Soccer Player Flees To Austria

VIENNA (AP) — Arpad Fazekas, 26-year-old goalkeeper of Hungary's first division soccer club Voeroes Lobogo, fled Thursday to Austria, police said Friday.

The prominent soccer star, who played on repeated occasions in Hungary's national team, told Austrian authorities he was displeased with the economic conditions in his country. Fazekas, who left his wife and a five-year-old son behind in Budapest, said he would like to emigrate to South America.

On Dec. 8, 1955 Hungarian soccer authorities barred Fazekas for one year, after he was found guilty of smuggling while travelling with his club abroad.

To Organize Lake Swim

TORONTO (CP) — A six-man committee was named Friday by Brading Breweries Ltd. to try to make a proposed across-Lake-Ontario mass swim a reality.

The company announced the setting up of the committee shortly after the directors of the Canadian National Exhibition turned down an invitation to participate in setting up the 32-mile swim.

Brading, which has offered $27,000 in prizes, asked the CNE to join the venture to get the advantage of CNE marathon - swim experience and to have the mile-long waterfront as a landing place for any swimmer making it it.

The directors said they turned down the invitation because there is not enough time before the CNE opens in late August to set up efficient safety regulations.

The cash prize would probably be divided—if anyone completed the swim — as follows: $10,000 first prize, $2,500 second and $1,000 third for both men and women.

BACK STRETCH

ing into the turn getting away and hurt his shoulder but is coming along pretty good now.

"I spent a good Winter in Florida, boy, that's the only place to train horses if you want them ready early. I moved from Florida to Roosevelt in March and was there up until a month ago when we moved here to Goshen. I saw Bay State Pat train all Winter and race this Spring. He is quite a horse and I think will go in 2:00 or better on a mile track. I am enclosing a book on the sale and also the entries for next week at the Historic half mile track, Goshen. I hope you will enjoy them and also a paper printed here called The Historic Record. I have been down to the Hall of Fame and Museum a couple of times. It is a real nice place. Say Hello to all the boys at the track for me." Thanks very much, Whitey, for the papers you sent which we have greatly enjoyed. Whitey's address is Good Time Mile Track, Goshen, N.Y.

Cecil McGinley, who has been attending the races at Houlton, sent us some summaries and mentioned that a lot of the horses were starting for the first time so were not conditioned for real fast miles. He was leaving for Gorham, Maine, and will give us any news of Maritime horses that start there.

We notice by the press that Fred Lahey of Dartmouth, has been appointed secretary-manager of Sackville Downs, near Halifax. Years ago Fred was one of the most prominent horsemen in the Maritimes and owned many of the best trotters and pacers then racing including Jollity, that set up a track pacing record at Bridgewater of 2:05 1-4 on Sept. 6, 1943, driven by Johnny Vonroy. It was the fastes mile ever paced in the Maritimes by a Maritime owned horse. Fred was one of those who promoted night racing ag Truro and we feel sure that in his new capacity he will be very popular and will be out to give horsemen good opportunities to race and see that the treatment accorded them is the very best.

An exceptionally good card was raced at Saint John Exhibition Park last Saturday night. It featured two dead heats and only for second place position. It was the 5th dash that Panama Chief (A. Langille, Jr.) and Falming Way nose in the camera picture. Time, 2:13 3-5—the fastest mile of the night. In the 9th dash with the same field Flaming Way was 1, Panama Chief 2. Time, 2:14 3-5. Lawson) 2dh-2, Forever Rosecroft, 2dh-5. Time, 2:18, 2:15 2-5.

Harry Day, listening on the radio Tuesday night, got the races at Saratoga and heard the pleasing announcement that Lady Scott, driven by Angie Allen formerly of Halifax, had won in 2:08 3-5. Last year as a 3-year-old she made 17 starts and had no wins and this was her first win of 1956.

The many friends of Frank MacAlduff, well known Maritime driver, are pleased to see the rapid recovery he is making since released from hospital some time ago. Frank does not expect to race any horses this year but no doubt will be training some.

The very friendly and well liked Elliot Saunders arrived here from Lexington, Mass., last week and returned Thursday taking with him his good trotter Zukie Volo 2:16 4-5 that is staked at Foxboro. Don and Mrs. Seaman went along with Mr. Saunders and Don will drive Zukie. Everyone is wishing them the best of luck... F. Rankin McLaine and Willard MacDonald motored up to Foxboro the first of the week to see some of the big stakes raced here at the Grand Circuit meeting. One of them will bring together most of the fast pacers in the Easterm United States. Foxboro under Walter Gibbons, is rapidly attaining first rank among the half mile ovals in the East.

ALTERNATE

We are glad, and we are sure that all horsemen in the Maritimes will also be glad, to learn that arrangements have been made between Truro Raceway and Sackville Downs to program their races as follows: Truro, Tuesday and Friday nights, Sackville Downs, Wednesday and Saturday nights. This will give an opportunity for the horses at both tracks to alternate and make the classes more interesting in each locality.

A lovely evening, a large crowd and great racing were features at Charlottetown track last Tuesday night. Finishes were close in almost every dash with photos being required. We had a telephone conversation with Frank Ryder, president Moncton Raceway, who informed us that their $3,000 Pace, the Monctonian, which will be raced Monday night is attracting a lot of attention and they expect a very large crowd. If 25 or more cars will make the trip over from Prince Edward Island arrangements can be made to have the ferry make a special trip to take them home after the races. Here is the lineup as given us by A.L. Kelley, manager of Moncton Raceway—one of the greatest array of free for all pacers that ever faced a starter in the Maritimes: Yuta 2:09, Sir Joseph 1:58 4-5, Ann's Dream 2:08, Super Hal 2:01 4-5, Colonel Dan 2:06 3-5, Newport Chief 1:59 3-5, Josedale Clansman 2:07 1-5, Josedale Double Hal 2:05-1-5, Ben Brook C. 2:11 3-5 and Dave Grattan 2:05 2-5.

In Aubrey Kaizer's column, Sydney Post-Record, we note that Bay State Pat won in 2:07 at Richelieu a few nights ago and also that Richard Jabalee is considering bringing his free for all pacer Top Brass 2:04 2-5 back to the Maritimes. He has been racing at Roosevelt and Yonkers and would be a big addition to the free for all ranks.

The races at Moncton Speedway Wednesday night were featured by surprises, one of them being Peggy Smith's mile in 2:11 3-5, one of the fastest of the season. A high-class prospect showed up in the 4-year-old trotter My Son's Gal by My Son, dam Abbie Astra. She is owned by George E. Irving Rexton and was driven by Tom Etter who gave a mark of 2:13 2-5. She had no record previously, and is the fastest green trotter in the Maritimes this season.

TIMELY NOTES ON FUR TOPICS

At the latest Hudson's Bay Company's sale in London interest was evidenced in the muskrat collection both before and after the sale which resulted in considerable private treaty business. In all about 65 per cent of the offering was sold with London the main buyer and France buying selected sections. There was a good average run of Spring rats at 7s 6d (equal to about $1.10). Winter rats sold at up to 12s 9d for extra large.

The Senate of the United States has passed and sent ot the White House a bill which would authorize payment to the Killmoor Fox and Fur Farm, Medina, Ohio, of $14,140 for the loss of 36 baby foxes when an army plane buzzed the farm in 1947. Our comment is that it was a long wait but the $14,140 will cover a lot of troubles.

At the Soudack sale in Winnipeg spirited bidding was shown for the 300,000 muskrats offered and about 70 per cent was sold. Northerns sold up to $2.10 for heavies, extra large and large, semi-heavy $1.50 to $1.64, extra large and large lights $1.30 to $1.34; extra large and large papery $1.04 to $1.16; medium and small 78 to 96 cents; extra large and large slightly damaged $1.04 to $1.12; medium and small slightly damaged 58 to 74 cents.

RUSSIAN FURS

A despatch from Washington states that no serious consideration is being given by the United States Government to proposing any easing of the existing lesislative embargo on imports of seven named Russian furs. They are: mink, marten, muskrat, weasel, ermine, fox and kilinsky. Government officials close to fur commerce matters said official United States policy continues to be one of providing new impetus for increasing trade with Russia. They added that United States-Soviet relation would have to warm up considerably before anyone would entertain any proposal to re-examine the fur embargo. The officials estimated that nothing would materialize on this for at least a year, if then. Another general study of easing the fur embargo by changing the law is being undertaken at this time.

Canadian imports of furs in 1954 showed a sizeable decrease from the previous year's figures while the nation's exports were up considerably in the same comparison, the Statistics Bureau reports in its latest annual review of the industry. Fur imports in 1954 amounted to 18,909,911 skins compared with 21,011,727 the previous year, and exports were up to 24,312,674 from 22,340,616 in 1953. Two tiems dropped from the picture in the year under review. While this country imported 2,099 persian lamb or hare skins from Russia and goat skins, plates and rugs from China in 1953 and 22,966 in 1952, it did not import one skin in 1954. In the export picture, Canada did not ship out one seal skin, undressed, in 1954 after having a foreign market for 54 in 1953 and 2,013 in 1952.

Fur skins, undressed, the product of marine animals, 10, $300; fox skins, undressed, 7,036, $88,226; kolinsky skins, undressed, 73,975, $106,318; mink skins, undressed, 159,260, $2,503,698; muskrat, undressed, 2,457,968, $2,621,758; persian lamb and caracul, undressed, 1,061,113, $6,483,982.
