. Conaty and William L. Patrick, said that while in jail the former patrolman told them one policeman in East Boston and three others in the Roxbury district had been aware in advance of the breaks and had made no attempt to interfere, in anticipation of some of the loot.

S. Coast guard headquarters said the trawler head would be towed to Halifax.
