Contract Is Let For Souris Job

OTTAWA (Special)—Repairs to the breakwater at Souris, P.E.I., are to be carried out this summer by the Federal Government at a cost of $8,055.

John A. Macdonald, Conservative M.P. for King's, in making the announcement Thursday said the contract has been awarded to County Construction Company, of Charlottetown.

The breakwater offers protection at the entrance to the harbor which is used mainly by fishing vessels and dragnets.

Mr. Macdonald said that in 1955, due to the wearing away and settling of the breakwater, 20 cement blocks were used to build it up. "Last year, especially on the seaward side, there was further settling," he said. "The contract is for 180 more of these blocks which will build the breakwater to the required level."

Business Urged To Boost Grants To Universities

By DAVE OANCIA
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP)—Canadian business and industries must step up their contributions to universities if the schools are to avoid the dangerous threat of slow economic starvation, says G. L. Wilcox of Hamilton, president of Canadian Westinghouse Limited.

In a speech to an education conference of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association Thursday, he said business and industry are not taking advantage of an income tax act provision which makes it possible to make tax-deductible contributions.

"This wise provision enables businessmen to contribute to causes they deem worthy, and to institutions of their own choice at a cost to the business that may be as little as 50 per cent of the actual dollars involved."

"It is a provision which, if used more generously, could substantially free higher education from the financial shackles that bind it today."

Mr. Wilcox was one of three speakers during the industrial leaders' three-hour conference discussing the general topic of Education for Industrial Achievement. The talks were followed by a question period and a student-industrialist quiz.

PATHEMIC ESCAPISM

Sir Robert Watson-Watt, inventor of radar and now president of Adalia Limited, a Montreal manufacturing firm, said the recent emphasis on the exploration of space for any purpose other than physical research appears to be the "most pathetic symptom of that psychopathic escapism that is the most menacing disease of our age."

"What on earth, or why on earth, makes us think we can run outer space successfully when we can't run our own little planet sensibly?" he asked.

Dr. A. W. Trueman of Ottawa, director of the Canada Council, stressed the importance of a knowledge of the humanities—history, literature, philosophy and religion—for the right conduct of the affairs of men.

University graduates of recent years came under fire from T. A. Rice of Hamilton, vice-president of the International Harvester Company.

DISLIKE DIRTY HANDS

He charged too many of them didn't "take to get their hands dirty" by taking on any industrial job that came along to learn the business after their graduation. The student panel members had complained that industry generally gave university students and graduates menial tasks to do when they were first hired.

A number of the industrialists stressed they didn't think it "made a particle of difference" what a man studied at university as long as he could think logically and reach conclusions.

In other sessions of the Parliament of Canadian Industry delegates called for a flexible tariff policy to help Canada's industry get a bigger share of the domestic market.

Belgium Makes Fisheries Protest

BRUSSELS (Reuters)—Belgium has protested to Iceland over its "regrettable decision" to extend coastal fishery limits to 12 miles, a foreign ministry spokesman announced Thursday.

"Belgium will consult the other North Sea states who have the same fishing interests in order to decide what action to take to defend her interests," the spokesman said.

A note to this effect has been sent to the Icelandic government. The Icelandic fisheries account for about one-third of the total of exclusive coastal fishing waters to 12 from four miles Sept. 1.

Britain rejected Iceland's claim, warned it would protect its fishing fleets and called on Iceland to negotiate for an acceptable agreement.

The local parliament of the Faroes Islands, a Danish dependency between Britain and Iceland, served notice Wednesday it was considering following Iceland's example.

New School Cost $92,464, Georgetown Meeting Is Told

Total expenditures incurred in the erection of the new school at Georgetown were $92,464.10, it was learned from the report of the chairman of trustees Mr. H. S. MacLean at the annual meeting held Tuesday night.

Mr. MacLean also stated that the total receipts from all sources amounted to $93,595.59, with $45,000 received as a Government guaranteed loan and $25,029.46 as a Government grant. The sale of lumber from the potato warehouse which was purchased by the School Board amounted to $17,089.10.

The new ten-room classroom, officially opened on April 14, was described by the supervisor, Mr. Louis Herring, as being one of the finest school buildings in the Province, and he congratulated the people of Georgetown on their fine attainment.

Mrs. N.W. Hansen read the minutes of the last annual meeting, and Mr. Norman Thompson presented the auditor's report.

The meeting, which was presided over by Mayor Raymond W. Soloman, voted $4,000 for teachers' supplements, $2,000 for running expenses, and $4,000 to be drawn from the sinking fund to pay the yearly debenture on the new school.

Mr. Neil Wight was appointed to fill the vacancy on the trustee board caused by the completion of Mr. Walter Soloman's third year of service on the board.

The secretary read the annual financial statement which showed revenues of $58,296.70 and expenditures of $55,186.60. Outstanding taxes amounted to $6,019.52.

Readers will be called to dispose of the old school, the meeting was informed by the trustees and school warning road signs will be obtained and placed on Kent Street.

The question of opening Grade XI was discussed at considerable length and it was decided that if at all possible a Grade XI would be opened, provided the required number of 15 pupils could be obtained. Altogether the estimated number of pupils to be enrolled in the ten grades next year will be in the vicinity of 240. It was, therefore, considered advisable to begin laying the groundwork for the operation of a Grade XI classroom in the new school.
