

Board Of Trade Will Strive To Make City Best In Country

Charles W. Moffatt, general manager of the Charlottetown Board of Trade, said the board will strive to make Charlottetown the best community in the country while striving to cooperate with other communities for the over-all benefit of the people of Prince Edward Island.

Their office is located at 156 Richmond Street on the second floor and is open Monday through Friday. Mr. Moffatt stated yesterday he would welcome groups or individuals who may have practical suggestions or constructive criticism to lay at the door of the Board of Trade.

One of the immediate projects of the Board of Trade is organizing a retail merchants' committee in an effort to beautify the places of business and 'tackle a survey of parking facilities as well as undertake a program of Christmas lighting for the respective establishments.

The board already has a committee active on transportation which recently organized a meeting with officials and shipper's of the CNR.

They also have an active committee on industrial development which is currently studying various areas with a view to establishing an 'Industrial Park' with a hope of attracting secondary industry.

In this connection Mr. Moffatt has invited Dr. Ernest P. Weeks, executive director of the Atlantic Development Board to address the quarterly annual meeting of the local board at the Charlottetown Hotel, Wednesday, Feb. 23, at 7 p.m.

Dr. Weeks will meet with the Board of Trade industrial committee and Industrial Enterprises Incorporated as well as members of the provincial and civic governments and others.

The new manager of the Board of Trade has been active in promoting interest in the proposed Trans-Maine Corridor Road to shorten the travelling distance between Maine and central Canada.

With this proposed highway and the causeway the highway travel distance, between Mon-

Onus For Progress In Medicare Placed On Provincial Shoulders

By KEN KELLY TORONTO (CP)—Health Minister MacEachern has placed the onus squarely on the provincial governments for the rate of progress towards a national medical care insurance program.

He reviewed in a speech to the University of Toronto Medical Society the conditions under which the federal government will pay half the national average costs of such a plan.

Then he added: "It is up to the provinces now to decide the rate of progress which will be made."

The health minister occupied the platform with Ontario Health Minister Matthews Dymond and Dr. Robert Jones of Halifax, president of the Canadian Medical Association in a panel discussion of medical care insurance.

SEVERAL ACCEPTED Mr. MacEachern recalled that in a federal-provincial health ministers conference Jan. 31- Feb. 1 several provinces accepted the federal offer to pay half the costs of provincial plans which meet certain conditions.

Newfoundland, New Brunswick and Saskatchewan gave commitments to enter the federal program at the conference. Quebec has endorsed the conditions attached to the federal offer.

Referring to the other provinces, Mr. MacEachern said, "Certain provinces were unprepared to make definite commitments at the time of the meeting."

It remains the federal government's intention to begin contributions to provincial plans on a national basis by July 1, 1967, he added.

And the four principles which provincial plans must meet continue to be the basis of federal contributions, he said.

The principles are that insurance benefits be transferable from province to province, that provincial plans be publicly-administered or administered by a provincial agency, that coverage be universal and that all the services of doctors and specialists be covered.

"The federal government has defined universal coverage as 90 per cent of the population."

The Board of Trade plans to put out 50,000 revised copies of the Charlottetown fact leaflet before the tourist season.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

of each province rising to 95 per cent within three years."

Mr. MacEachern said that while basic physicians' services are a minimum requirement at the start, the federal government will consider enlarging the scope of services to which it will contribute if the provinces reach agreement on further stages.

He wants it clearly understood that the federal government "is dedicated to ensuring that all Canadians can obtain health services of a high quality according to their needs and in respect of their ability to pay."

Mr. MacEachern remarks were included in a text of his speech issued to the press before delivery.

INFLTRATORS AT WORK MANILA (Reuters)—The justice department Tuesday launched an investigation into charges that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency has infiltrated Philippine government departments.

Government officials prompted the investigation when they claimed a number of federal employees were secretly working for intelligence agencies of friendly governments.

MANILA (Reuters)—The justice department Tuesday launched an investigation into charges that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency has infiltrated Philippine government departments.

Government officials prompted the investigation when they claimed a number of federal employees were secretly working for intelligence agencies of friendly governments.

MANILA (Reuters)—The justice department Tuesday launched an investigation into charges that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency has infiltrated Philippine government departments.

Government officials prompted the investigation when they claimed a number of federal employees were secretly working for intelligence agencies of friendly governments.

MANILA (Reuters)—The justice department Tuesday launched an investigation into charges that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency has infiltrated Philippine government departments.

Government officials prompted the investigation when they claimed a number of federal employees were secretly working for intelligence agencies of friendly governments.

TOUR ELECTRIC PLANT

Lieut. Lawrence Anderson, divisional officer of the Navy League Cadet Corps in Charlottetown, took six of his cadets on a tour of the Maritime Electric plant as part of their weekly schedule last night. The cadets parade on Friday

Mental Health Ass'n Seeks Advisory Council

The Prince Edward Island division of the Canadian Mental Health Association recommended to the provincial cabinet yesterday that the Minister of Welfare establish a provincial advisory council on welfare.

The delegation asked that the chairman of such an advisory council should not be a government employee and that the council should work within the following terms of reference:

- (A) to serve as a working committee on the request of the minister, and on its own initiative, to develop and maintain high standards of welfare service in this province. (B) to recommend basic principles which should guide the government of the province in the discharge of its welfare functions. (C) to evaluate on a continuing basis the total welfare program in this province in light of these principles. (D) to recommend to government and to other agencies appropriate changes of existing programs.

City Woman Is Loveliest

Mrs. Louis Bagnall of Charlottetown was judged the loveliest of 14 brides at last evening's Sweetheart's Bridal Ball held at the Charlottetown Hotel Monday night.

Mrs. Bagnall entered the contest just for the fun of it and ended up the winner of that perennial dream of feminine hearts, a complete head to toe, spring ensemble.

Formerly Eileen Compton of St. Eleanor's, Mrs. Bagnall was married 16 years ago at St. Peter's Cathedral in Charlottetown. Over 100 guests and a lobby swarming with interested spectators watched the spectacle which spanned the years from a bride of less than 12 months to that of a grandmother wed almost 30 years.

Mayor Terms Charges Absurd

Commenting on a report of Monday night's proceedings at City Council, Mayor Walter J. Cox said yesterday "if I am being placed in a position of having to defend myself against Councilor Johnston's absurd charges, then I am also forced to defend my predecessor in office and all those who will come after me."

The councillor had questioned an expenditure by the mayor of $350 for expenses incurred in his week-long trip to Montreal and Ottawa for an executive meeting of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities and its meetings with the federal cabinet.

The mayor pointed out the tremendous benefits which had already accrued to this city from its membership in the Federation and attendance at its annual meetings. Among them, he said, was the outstanding result of an additional $76,000 annually in civic taxes on federal-owned property. He also mentioned the winter works program as two more of the developments resulting from federation activity.

ALWAYS COST MORE Mayor Cox stated flatly, such conventions always cost more than the amount allotted and also remarked his personal position was different from that of an employee whose salary was being paid by someone. "In going to these gatherings I have to lose a week from my own business besides the extra expenses such trips always involve. But for the city and the province as a whole it is a wise investment. The benefits to Charlottetown are incalculable."

Art Lecture Is Scheduled

Thursday evening at 8:30 in the lecture theatre of the Confederation Art Gallery a public lecture will be given by the Rev. Adrian Arsenault of the Fine Arts Department of St. Dunstan's University. The subject will be 'The Sacred in Art.' A set of colored slides will be used to illustrate the talk.

MANY MILLS ARE SMALL New Brunswick has about 300 sawmills employing about 2,200 men.

Is Presented Top Award

Gordon Murray, a native of Kensington, was chosen "Star of the Festival" at the final concert of the 1966 Halifax Music Festival.

The unanimous choice of the judges, Gordon received the festival's highest award, the MacKeen Trophy, from its donor, Hon. H.P. MacKeen, Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia.

The son of Rev. and Mrs. E.M. Murray of Shubenacadie, Gordon's father was pastor of the United Church in Kensington for a number of years.

Gordon made his first appearance at the Halifax Festival as a small boy who even then was of outstanding calibre in his classes. Now in his first year at Mount Allison University, Gordon is majoring in piano at the University's Conservatory of Music and after post-graduate studies hopes to make music his career.

Besides the trophy Gordon will receive a sizeable scholarship for future musical study.

Mr. Moffatt is not new to board of trade activity. He was secretary of the Sackville Board of Trade for 16 years and after a 10 year lapse was again secretary.

He served two consecutive years as president of the Sackville board and attended board of trade annual meetings in the Maritime provinces for many years.

Mr. Moffatt was born in Sydney, N.S., and is the son of R.R. Moffatt a native of Maryland, P.E.I. He was employed as managing editor of the Sackville Tribune-Post, Sackville, N.B., for a period of 16 years.

NEW OUTLOOK In 1965, following a tremendously successful Centennial of Confederation year, it was recognized that if the work of the Board of Trade in Charlottetown was to continue in this modern and competitive age it should have a permanent office and staff.

Since then the Board of Trade has expanded into industrial promotion and promotion of conventions in addition to their regular community activities.

Mr. Moffatt pointed out the board of trade movement puts faith in the responsibility and resourcefulness of the individual operating under the competitive enterprise system believing these factors will ensure the highest possible standard of living.

He added: "I find we have an excellent group of businessmen in Charlottetown and they have been most co-operative."

The board recently approached the department of municipal affairs to request an extension of the regulations under the Town Planning Act to include removal of unsightly abandoned buildings, car scrap and junk yards, along all highways in the province.

Mr. Moffatt pointed out that this is termed the "Garden Province" and a garden is "only as beautiful as it is kept, so we should remove the weeds of unsightly conditions."

The Board of Trade plans to put out 50,000 revised copies of the Charlottetown fact leaflet before the tourist season.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

Is Presented Top Award

Gordon Murray, a native of Kensington, was chosen "Star of the Festival" at the final concert of the 1966 Halifax Music Festival.

The unanimous choice of the judges, Gordon received the festival's highest award, the MacKeen Trophy, from its donor, Hon. H.P. MacKeen, Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia.

The son of Rev. and Mrs. E.M. Murray of Shubenacadie, Gordon's father was pastor of the United Church in Kensington for a number of years.

Gordon made his first appearance at the Halifax Festival as a small boy who even then was of outstanding calibre in his classes. Now in his first year at Mount Allison University, Gordon is majoring in piano at the University's Conservatory of Music and after post-graduate studies hopes to make music his career.

Besides the trophy Gordon will receive a sizeable scholarship for future musical study.

Mr. Moffatt is not new to board of trade activity. He was secretary of the Sackville Board of Trade for 16 years and after a 10 year lapse was again secretary.

He served two consecutive years as president of the Sackville board and attended board of trade annual meetings in the Maritime provinces for many years.

Mr. Moffatt was born in Sydney, N.S., and is the son of R.R. Moffatt a native of Maryland, P.E.I. He was employed as managing editor of the Sackville Tribune-Post, Sackville, N.B., for a period of 16 years.

NEW OUTLOOK In 1965, following a tremendously successful Centennial of Confederation year, it was recognized that if the work of the Board of Trade in Charlottetown was to continue in this modern and competitive age it should have a permanent office and staff.

Since then the Board of Trade has expanded into industrial promotion and promotion of conventions in addition to their regular community activities.

Mr. Moffatt pointed out the board of trade movement puts faith in the responsibility and resourcefulness of the individual operating under the competitive enterprise system believing these factors will ensure the highest possible standard of living.

He added: "I find we have an excellent group of businessmen in Charlottetown and they have been most co-operative."

The board recently approached the department of municipal affairs to request an extension of the regulations under the Town Planning Act to include removal of unsightly abandoned buildings, car scrap and junk yards, along all highways in the province.

Mr. Moffatt pointed out that this is termed the "Garden Province" and a garden is "only as beautiful as it is kept, so we should remove the weeds of unsightly conditions."

The Board of Trade plans to put out 50,000 revised copies of the Charlottetown fact leaflet before the tourist season.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

These will be distributed through travel bureaus in many parts of the country and P.E.I. tourist outlets.

Fire Fund Is Started

A fund for the family of Mr. and Mrs. Pius MacDonald, 330 Richmond Street, has been started by residents in their area.

The MacDonald family suffered the loss of two children when fire destroyed their home Monday morning.

A committee of four city residents has been named to accept donations, and contributions to the fund will also be received at both city branches of the Royal Bank of Canada.

Members of the committee who will accept donations include: Harry Conway, Ken Jenkins, Lorne Keizer and Frank Zakem.

Anyone wishing to contribute may forward their donation to any of these men or to either

Assessed Fine For Speeding

A Marshfield man, Henk Wolvers, was fined $30 and costs on a speeding charge by Justice of the Peace Albert Dinnis in traffic court yesterday.

Fined $10 and costs of four days were: Norman Wayne Paquet, Hazelbrook, speeding and Ralph Orville Shaw, Winsloe, inefficient equipment.

MANY WORK ON FARM Agriculture, with $40,786 in the labor force, is the third largest employer in Canada, behind manufacturing and retail trade.

chronic renal failure should be expanded."

Except for the patient who dies of another cause, the other six "have been successfully rehabilitated and are able to carry on normal activity of moderate sedentary type."

The 16-11 men and five women aged 17 to 52—some being kept alive by artificial kidney machines at University of Alberta Hospital in Edmonton and Montreal General Hospital.

Their treatment and rehabilitation are reported in the current issue of the Canadian Medical Association Journal, which also comments editorially.

"It now is an established fact that patients with end-stage renal (kidney) insufficiency can be rehabilitated and maintained in a reasonably satisfactory state. . . . Expansion of existing (treatment) units and the creation of new units depend upon adequate funds and experienced personnel. . . . Possible sources of funds to support such programs must be ascertained."

Reporting on seven male and three female patients at the Montreal hospital are Drs. A. G. Shimizu, resident in renal diseases; Michael Kaye, associate physician and director of the hospital's renal service; and B. J. Innes, resident in surgery. Their report is based on studies between January 1, 1964, and April 30, 1965.

EDMONTON TEAM The Edmonton team reporting on five male (one of whom has since died of another illness) and two female patients consists of Drs. L. E. McLeod, associate professor of medicine and head of the division of endocrinology and metabolism at University Hospital; W. H. Lahey, associate professor of surgery; and research fellows H. Mandin, M. Davidman and R. Ulan.

Treatment for patients at both centres in similar to that each enters hospital once or twice weekly for eight to 16 hours at a time.

"Although based on a small number (seven) of patients, this experience spans a period of three years," reports the Edmonton team. "The degree of rehabilitation and psychological adjustment achieved by each patient indicates that facilities for intermittent hemodialysis in

chronic renal failure should be expanded."

Except for the patient who dies of another cause, the other six "have been successfully rehabilitated and are able to carry on normal activity of moderate sedentary type."

The 16-11 men and five women aged 17 to 52—some being kept alive by artificial kidney machines at University of Alberta Hospital in Edmonton and Montreal General Hospital.

Their treatment and rehabilitation are reported in the current issue of the Canadian Medical Association Journal, which also comments editorially.

"It now is an established fact that patients with end-stage renal (kidney) insufficiency can be rehabilitated and maintained in a reasonably satisfactory state. . . . Expansion of existing (treatment) units and the creation of new units depend upon adequate funds and experienced personnel. . . . Possible sources of funds to support such programs must be ascertained."

Reporting on seven male and three female patients at the Montreal hospital are Drs. A. G. Shimizu, resident in renal diseases; Michael Kaye, associate physician and director of the hospital's renal service; and B. J. Innes, resident in surgery. Their report is based on studies between January 1, 1964, and April 30, 1965.

EDMONTON TEAM The Edmonton team reporting on five male (one of whom has since died of another illness) and two female patients consists of Drs. L. E. McLeod, associate professor of medicine and head of the division of endocrinology and metabolism at University Hospital; W. H. Lahey, associate professor of surgery; and research fellows H. Mandin, M. Davidman and R. Ulan.

Treatment for patients at both centres in similar to that each enters hospital once or twice weekly for eight to 16 hours at a time.

"Although based on a small number (seven) of patients, this experience spans a period of three years," reports the Edmonton team. "The degree of rehabilitation and psychological adjustment achieved by each patient indicates that facilities for intermittent hemodialysis in chronic renal failure should be expanded."

Except for the patient who dies of another cause, the other six "have been successfully rehabilitated and are able to carry on normal activity of moderate sedentary type."

Student Named Contest Winner

Frank MacCormack, fourth-year student at Prince of Wales College yesterday received a $50 cheque from the Guardian-Patriot, co-sponsor with Charlottetown merchants, of the Hot Stove Hockey Contest.

Frank's entry was the closest for last weekend's games. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel MacCormack, reside at RCAF Base, Summerside.

Frank boards at 33 Hillsboro Street, Charlottetown.

The contest is a weekly feature of both papers and each week someone will receive a $50 cheque.

chronic renal failure should be expanded."

Except for the patient who dies of another cause, the other six "have been successfully rehabilitated and are able to carry on normal activity of moderate sedentary type."

The 16-11 men and five women aged 17 to 52—some being kept alive by artificial kidney machines at University of Alberta Hospital in Edmonton and Montreal General Hospital.

Their treatment and rehabilitation are reported in the current issue of the Canadian Medical Association Journal, which also comments editorially.

"It now is an established fact that patients with end-stage renal (kidney) insufficiency can be rehabilitated and maintained in a reasonably satisfactory state. . . . Expansion of existing (treatment) units and the creation of new units depend upon adequate funds and experienced personnel. . . . Possible sources of funds to support such programs must be ascertained."

Reporting on seven male and three female patients at the Montreal hospital are Drs. A. G. Shimizu, resident in renal diseases; Michael Kaye, associate physician and director of the hospital's renal service; and B. J. Innes, resident in surgery. Their report is based on studies between January 1, 1964, and April 30, 1965.

EDMONTON TEAM The Edmonton team reporting on five male (one of whom has since died of another illness) and two female patients consists of Drs. L. E. McLeod, associate professor of medicine and head of the division of endocrinology and metabolism at University Hospital; W. H. Lahey, associate professor of surgery; and research fellows H. Mandin, M. Davidman and R. Ulan.

Treatment for patients at both centres in similar to that each enters hospital once or twice weekly for eight to 16 hours at a time.

"Although based on a small number (seven) of patients, this experience spans a period of three years," reports the Edmonton team. "The degree of rehabilitation and psychological adjustment achieved by each patient indicates that facilities for intermittent hemodialysis in

chronic renal failure should be expanded."

Except for the patient who dies of another cause, the other six "have been successfully rehabilitated and are able to carry on normal activity of moderate sedentary type."

The 16-11 men and five women aged 17 to 52—some being kept alive by artificial kidney machines at University of Alberta Hospital in Edmonton and Montreal General Hospital.

Their treatment and rehabilitation are reported in the current issue of the Canadian Medical Association Journal, which also comments editorially.

"It now is an established fact that patients with end-stage renal (kidney) insufficiency can be rehabilitated and maintained in a reasonably satisfactory state. . . . Expansion of existing (treatment) units and the creation of new units depend upon adequate funds and experienced personnel. . . . Possible sources of funds to support such programs must be ascertained."

Reporting on seven male and three female patients at the Montreal hospital are Drs. A. G. Shimizu, resident in renal diseases; Michael Kaye, associate physician and director of the hospital's renal service; and B. J. Innes, resident in surgery. Their report is based on studies between January 1, 1964, and April 30, 1965.

EDMONTON TEAM The Edmonton team reporting on five male (one of whom has since died of another illness) and two female patients consists of Drs. L. E. McLeod, associate professor of medicine and head of the division of endocrinology and metabolism at University Hospital; W. H. Lahey, associate professor of surgery; and research fellows H. Mandin, M. Davidman and R. Ulan.

Treatment for patients at both centres in similar to that each enters hospital once or twice weekly for eight to 16 hours at a time.

"Although based on a small number (seven) of patients, this experience spans a period of three years," reports the Edmonton team. "The degree of rehabilitation and psychological adjustment achieved by each patient indicates that facilities for intermittent hemodialysis in

chronic renal failure should be expanded."

PROUDE'S SHOE STORE SALE OF SALES STARTS WEDNESDAY MORNING AT 9 A.M. YOUR BIG CHANCE BOYS' Laced Top RUBBER BOOTS 3.33 Reg. $4.95 Sizes 1 - 6 CHILDREN'S SHOES Brown, Black by SAVAGE, BRAVES 4.49 Reg. to 6.95 Sizes 8 1/2 - 4 LADIES SEAL-SKIN BOOTS 11.95 Regular 17.95 - Laced Front WOMEN'S FLATS Suedes, Brown, Black, Straps, Laced Sizes 4 - 10 2.99 Regular to 5.95 WOMEN'S PUMPS 4.98 Black, Brown, Patent Reg. to 9.95 Sizes 4 - 10

Fuel Stove Oils Burner Service SHELL A complete stock of furnace parts on hand. Your Shell Agent for Charlottetown, Parkeville, Sherwood and Eastern P. E. I. J. W. Skinner Dial 4-4044

PURITY DAIRY Parents Prefer Purity Products 317 Kent St. Dial 4-7123