

IS ON FRESHMAN ORIENTATION

the Shinerama, "but that would involve everyone."

She also thought that many of the events set the Frosh apart instead of welcoming them. One example was the shirts: "They made you feel you weren't welcome-like you're invading. Everyone should join in."

The week as a whole seems to have gone over great - "even greater" said John Lane "if everyone had gone out." Many said they met lots of kids and one mentioned that it was sharp how they had time to orientate themselves and not just get stuck in classes right away.

Joan Deagle, eighteen, was talking about the good atmosphere and said that the "Freshmen got to know each other really well - especially in Marian."

Carole King was enthusiastic when she spoke about the atmosphere at U.P.E.I. being "really friendly - just beautiful. And the Seniors really helped out great."

Another bit about Seniors came from Howard Simpson who said very aptly that "Once you're here, you're gonna be here for four years - it's going to be the same all the way 'round."

The Pig and Whistle seemed to be a hit, as was Edward Bear. With appreciation in her voice, one Freshette said it was a good concert and that they must have gone to a lot of trouble to get them here.

Opinions on the organization of the week were really told straight. They said the map was helpful and there were older kids around you could ask. One person said that "the campus isn't all that big to really get lost on but some things like schedules were new and needed help. Soon you settle down into things." Everyone seemed to think the folios were great and agreement was quick as far as people being helpful was concerned. But one person who felt the folios and people were great still felt lost and quipped, "Who needs signs when there are still more people to ask?"

Thus are the ups and downs of the Freshmen's impressions but pretty well everyone was of one mind on one topic: the atmosphere was - and is - GREAT! So, with our new supply of power apparently right behind us, this should be a great year for U.P.E.I.
