

CIMN— THE STATION AND YOU

By Rhonda McLellan

CIMN RADIO HAS had it's ups and downs throughout the 1987-88 year at UPEI. Technical difficulties had plagued the station from day one back in September, and continued until just a few short weeks ago when the AM cable was restored on campus. Now that the problems have been fixed, we can end the year on a good note... that CIMN had more spirit this year than any other that I have witnessed.

Over 75 students were involved with the station this year, most of them planning on continuing the tradition next year. Without the time, dedication and enthusiasm of these students, the radio station would not exist. I really appreciate the support from each and every one of these DJ's. As an organization, we proved that UPEI didn't lose all apathy. Instead, I feel that the group that I have worked with this past year will bring the spirit back into the lives of the students on campus.

I'd especially wish to thank the Advertising Manager, Rodney St. Pierre for his innovative ideas which helped bring the station to a new high with off-campus listeners. He organised numerous remotes from the Charlottetown Mall which promoted the station to a new "body" of listeners. Without his time at the station, I doubt that the spirit would be at the height that it is at the present time. Advertising is a difficult job, but Rodney did prove to me that freshmen can get involved with different aspects of the Student Union, and do a remarkable job.

The Music Director (Kevin Smith) and the Asst. Manager (Doris Murphy) also deserve a meaningful thank you from me, as they worked some long hours doing (sometimes) menial tasks (but important ones).

The biggest round of applause must go to the DJ's who signed up for shifts, were responsible for their shifts, and played music throughout the broadcasting day. Never before have I seen so many students who showed such a keen interest in the station. The shift schedule has been full since early in the semester. These are the people who keep CIMN alive morning, noon and night.

If anyone is interested in joining the station next year, please feel free to come up to the third floor of the Barn and have a look around. Or better yet, why not ask the DJ's who were involved in this past semester?:

Whether you enjoy listening to Top 40, Heavy Metal, Punk, Funk, Reggae, Alternative, European, New Wave, Jazz or any other form of musical entertainment, you are almost guaranteed that it is played on CIMN— 102.3 FM or 700 AM (on campus).

So, the year is over... what else can be said except I also thank the student council for becoming more aware of the radio station, thanks to Bob Stanley (Mr. Dependable) for helping out with some technical questions, Mr. Don Coles over at Maintenance for hooking us back up. Also, to The Gem and the staff over their to allow us to write articles to express to the students of UPEI.

I look forward to yet another year as manager under the newly elected executive (Congrats again Dean), and working with our newly hired management team: Kirk MacKinnon, Asst. Manager

Rodney St. Pierre, Advertising Manager
Kevin Smith, Music Director

Have a wonderful summer, until next year!!
CIMN's last day of operation for this semester is April 3.
