Kinsmen Tree To Be Centre Of Attraction

The Kinsmen Christmas Tree on the corner of Queen and Grafton streets will undoubtedly be the centre of attraction during the evenings of the latter part of this week.

A newer and more symmetrical tree is being erected today to replace the one which was blown down by the recent storm.

On Saturday evening the Baptist Girls' Choir will combine their voices with those of the Kirk Girls' Choir in the singing of the beautiful music of Christmas.

Santa himself will be present each evening, and the Kinsmen will have a box placed at the base of the tree, in which it is requested that financial contributions or gifts of toys be placed.

The schooner Ivy and Muriel, earlier reported missing, made port at Aguanthuna with two of her dories snatched from her decks by the rising waves.

The schooner La Parie made Port Au Port to report a motorboat she had on tow. No one was aboard the smaller craft.

The Panamanian freighter Marcella drifted close to the dangerous rocks off Cheticamp, N.S. before her master reported her in safe water and awaiting a tug.

On land, some 12 inches of snow, slushy because of mild temperatures, fell throughout most of the Atlantic Provinces.

With the count still far from complete, hundreds of communication line poles were reported down. Repair crews said it would take weeks to restore everything to normal.

By Provinces, this was the picture: Nova Scotia - Communications gradually being restored to normal but damage reported heavy.

The town of Berwick and the rural areas between Waterville and Middleton were still without electricity.

The D.A.R. used commercial radio stations to relay train orders to various points throughout the Annapolis Valley.

New Brunswick - The southeastern quarter of the Province bore the brunt of the storm. Saint John, with about six inches of snow, escaped the full force and northern counties were mostly untouched.

Westmorland County was one of the hardest hit. Plows kept the 12 inches of snow from the main highways but secondary routes were blocked.

Snowfall in Kent and Kings Counties, where the most serious damage to telephone and telegraph wires occurred, reached 10 inches. Power failures troubled Moncton.

CANADIAN FARM BRIEFS HOARY CRESS HARD TO KILL

Continuous summer-fallow over a three year period involving 22-25 cultivations have been found necessary for the eradication of hoary cress at the District Experimental Station at Dalroy, Alta.

During the first season the cultivations were done at two-week intervals, at three-week intervals during the second season and at extended variable periods during the third season. Various rotations were tried in an effort to control this perennial weed but none was successful.

The wires were laden with sleet and snow, he stated. The high winds blew them together thus causing them to break.

Mr. Frank Fraser, manager of Canadian National Telegraphs, reported that about 70 poles had been broken between the Charlottetown and Borden in the Charlottetown and Borden area. It was impossible to get messages past Emerald Junction, he stated. The Montague and Murray Harbor lines were still out last night and he did not know when they would be restored.

Communication with the mainland was set up about 7.30 last night with a special line being strung up to provide the Guardian with teletype news service.

Flying operations were curtailed during most of the day yesterday but were resumed last night.

Worked Strenuously

Linemen were out working Monday night but high winds made it nearly impossible for them to climb the poles. Mr. Ainsworth was high in his praise of the hard working Electric light facilities in the City were all restored yesterday with the exception of one section on the Spring Park Road. It was reported last night by Mr. V.A. Ainsworth, general manager of the Maritime Electric Company.

Power was also restored to the Souris and Montague lines by yesterday evening, he stated. The Montague line was knocked out about eleven o'clock Monday night and the Souris line a short time later.

The lines to Borden and O'Leary were still out last night. Six poles were down on the west side of Hampton and other poles were broken in various localities.

The Weymouth Street circuit near the Hillsboro Bridge and the Montague circuit broke out at 9.10 Monday night to give the first electric trouble. Both circuits were strung up but the Weymouth circuit went out again about 11 o'clock.

The Montague circuit went out again shortly after eleven and was put back into working shape about noon yesterday.

About 5.30 yesterday morning half the Brighton circuit was out. The wires were down at the lower end of Brighton Road and North River Road when a tree fell across the wires on Brighton Avenue and there was trouble on Elm Avenue. The Brighton circuit was functioning again about 9.20 A.M.

Neighbors Of The Christ

A silver star shines o'er a hill. When white lambs sleeping lay. And dream that in a manger near. Sleeps one as white as they.

And in a poor and humble cave. The wide-eyed oxen gaze. Upon the little new-born Babe. In wonder and amazement.

The doves upon the rafters high. Are cooing low and mild. Yet not so sweet as in the hay. The Mother to her Child.

The fragrant breath of gentle kine. Keeps Baby Jesus warm. While one small sparrow softly chirps. 'Lo! Christ the Lord is born.'

These were Thy neighbors, Holy Child. Upon that Blessed night. These were the first to greet Thy birth. O little Prince of Light.

Constance I. Heckbert.

Inquest At St. Peter's Bay

A coroner's jury, empanelled to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the death of Frank Wright Quigley, St. Peter's Bay found that the deceased came to his death at the home of his father-in-law, on Saturday night, Dec. 9. The inquest was held at St. Peter's Bay on Monday night.

Coroner Dr. G. S. A. Inman presided over the inquest. Crown prosecutor was Mr. S. S. Hessian. Members of the jury were: Messrs. Chester Pratt, foreman; Colin MacDonald, Frank Jay, Joseph Leslie, Kenneth MacCallum, John MacKinnon and Ralph Sanderson.

Evidence was given by the following witnesses: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Quigley, St. Peter's Bay, parents of the deceased; Bertram Smith, Tracadie; Dr. Malcolm Beck, St. Peter's Bay; Dr. Harold Shaw, Provincial Pathologist, Charlottetown; Cpl. Lionel Strong, R.C.M.P., Souris.

The results of the mail sale of Christmas seals has been very encouraging, and are ahead of the figures shown for the first month of the campaign last year. It is stated by T.B. officials however, that collections from business firms and organizations are below the amounts contributed last year, which bears true across the Dominion where collections for T.B. in 1950 have taken a drop of 4.5 per cent.

The trend by contributors in this Province would seem to be that of making smaller contributions, and more private individuals are buying seals than before.

Legion Collecting Christmas Toys

Toys are being collected by the Canadian Legion from business firms and private individuals for distribution among underprivileged children of veterans in and around Charlottetown this Christmas.

Under the leadership of the Canadian Legion Secretary, Mr. Whiston Smith, a large assortment of toys has been collected, and are at present being repaired where necessary, and then allotted to the more than sixty children whose names have been collected.

These toys will be included with the parcels of food which the Legion distributes annually, and which assist greatly in bringing a touch of Christmas cheer to needy families. Twenty families were on the list yesterday to receive these parcels.

Mr. Smith states however that it is expected that more names of children will be submitted before Christmas, and that donations of clothing and toys will be picked up if donors will call the Canadian Legion.

Automobile travelling West on Kent St. swerved to avoid an oncoming car and struck a vehicle which was parked in front of Stewart's Bakery. The trunk and rear bumper of the parked car were damaged.

Another car travelling down Spring Park Road did not stop for the stop sign on Euston Street and struck an automobile which was going East on Euston. The car on Euston was damaged on the left side while the other suffered very little.

Dorchester and Queen was the scene of the next mishap when a car travelling West on Dorchester turned North onto Queen and collided with a car which was going South. Very little damage was done to either of these cars.

A little later in the day a car which was being driven East on Kent stopped in the traffic lane and was struck in the rear by a car behind it. The trunk of the first car was damaged badly.
