RIPLEY'S BELIEVE IT OR NOT

THE MAN WHO WAS SAVED BY A WHISKER!

THE 12TH LAIRD OF COVINGTON Scotland WAS IN AN OPEN COFFIN AND ONLY A FEW MINUTES FROM BURIAL WHEN HIS GREAT-GRANDDAUGHTER EXCLAIMED, "HIS BEARD IS WAGGING!" ACTUALLY THE BREEZE HAD MOVED HIS BEARD — BUT A DOCTOR CALLED BACK TO RE-EXAMINE THE LAIRD FOUND HE WAS STILL ALIVE — AND SURVIVED ANOTHER 12 YEARS (1683)

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
3 ♦	3 ♥	Pass	4 ♥
Pass	Pass	Dble.

Opening lead — ace of diamonds.

This deal was played in the Masters Individual championship in England. The bidding sequence shown occurred at the first table at which the hand was played.

East started hostilities with a three diamond bid. As happens so often after a preempt, the bid placed South in an awkward position. He couldn't pass, so he was left with the alternative of overcalling with three hearts or four clubs, or doubling for takeout. He decided on three hearts, despite the weakness of the suit.

West smartly passed and North was now faced with a decision of sorts. Expecting a sturdier heart suit from his partner, as well as a better hand, he stretched a point and raised to four hearts. East and South passed and West decided the time was ripe for action. He doubled.

West led the ace of diamonds. Declarer ruffed and played a trump. West took the king and led another diamond. Declarer ruffed again (a grievous error) and led the A-K of clubs. West ruffed and cashed the A-J of hearts, running declarer out of trumps, and then led a diamond. East cashed his remaining diamonds and the outcome was that South went down seven—2,000 points!

When the deal was played elsewhere, there was plenty of action also. At one table, East made four diamonds doubled for a score of 510 points. At another table, South got to four hearts doubled and went down 1,100, while another pair got to the same contract and went down only 500.

At still another table, when South got doubled at four hearts, he decided to run to five clubs. This likewise got doubled and was defeated one trick — 200 points — for the best North-South score on the deal.

Finally, one pair got as high as five hearts doubled and suffered the same ignominious result as at the first table — down 2,000 points. Of course, they were greatly depressed by the outcome . . . until they learned that the result had been duplicated at another table. Misery loves company!

GIFT TICKET IS BIG WINNER

LONDON (AP) — William Johnson, a London stockbroker, gave his accountant a sweepstake ticket for the Epsom Derby.

The accountant is Peter Dibby, 35, father of two children.

The ticket drew Relko, the French-owned favorite.

Relko walked away with the Derby Wednesday and Dibby collected £21,000 ($63,000) in the sweepstake, run annually by the London Stock Exchange.

Johnson took it well, saying:

"Do I feel like kicking myself? Not a bit. It's just luck."
