Wedding Vows Pledged At Canoe Cove Church

Baskets of mixed flowers decorated Canoe Cove Presbyterian Church recently when Laura Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. MacPhee, Long Creek, became the bride of Frederick Erwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick MacDonald, Crapaud.

Rev. Raymond Gillis performed the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Hector Currie was organist and accompanied the soloist, Ruth Hansen.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother Norman, wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie. The fitted bodice featured a scooped neckline and full length lily point sleeves. Her headdress of silk illusion was held in place by a cluster of roses and lilies of the valley. She carried a bouquet of red roses and ivy.

Mrs. Donald Sherren, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was in a street length dress of pink brocaded taffeta, with matching headdress, and carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

The best man was Donald Sherren, Westmoreland, and Reid MacPhee, brother of the bride, and Boyd MacDonald, cousin of the groom, ushered the guests to their pews.

For a reception held at Cornwall Youth Centre, the bride's mother was in a blue and white silk dress with black accessories and she wore a corsage of white roses. The groom's mother wore a dress of aqua brocaded acetate with white accessories, and her corsage was also of white roses.

Rev. Gillis proposed a toast to the bride, to which the groom responded. The guest book was circulated by Elaine Carver.

For travelling through Boston and the Eastern United States, the bride chose a sheath dress of whisper green wool. Her accessories were brown and her corsage of white carnations.

ELLEN'S DIARY

This Week Our Harvest Was Almost Completed

"Life's full of lovely things to do" — we read, and put down the book. And back along the week now about gone, we go in quest of the lovely things we found in its days. There was no dearth of them — there never is on Island farms! From daybreak or even before this, up to the blowing - out-the-light - time, so many, there invariably are. Today, for instance, in hours that sped by: the lovely things to do: the "Martha-work" of womenkind: meals to make and serve, Sunday loaves to bake... a cake too, and apple pies; rooms to tidy, wood to bring in, and last minute mendings to do before Sunday should come by. And the "Mary - things" too, which treat of the spirit: the impulsive goodnesses of the heart, which outgoing, serve to brighten our own, and others' days.

This week saw our harvesting complete, after a manner. Homefields of the name and those rented are stubbled, though there remain some pieces to be saved on a distant farm. In harvest weather, the days limited somewhat of late, by lingering morning fog, the combining continued. Little trucks plied between field and granary at this or that place. Wagons laden with bales of straw, that reached up to the service wires, where back in the days summer - guests of swallows sat in prim quiet rows, were brought in and safely stored... Juncoes were our company today. Sparrows drifted by like so many blown brown leaves. Pigeons cooed on the red of the barn-roof. Crows called along the hills. And September's mellowness, lay in the cup of valley, a gentle blue haze along the hills.

By this, September with all its charm will be gone, its spell lost to us. October, the nut-brown month will have come. Colors will have deepened in woodland and fencerow, neutral tints spread farther on the fields. Days will be still, the sunshine more mellow. There will be rustle of leaves underfoot. Chestnuts and beechnuts will fall. While on a stroll we shall catch glimpses of squirrels with puffed cheeks, intent on laying up stores.

Apple pies, we made today, among them a Dutch one well spiced and sweetened with brown sugar... And up the creek, whence comes the west wind, and where our spring-times crown in white the wild cherries, the Autumn shades glowed and spread.

"October" James remembered of the month, today, "would bring the new grist to the mill - the wheat... and the oats for the oatmeal. Early, remember, Ellen? we would hear the wagons and carts on the old mill-road. Would you believe the changes the years have brought!"

Nevertheless, still on farms, as one reminds us:

"Life's full of lovely things to do:
You can stop a while, enjoy a view,
There are hills afar you have not seen
Where white clouds dip to touch the green.

There's music sweet you have not heard,
From singing brook and passing bird,
There's perfume on each wandering breeze,
From fern - decked paths and scented trees.

There are trips to take, and friends to make,
And joys to bring to hearts that ache,
Reflected love will come to you,
Life's full of lovely things to do."

Until Monday — Diary — Good - night.....

"Developing Our Potentials" Is Theme Of Conference

The Biennial Conference of Business and Professional Women's Club held at Clinton Heights last Saturday afternoon and evening and presided over by the provincial president, Dorothy Cullen of Charlottetown, went on record as in favour of jury duty for women. The conference was attended by some 40 representatives of both the Summerside and Charlottetown Clubs.

Nazla Dane, of Toronto, national president of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, who was the guest speaker at the dinner meeting, said that women are in danger of being protected out of equality of opportunity, sometimes by legislation, often by tradition or custom. "We are prevented", she said, "from doing night work in certain kinds of establishments; we are being protected from serving on juries on the same basis as men; we are even prevented by tradition and myth from receiving the same training as men for more responsible and remunerative jobs. We have not done with trying to bring about equality by a long way, and look forward to the day when it will be as natural as breathing for a person to be chosen for the job regardless of sex, because that person has the best qualifications for it".

Miss Dane feels that because of the rapidly changing climate in the business world the challenges and opportunities for business women are endless, and that the 1964-66 CFBPWC theme — "Developing our Potentials" is designed to spur business and professional women on to new heights so that they will accept those challenges and reach out for new opportunities.

"Women" she said "could do more if they would — if they were motivated to that end. In order to develop their potentials they must take on new and unfamiliar tasks — must stretch their minds beyond their everyday routine — must have the courage to accept responsibility and to assume leadership roles — "Leadership" she said "is to know the way, to go the way, and to show the way."

Recalling themes used by the BPW clubs in the past: "Women — Horizons Unlimited", "Reach Out and Grow" and "Accepting New Challenges" — she pointed out that there has been a thread running through all of these themes. They all say we believe in women. Their response has been to build the prestige of the gainfully employed women, and to stimulate the interest of the BPW members throughout Canada, as well as to attract new members.

"We need members", she went on to say, "to enable us to accomplish our aims and objectives — members young in heart and spirit and interests as well as members young in years, members full of enthusiasm, who look forward to challenge and to opportunities to develop, members with vision to see and the courage to undertake new and even demanding tasks for business and professional women."

"Out of the 6,500,000 working people in Canada, 28 per cent or 1,750,000 are women" she said. With this large number to draw on for membership, Miss Dane envisaged what the BPW clubs could accomplish if their membership were doubled or tripled.

Miss Dane was introduced by a former provincial president, Bessie Prowse of Charlottetown, and thanked by Mrs. Mary Bradshaw, a past president of the Summerside club.

A pleasant feature of the conference was the presentation of a past president's pin to Mrs. Marjorie Champion of Summerside, the immediate past president of the provincial organization, by Bessie Prowse of Charlottetown.

"Club Activities", "Employment Conditions", "Training for Women", "Women as Citizens" and the "BPW Centenary Year Foundation Fund" were the topics explored during the group discussion period. Several constructive suggestions brought forward as the result of these sessions will form the basis for club projects during the present year.

Two resolutions proposed by the Canadian Federation were given favorable consideration and were referred to a committee composed of Helen Yeo, Ireta Sutherland and Iphigenie Arsenault for study and presentation to the provincial executive for such action as is deemed necessary.

Reports of the year's activities were presented at the dinner meeting by Ethel Sutherland, president of the Charlottetown club and Mrs. Eileen Shaw, president of the Summerside club. Chairmen of standing committees who also submitted reports were — Emblems — Mrs. Mary Bradshaw; and Membership — Mrs. Olive Waite, both of Summerside.

Chairman of the nominations committee, Helen Yeo, brought in the following slate of officers for 1966-68 — president — Iphigenie Arsenault, Charlottetown; 1st vice - president — Mrs. Eileen Shaw, Summerside; 2nd vice - president, Margaret Collings, Charlottetown; treasurer, Verna Darrach, Charlottetown. The report of the nominations committee was adopted as submitted, and the new slate of officers will be installed in the fall of 1966.

Florence Simmons of Charlottetown acted as recording secretary for the biennial Conference.

UCW Speaker Describes Life On Indian Reserve

Members of the West Devon Ladies Aid of Bloomfield UCW and several other women visited with the members of Brae UCW at the regular meeting held in Brae Hall recently. The president called the meeting to order and Mrs. Robert Oulton conducted the worship period the theme of which was "The Healing Ministry of Our Church in Canada".

The UCW purpose was repeated in unison and President led in prayer. Roll call was answered by 16 members with a verse from the book of Proverbs. Minutes of previous meeting were read.

The president gave a report for the stove - buying committee and stated the group had purchased the kitchen range which is in the hall at the present time. The treasurer's report was given. Correspondence consisted of a letter dealing with Mrs. MacFadyen as worship leader. Hostesses will be Mrs. Angus MacLean, Mrs. Ellsworth Thomas, Mrs. Albert Wallace, Mrs. Robert Oulton. Roll call will be answered with a donation of a juice glass for the kitchen.

The Committee for Visitation stated that it had done no work during the past month.

Mrs. James MacKinnon, reporting for committee on social functions, stated that our group had catered for two wedding receptions and had sponsored a post - nupital shower during the past month.

The chairman of the program committee, Mrs. Lorne MacNevin introduced Eva Sabine who spoke briefly on her four years of work on Bella Bella Indian Reservation in British Columbia. Slides of scenes in Bella Bella were shown by Mr. and Mrs. Neil MacKay as Miss Sabine continued with commentary on conditions of life on the reservation and of the spiritual needs of the people.

Hymn "In Christ There Is No East or West" was sung and meeting closed with Benediction by the president.

Refreshments were served by committee assisted by other members of the group.

O'LEARY UCW

A pot - luck supper was enjoyed at the beginning of the general meeting of the O'Leary UCW held in the Christian Education Centre recently. The meeting opened by repeating the purpose in unison.

The president, Mrs. E. W. Turner welcomed the members of the West Cape charge UCW and minutes of the last meeting were read, followed by roll call and unit reports. The treasurer, Mrs. Cecil Dennis, gave a very encouraging financial report.

It was decided to organize a new unit for the younger women of the church. Next general meeting to be on Dec. 8.

The business period closed and the Alice Turner Unit conducted the worship. Mrs. Alden Weeks led in prayer followed by a hymn. Scripture was from Luke 17:11-19, read by Mrs. Therin Ellis and prayer by Mrs. Arnold Boats. A solo "Be Still My Heart" was rendered by Mrs. Ralph MacLennan with Mrs. Donald Matheson as organist and an inspiring talk was given by Mrs. Norman Moase on the approach of Thanksgiving, followed by a hymn and the benediction. — Mrs. Viola Collicutt extended well chosen words on behalf of West Cape UCW.

Eva Sabine, showed slides and gave a most interesting description of her years as a teacher in the Indian Village of Bella-Bella, which is two days by boat from Vancouver, B.C. Meeting closed with Mizpah Benediction.

CALLING ALL HOME MAKERS

RAY STEWART of Crockett & Storey

WHY YOU SHOULD DEAL WITH US

Ray Stewart

With all of the fine furniture stores in the area, why should you deal with us?

For one thing, we never lose sight of the fact that it is you, our customer, who keeps us in business and we therefore, try a little harder to please you, knowing that a satisfied customer is better than a full page ad in the newspaper.

We want you to deal with us because we sincerely appreciate your patronage and we recognize the great importance of customer loyalty.

Realizing that customer goodwill must be earned, we know that it is simply a matter of good business to give you that "extra" service and attention which will make you want to deal with us.

Of course, there is also the matter of competitive prices, well made and well styled furniture and courteous and helpful service which are all important factors in our plan to make you want to deal with us.

Please pay us a visit. We know you will like doing business with us.

Call or come in and have a talk with our decorators here at Crockett & Storey, 134 Kent St., they are at your service without cost or obligation. Open Fridays until 9 p.m.

APPRECIATION

Having closed out my business I wish to take this opportunity of thanking all my customers and friends for their most valued patronage over the years.
