Suspended Sentence Result: From Break, Entering Court

GEORGETOWN—A Seal River assaulting Joyce Blacket was given a one-year suspended sentence to pay costs. Stephen David MacLeod, dismissed and ordered to enter Basil Freeman High School, to recognize in the amount of $500 with one year in the Mr. Riddin, and a charge of the same amount when he appeared with hunting without a license, was Wednesday for sentence had the charge against him with after being convicted by Kincaid when it was shown to County Magistrate James B. Johnston, Q.C. MacLeod was convicted of breaking and entering with intent to commit an indictable offense on the property of John MacKenzie at Seal River. The accused was represented by William J. Hancock, engineering student in the law school of the University of Toronto. The case was adjourned to Nov. 6 at 1 p.m. for hearing.

Mr. Taylor sent the other sometime ago and had received the receipt for his entry fee, but the entry became mixed up with Nova Scotia entries and the fair people said they could not find his entry, though they told this paper earlier this week if Mr. Taylor had his receipt he was definitely in. Last evening a message from the AVEF expressed apologies to Mr. Taylor and indicated the officers there are looking forward to his entry. Mr. Taylor's team has been untraced at Island shows in the past several years. One of the animals is a beautiful Clydesdale mare. The other is her son. Roach MacGregor has an animal entered in the light horse class. So far as is known, these are the only Island entries in the horse classes.
