Lobbyists Take Rake Off But Value Is Doubtful

WASHINGTON (AP) - Nobody knows how much money is spent in the United States each year in an attempt to influence legislation, but one guess has put the figure at $1,000,000,000.

HOWLAND

Frank and Paul Gallant motored to Tignish on Friday afternoon Dec. 20. On return they were accompanied by Diane Gallant and Pauline Finnan.

DEFENDED AS WELL

But he also has been defended as vital to the democratic process and as an indispensable aid to congressmen in times of decision.

KENSINGTON

The many friends of Mrs. D. Roy Ingraham, Kensington, will be sorry to learn of her illness at the home of her son, R.E. Ingraham, 775 Ridgewood Ave., R.C.A. Station, Lachine, Que., on Saturday, Dec. 22.

HELP IN ANY WAY

McCaskey tries to help a congressman in every way possible, furnishing him with statistics, and, if he wants it, material for a speech.

CHANGE VOTERS' MIND

Miles keeps telling local chambers of commerce 'Don't expect your congressman to vote against something most of your people are for. Try to change the voters' mind, and then the congressman's mind will change more easily.'

GREAT REEF

The Great Barrier Reef parallels the east coast of Australia for 1,200 miles.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

British Offer Of Pact Was Elaborately Casual

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Public reaction to Britain's offer of a non-aggression pact with Russia probably started nobody more than it did the man who came up with the idea.

MIDDLE ROAD

Later, Macmillan showed his practical side by dropping his predecessor's Suez policies, quietly and with a minimum of fuss. This display of political adroitness has been regarded as one of his major accomplishments as prime minister.

DRIFT TO WAR

He was a supporter of the Suez Canal. "We dare not," said the premier, "let our revulsion from the idea of the hydrogen bomb deprive us of the best guarantee of peace."
