

"Walking Typhoid"

A case of uncommon but not unheard of malady came under the writer's notice recently. A young married man sent a note to his wife that he was summoned to a neighboring town on business and would be away all night. At this contingency frequently rose in his occupation nothing was thought of the announcement till the next day, when, he not having returned, inquiries were instituted, but no trace of his whereabouts could be found. Five days later he was found in a distant western city over 1,000 miles from home, about to take a train which would carry him still further towards the Pacific Coast. He was brought home ill, and suffered a course of typhoid fever from which he recovered as well as ever. His physicians diagnosed his case as walking typhoid, and the recital in detail of his wanderings, which he was able later to perfectly recall, was terribly suggestive. He had spent one entire night walking up and down the Suspension bridge at Niagara Falls under the impression that his wife was to meet him there and would be frightened to find herself alone in such a place. Distressed at her failure to be on hand, he started in pursuit of her. He stopped at various hotels and restaurants, bordered and left trains, always with a definite purpose. Frequently he came to his senses and knew that he was far from home and travelling under a delusion, but before he could fully recover himself the hallucination was again strong upon him. It is possible that many mysterious disappearances begin in just such a half-rational desire to wander, with however, not the same fortunate ending.—New York Graphic.

A Cave Filled With Skeletons of Ten-Foot Giants.

J. H. Porter, has a farm near North-east, not many miles from where the Lake Shore Railroad, crosses the New York State boundary line. Early this week some workmen in Mr. Porter's employ came upon the entrance of a cave, and, on entering it, found heaps of human bones within. Many skeletons were complete, and specimens of the find were brought out and exhibited to the naturalists and archaeologists of the neighborhood. They informed the wondering bystanders that the remains were unmistakably those of giants. The entire village of Northeast was aroused by the discovery, and hundreds of people from this city took advantage of their holiday to visit the scene. It was at first conjectured that the remains were those of soldiers killed in battle with the Indians, that abounded in the vicinity during the last century, but the size of the skulls and length of the leg bones dispelled that theory. So far, about 150 giant skeletons, of powerful proportions, have been exhumed, and indications point to another cave eastward, which may probably contain as many more. Scientists who have exhumed the skeletons and made careful measurements of the bones, say that they are the remains of a race of gigantic creatures, compared with which our tallest men would appear as pigmies. There are no arrow heads, stone hatchets or other implements of war with the bodies. Some of the bones are on exhibition at the various stores. One is as thick as a good sized bucket.—Erie Correspondence of the Philadelphia Press.

Classifying Crime.

An exchange thus classifies crimes of speculation. Taking $1,000,000 is called a case of genius. Taking $100,000 is called a case of shortage. Taking $50,000 is called a case of litigation. Taking $25,000 is called a case of insolvency. Taking $10,000 is called a case of irregularity. Taking $5,000 is called a case of defalcation. Taking $1,000 is called a case of corruption. Taking $500 is called a case of embezzlement. Taking $100 is called a case of dishonesty. Taking $50 is called a case of thievery. Taking $25 is called a case of total depravity. Taking on ham is called a case of war on society.

Lowering the Record.

At Central Park on the 17th inst., Duncan C. Ross attempted to lower the record of Davidson of Edinburgh, Scotland, and succeeded. His score was: Sixteen pound hammer—Davidson, 103 feet; Ross, 109 feet 2 inches. Twelve-pound hammer—Davidson, 118 feet; 6 inches; Ross, 131 feet 6 inches. Twenty-one pound hammer—Davidson, 78 feet; Ross 82 feet 1/2 inches. Putting 16 pound weight—Owen Duffy, Edinburgh, 43 feet 4 1/2 inches; Ross, 42 feet 1/2 inches. Throwing 50 pound weight—Davidson, 26 feet 1 inch; Ross, 26 feet 6 inches.

New and Original Departure in Coal Cooking Stoves COMBINING DURABILITY, HEAT AND ECONOMY.

This Cut represents my Patent Fire King Cooking Stove, with the oven, and lining partially drawn out, as it appears while being cleaned, or when a new lining is being replaced.

THE above Stove I invented and patented in 1876, and at the present time HUNDREDS ARE IN USE, giving perfect satisfaction. A large number have been in constant use for eight years, and the repairs have been very trifling, in many instances none have been required. This valuable experience should be sufficient evidence of their durability, which is accounted for in the following:—It has, instead of a Lined Fire Box, two heavy Currugated Cylinders, which obviate the expense connected with all Square Cooking Stoves of being compelled to renew Linings and Grates, at least once or twice every year. The heat being radiated from the Cylinders to the floor, where most needed, overcomes a serious objection to all kinds of ordinary Coal Cooking Stoves. The Cylinders are situated directly under the cover holes, and a fire may be made in one or both, thus adapting it for use either in winter or summer, with equal satisfaction, besides effecting a great saving in fuel. I have also attached the PATENT TELESCOPE OVEN to all my Elevated Oven Wood Stoves, such as the Waterloo, Niagara, Star, &c., causing the thousands using them to exclaim—My Stoves are worth TEN DOLLARS MORE than the same kind made by other foundries. The trade and retail purchasers will please bear in mind the fact that although a great advantage is claimed for my own Oven above all others, they cost no more, and being the sole manufacturer and purveyor, no other foundry can supply. Enquire for Fawcett's Patent Telescope Oven, and it your dealer has none on hand send direct to the Sackville Stove Foundry. I am adding several new and handsome Patterns this season, which, with my former large variety of One Hundred Different Patterns and Sizes of Cooking, Parlor, Office and Hall Stoves, also Farmers Boilers, Hollowware, Ploughs, Stove Pipes and Tiuware, comprise the most complete assortment offered by any manufacturer in the Lower Provinces. Terms and prices will be found as favorable as can be obtained elsewhere.
