YOUNG MEN IN POLITICS.

SHOULD TAKE THE BURDEN OF PARTY WORK. Some Advice Given by Henry Carscallen, Q. C.

It is the duty of young men to take a practical interest in politics. Look about you and observe what the young men are doing. In every calling in life the young man is making his mark; it is winning grand success.

I do not propose that the old men should be retired from active political life. These should remain as the experienced advisers of the young men too far, and be in turn, influenced to modern ways by the up-to-date ideas of the progressive young man.

The young man should take the burden of the work of the party. Being active and ambitious, he is able to stand, even thrive upon, work which would be a sad worry to one who has passed the half century notch of life.

Canada is now old enough to be able to have some politics of her own, and the young Canadian who desires to see his country prosper and progress should carefully study every political question that presents itself, whether it be a sweeping measure of reform or a minor matter of small moment.

PURIFYING THE POLITICAL AIR.

There is room in Canada just now for much work in the direction of purifying the political atmosphere. Above all, the young man entering into politics should be clean, and should insist upon political cleanliness in his party.

If he so chooses, the young Canadian can be a power for good in this goodly land. He can assist his party in making preparations for elections. He can do work for the sake of his party and his country, for which work it has become the custom to pay money—a practice which has led to many irregularities. He can assist in the establishment and carrying on of his political club, making endeavor to improve the minds of his fellow-members that they may work and vote more intelligently.

Having all the opportunities, it is the bounden duty of the young man to take a practical interest in politics, for his own good, for the good of his party, and for the good of his country.

RUINS IN NEW MEXICO.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERIES SAID TO HAVE BEEN MADE BY A PARTY OF EXCAVATORS.

A despatch to the New York Times says that Dr. George L. Cote and Fay C. Cote, of Los Angeles, Cal., Prof. R. W. Bullock, of Greenley, Col., and Rev. G. S. Madden, of Bland, who arrived at Santa Fe, N. M., Tuesday, reported that in the excavating of a number of large ruins situated in Pajarato canyon, between Bland and Espanola, they make startling discoveries.

The finds made in a room 9 by 12 feet in size are the most suggestive of the civilization of the ancient people. An old furnace for smelting was found, near which was a large iron bar, deeply incrustated with rust, also pieces of rich copper ore, as well as gold ornaments and a piece of beautiful turquoise.

Mr. F. G. Harding, a retired farmer, living at Nilestown, Middlesex county, Ont., writes as follows: "I have been troubled with bleeding and itching piles for four or five years, and suffered intense agony at times. I had tried almost everything, but could get nothing that would give relief. On hearing of Dr. Chase's Ointment I procured a box, and it only required part of it to completely cure me. I am recommending it to all afflicted as I was."

found in the regulation burial mounds. In the building are 1,200 to 1,500 rooms, only one of which was excavated. There are hundreds of similar ruins in the 25 miles from Bland to Espanola, showing that in that district at one time lived more people than are in New Mexico today.

CALLED THEM CADS.

Sergeant Ed. F. Holland, of the Maxim squad of the First Canadian Mounted Rifles, in South Africa, in a letter to his family in Ottawa, from Pretoria, dated June 25th, writes: "One think that makes us Canadians mad is the fact that all the hotels here have been reserved for the English officers, and privates are not allowed to enter them at all. I brassed it out and am now writing at a table with three cads of officers trying to freeze me out with looks. It does not work on Canadians; we are accustomed to frost of greater severity in Canada, and we generally get what we want. Yesterday I met Lord Roberts on the street. I saluted him and he answered courteously. A minute before I had saluted an English lieutenant and he failed to recognize it. Some of them are cads, not worthy the name of men. If I was in civilians' clothes I would be ashamed to recognize them as acquaintances. Our captain, Gat Howard, is a man of them all. He comes to our fire, chats with his men, gives us good advice, and we all respect and like him, and we follow him anywhere. He just makes us feel that we are men who should respect the rights of others and demand respect for ourselves in return."

Itching Piles

A Fearfully Bad Case—Much Pain and Acute Misery From the Terrible Itching—Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

It is doubtful if any remedy ever received so much grateful, unsolicited testimony as Dr. Chase's Ointment. The reason is not far to seek, for it is the only preparation known to man which never fails to cure piles.
