

NEW AID TO NEUROSURGEONS

This new ultrasonic device developed in Britain provides results more quickly and safely than X-rays. Of great value to neurosurgeons, the Ultrasonoscope Mark 3CM gives information useful in diagnosing lesions within the head. (CP Wirephoto from British Information Services)

Women's Committee Plans Many Interesting Projects

An executive meeting of the Women's Committee of the Confederation Art Gallery was held in the gallery on April 25th, 1966, with Mrs. Guy Fichaud presiding chairman. The secretary, Mrs. R. G. Borne read the minutes of the previous meeting and reports were given by Mrs. Earl Norrie, treasurer; by Mrs. Brian Cudmore for the print shop; Mrs. Charles MacKenzie for picture rental which is held the first Monday evening each month. June will be the final rental until next Fall.

Some discussion was held about a book concerning the Island which the committee plans to produce and publish.

Plans were outlined for the auction which will take place for the gallery on July 8th. The Women's Committee will sponsor the opening night of "The Ottawa Man" at the Confederation Theatre on July 6th. This is a benefit performance of a well known Canadian play with Donald Harmon in the lead role.

A safari to Saint John and Fredericton conducted by gallery curator Montclair Williamson to visit the studios of several prominent Maritime artists will take place May 9 - 12. Any members wishing to join this group please contact Mrs. Fichaud.

A two-day course in ceramics will be held at the gallery, June 9 - 10. This project will be conducted by Harry Davis. There will also be a handicraft course in design given by the Confederation Centre one morning each week during the summer.

2-3 c. cold water or dry sherry
1 section garlic, minced or 1/4 tsp. garlic powder
1/4 tsp. powdered marjoram
1/4 tsp. dehydrated mint flakes
1/4 c. currant jelly
4 lamb shanks about 1 lb. each
8 medium-size onions, peeled
4 medium sweet potatoes, pared halved and cooked
1 (10 1/2 oz.) pkg. frozen whole green beans (thawed)
4 canned pears, halved
1/2 c. sour-cream-horseradish dressing
Mix contents of pkg. of Instant Meat Marinade with water or sherry, garlic, marjoram, mint flakes and jelly in 4-qt. casserole.
Place lamb shanks in this marinade. Pierce all surfaces of lamb shanks deeply in several places in an apart with kitchen fork. Marinate (let stand) only 15 min., turning several times; add onions.
Cover and bake 1 1/2 hr. in 325 degrees F. oven or until lamb is fork-tender. Add sweet potatoes and thawed frozen beans; continue to bake, covered for 15 min. or until vegetables are bite-tender - a total of 1 hr. and 45 min. cooking time. Arrange on a compartment platter; serve whole lamb shank to each person, with vegetables and a canned pear half, filled with sour-cream-horseradish dressing.

SUNDAY DINNER
Tossed Soft Lettuce - Young Spinach Leaves Salad - Pot Roasted Lamb Shanks with Vegetables, Sweet Potatoes, Onions, Green Beans (frozen) Spicy Peach-Slice Sour Cream Cake - Coffee, Tea, Milk.
SPICY PEACH-SLICE SOUR CREAM CAKE
1/2 c. room-soft shortening
1/2 c. cream sugar
1 1/2 c. sifted enriched flour
1/4 tsp. salt
1 1/4 c. drained canned sliced peaches
1/2 c. sour cream
1/2 c. confectioners' sugar
1/2 tsp. ground cinnamon
Mix shortening and cream cheese together until smooth. Sift together flour and salt; work into shortening mixture. Transfer to smooth surface dusted with flour. Roll to 1-3" thickness.
Fit into oiled 7" x 11" baking pan. Cover with rows of peach slices, which have been thoroughly drained on paper towels to remove excess moisture. Spoon over sour cream. Mix confectioners' sugar and cinnamon and dust over sour cream. Bake 30 min. in mod. oven, 375 degrees F. or until slightly browned on top. Dust with additional confectioners' sugar while warm. If cake tends to brown too soon, lay a piece of aluminum foil on top of pan.
TOMORROW'S DINNER FROM THE CHEF

ELLEN'S DIARY

Crocuses Lend A Beauty To Dull Surroundings

This evening, alas and alack, a frog at a cue struck a tuning fork, or was it a fairy trumpet he blew? At any rate, presently his orchestra began to present the first music of the year. Before this, it had been left to the winds to fill in the bare space which followed the crocuses' last song - the east wind to blow a rough tune about the eaves, the south to play on the harp of the bare boughs, or eerily at the door; the north with bold measures, the west, by and large the most favored of all, piping the sunny tunes. We already have had too at Alderlea, the solemn tunes of the crows, the concerted spring-song of the Canada geese, the robins' and songsprows' trills, each in turn and all heart-warming. And now to be best of all, to be the very essence of spring, the frogs' pipings! Or were they this time? It was the younger farmer who brought in the news. "It's not too favorable a sign," we commented, in what must have been an echo down the years of some "witchy" forbear of granny. "Oh, I wouldn't say that," he smiled. "I've heard them other springs in April, and the croppin' and farmin' did well." "I have too," James nodded. "All the same, I would rather not hear them till Mayday." "It may indicate showers," we said hopefully. "Tonight's sky doesn't suggest that," the younger farmer offered. "I'd say by it there is only fine weather ahead. It's a pretty night - not a cloud, clear and starlit." "I couldn't help noticing the new moon this evening," James recalled, "it was 'on its back' Yes, an odd one." "The fields need rain - the plowed ones are too red," the younger farmer said. "Rain. And warmth" James added. "The spring broke earlier. On that account we can let the frogs pipe!" we said. "Truly we on farms, depend on the fields for our livelihood, trying to make the best use of the winds and weathers we meet, must look so often for 'a sign and signs'; the sunrise of a fine day after a spell of showery weather, the sun at setting as we say 'drawing water' when the fields thirst. The crocuses we planted one day when the year was growing weary, when the wind wandered lonely on the bare fields and last leaves were drifting down, are now colorfully re-happened to the surroundings so devoted to of color. Ours only a few we have - march in a trim circle in bright shades at the foot of the white lilac, with its buds now greening. This coolish April night has bedded its moon. Starlight, we have and frogs' tunes, - and presently a cup of tea. A stirrup cup, to send our day on its way. Until tomorrow - - - Diary - - - Good-night.

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS

Margate WMS To Cater For CGIT May Banquet

An interesting summary of the first WMS organized in Margate in 1888 was given by Mrs. Wilfred Pickering at the April meeting of the United Church Women held in the church vestry. Devotional leader was Mrs. Harold Woodside, assisted by Mrs. Pickering. With the president, Mrs. Heath Mayhew in the chair, the meeting opened with 15 members responding to roll call with the word "Arose". Following the minutes by Mrs. Edison Heaney, the treasurer, Vivian Woodside read the financial report which showed a balance on hand of $113.30. The allocation was raised to $968. This year, the secretary in charge of "In Memoriam" gifts reported on ones received which are to be dedicated. The community friendship secretary, Mrs. Justin Woodside also gave her report, and it was decided to cater to the CGIT banquet in May. Leaders for the May meeting will be Mrs. Edison Heaney and Mrs. Keith Warren. Text word will be "give".

Mrs. Wilfred Pickering conducted the study period and four choir members sang "The Old Rugged Cross". A reading entitled "If a Man Die Shall He Live Again" was given by Mrs. W. A. Paterson. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge at the close of the meeting.

MEADOW BANK WI
Mrs. Elmer Hyde was hostess to the Meadow Bank WI for the April meeting, with Mrs. Norman McPhail in the chair. Response to roll call was a garden hint or a question. One minute silence was observed, a tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. Fred Hyde an honorary president, who sincerely promoted the interest of this community. It was decided to purchase the History from C to C for Grade VII. A gift was given to a new baby in the community and collectors will be appointed for the Red Shield Campaign. School report was given by Mrs. Elmer Hyde, and it was decided to hold a variety concert in Cornwall hall in the near future. The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Norman McPhail when roll call will be "a country I would like to visit and why". In charge of food will be Mrs. Stewart Miller and Mrs. Aike Welting. Mrs. Reg McEwen gave an interesting talk on Unlarian work and reported on the adopted boy in Korea.

YORK POINT WI
Mrs. Golden MacKinley was hostess to the York Point WI for the April meeting with the president Mrs. Garet Pater in the chair. Roll call was answered with a household hint and routine business dealt with. It was decided to canvas the district for Salvation Army Appeal. Mrs. Stanley Murchison and Mrs. Reg McEwen reported.

at the Richmond Parish Hall recently, when she received many useful gifts. Patricia McQuaid and Gladys Hart opened the gifts and accompanying verses were read by Gladys McNeill. They were placed on the tables by a sister of the bride-to-be, Lillian Noonan.

The remainder of the evening was spent with dancing to music provided by the Warren brothers accompanied by Ralph McLellan. Refreshments were served by the women of the parish.
Best wishes were extended to the future bride and groom, Gardner McNeill, for a happy wedding day on April 30.

How You Can Help Make Your Child More Intelligent

It has long been thought that a person's IQ was 'fixed' at birth. Now, a noted psychologist reveals exciting new findings which show that every person has an 'intelligence potential' and parents can actually speed up a child's mental development. Here - in May issue of Reader's Digest - are specific rules any parent can apply and which tell why the human brain may be more 'improvable' than almost anyone has ever dared to hope!
