

DOWN THE BACK STRETCH

H. D. Sheppard passed away at Hanover, Pa., October 10th, aged 83 years. He was the founder of the Hanover Shoe Farms and with his son Lawrence B. Sheppard and C. N. Myers has continued the proprietorship in recent years. He was a farmer who understood every angle of the game and one who studied the breeding and developing of the Standard Bred horse.

From small beginnings Hanover Shoe Farms has become the greatest Standard Bred horse nursery in the world. We had the pleasure of listening to Lawrence B. Sheppard, President of the U. S. T. A., telling about his early days spent at the farms and the instructions his father gave him which were of great value. The old gentleman was very proud some years ago when his thirteen-year-old granddaughter drove Dean Hanover to a world's three-year-old trotting record against time—1:58 1/2. Business enterprises in which the Sheppards and Mr. Myers are interested are Hanover Shoe Farms, many manufacturers of shoes and operators of retail stores throughout the United States.

During the present year 29 miles have been trotted or paced in 2.00 or better with 20 of them in races and all but two have been the performances of pacers. The lone trotting representative was Star's Pride. Fourteen horses are credited with the 29 miles, nine of them newcomers to the top racing brackets. Sampson Hanover, a 156 4-5 is the leader with four such miles, three of them in races. Dudley Hanover, Prince Jay and Good Time have each raced a 'trio' of miles in the 2.00 bracket. Tar Heel and Tassel Hanover are also credited with three even time miles, two in races.

One of the biggest racing disappointments this season is the trotter Mahlon Hanover that took a record of 2:04 as a two-year-old at Lexington last fall and on the length of his winter training in Florida he was made the favorite to win the winter cup to win the Hambletonian, the richest harness horse stake. Joe O'Brien, who has trained and driven him ever since a yearling, was quite high on him when he left Florida but as the racing season progressed he did not come up to expectations although he did win in 2:06 over Roosevelt half-mile track and also won a number of other events. Joe the veterinarian could not get at the seat of the trouble but it finally became known that his sight was failing and when he was told at Lexington a week ago he had gone totally blind and brought only $150. The owner had refused an offer of $30,000 for him last spring.

The Bill Gallon 3. 1:59 1/2 colts and fillies are showing up mightily well this season and there is a good bet that he will be one of the coming sires. At Lexington Honor Bright lowered the season's record for trotting mares to 2:00 1-5 against time. She is the property of David Johnston, the man whose father, the late Horace Johnston, owned Bill Gallon.

Scottish Pence p. 1:57 4-5 has been retired to the stud at Castleton Farm, Lexington, Ky. His winnings at the end of this season totalled $145,679. Scottish Pence is by Scotland and his dam is Millie Worthy by Guy Axworthy, also the dam of Anti-Aircraft 2:03. He established two world records at Roosevelt Raceway this season when he paced one and one-half miles in 3:06 and two miles in 4:13 2-5. He made his record of 1:57 4-5 at Lexington and took a half-mile track record of 2:01 1-5 at Delaware, Ohio, track. In 1950 he won 22 of his 26 starts and won seven races, was five times second and twice third in 1951. His trainer said that he was the kind of horse all horsemen want. He had great speed, a lot of sense and perfect manners. He required no special handling, used very few bandages or leg wash and his feet and legs were the very best.

It was Sep Pallin who first became interested in him when as a three-year-old he won seven starts, was four times second and twice third and took a mark of 2:03 3-5. Pallin bought him for Castleton Farm string and raced him with success as a four-year-old in 1949, giving him a record of 2:02 4-5. As a five-year-old he set up his mark of 1:57 4-5, won 22 races and earned $72,387. The balance of his winnings were made this year.

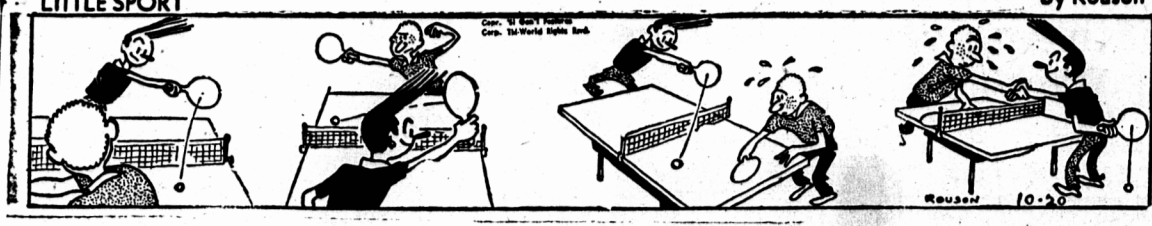

A new patron to the harness horse sport showed up at Tattersall's auction in Lexington—Leonard Buck of Far Hills, N. J., and when the final hammer fell nearly 12% of the $913,000 realized in the auctions had come from the pockets of Mr. Buck. He became interested in trotters last Spring through his friend Octave Blake, President of the Grand Circuit, while visiting at Pinehurst, N. C., and bought a partnership in the fast pacing mare Barbara Direct.

This summer he decided to buy a string of yearlings and prevailed upon Thomas W. Murphy, the famous trainer of years ago, to make the selections. Mr. Murphy spent some days visiting the stock farms at Lexington and as one writer put it, used the same formula which had made him the sports first trainer when he retired—bought what he liked regardless of price. He had the last bid on the top yearling of the sale, Gosling, paying $55,000 for him, $15,000 for Kimberly Kid, $25,000 for Rocket Express, $7,000 for Jassyvite, all by Volomite, and Lord Victory by Victory Song 1:57 1/2, which he bought from Castleton Farm consignment for $21,000, a total for the five of $121,700.

Mr. Murphy has always been partial to Walnut Hall yearlings. In 1909 he lowered the world's record which had stood for eighteen years and was made by Arion in 1891 in California—2:10 1/2 for a two-year-old trotter. It was Native Belle by Moko that he reduced that record with at Lexington to 2:07 1/2. Still later with another two-year-old which was bred at the Patchen Wilkes Farm and was a son of Peter the Great 2:07 1/2 he cut that record to 2:04 1/2. That was the redoubtable Peter Volo that set up a world's record as a yearling of 2:19.

In 1914 Peter Volo with Murphy in reduced the world's three-year-old trotting record to 2:03 1/2 and the four-year-old record to 2:02. For years Murphy dominated the Grand Circuit racing and he had almost unerring judgment in buying colts and aged horses. He took over Peter Manning when he was thought to be just a freak horse that would not go the route and gave him the world's trotting record of 1:56 1/2, and also the world's trotting record over a half-mile track of 2:02. Both have since been lowered.

Big "Bud" Polle, a friendly going, easy-to-talk-to fellow, sat in the dressing room following last night's game with a contented smile on his face. Asked about the game he stated that his team did pretty well out there and were going pretty good. "Of course it's too early yet to say how well we'll stack up, but we'll be in there," he said as he unlaced his skates. Queried about the addition of Bob Gray and Conny Bonhomme to his team, he stated that his squad was pretty well set and if any team were interested in dealing with him for the players, he was the one who had to be pleased. Referring back to the game he said he got going pretty slow out there and apparently was an easy target for Phil Vitale.

For the first two periods the Islanders looked like themselves but some of the older players appeared to tire in the last session. This was not unexpected for the boys arrived home yesterday evening about four o'clock from their three-day road trip to Sydney and Glace Bay. The same thing has been affecting other teams according to reports from those who have seen mainland games. Such long road trips will be eliminated for the Islanders as soon as there are planes available.

The Islanders have received a number of bad breaks since the season got underway and in practically every game, but over the long haul they will even themselves up. They were especially unlucky in the third period last night when they appeared on their way to getting sure goals on several occasions. They met a well balanced squad in the Miners who were big and had speed to burn.

The weather for the past week has been ideal for football and the second Saints and P. W. C. took advantage of it yesterday afternoon. Despite the fact that the Saints overpowered their rivals the boys on both sides produced good plays and fans were treated to some of the nicest backfield running and passing that has been witnessed here for some time. There were also a number of hard, low tackles but the majority of the tackling was of the neck and shoulder variety.

Unfortunately three of the boys were forced out with arm or shoulder injuries, with two of them being from P.W.C. and one from S.D.U. Young "Kip" Ready, junior baseball pitcher, was one of the injured when he suffered a possible dislocated elbow in the last half. In one respect Cliff was a little fortunate in that it was his left, not his throwing arm. Gerald Birt of P.W.C. received a shoulder injury and Chandler of the same team an arm injury.

Of late years Saint Dunstan's has been producing strong intermediate and third teams which has resulted from the formation of an inter-college league for the younger students. The founder of this league was Father Richard Ellsworth, an ardent follower of College sports, and his far-sightedness has certainly paid dividends. All of the players who carried the Red and White yesterday were products of this league.

The annual series between the two Colleges always produces its share of rivalry and pranks, but the boys pulled one this year which beats them all. Thursday night some of the P.W.C. students held a football rally and a few of the boys thought that the field should have a few P.W.C. markings so they decided to paint the P.W.C. colors on the goal posts. The Saints, however, were expecting some prank, but the P.W.C. boys struck earlier than was expected with the result that the posts were, nearly painted before the Saints came out to the field.

The City students fled but left their step ladder and paint cans behind. Yesterday four S. D. U. students paraded onto the field carrying a ladder and the resulting roaring and cheering was far louder than for any play during the game. The Saints attempted to paint over the posts yesterday but the streaks of red and blue could be seen under the white.

Beavers Score 4-3 Overtime Win Over Sydney Millionaires

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Oct. 19 (CP)—Johnny Ubrico's goal from a pile-up after seven minutes of overtime gave Saint John Beavers a 4-3 decision over a fighting pack of Sydney Millionaires tonight. Beavers remained tied with Glace Bay Miners for top spot in the six-team Maritime Major Hockey League.

Ubrico played in the first period when Saint John tallied once, and also in the scoreless second, the moneyman fought from a two-goal deficit and finally forced the overtime.

Both teams tired, especially Beavers in surviving their fourth game in four nights. Ubrico's winner was his second goal of the game. Playing coach Penants O'Flaherty and Tom Smelle also scored for Saint John. Sydney scorers were Laurie Peterson, Dunc MacIntyre and Cliff Roach.

Ubrico opened the scoring after a short passout from behind the net in a three-way play with Jack Meldrum and Tom Smelle. Beavers had a clear edge in the first two periods but found a tough obstacle in goalie Nick Pidsodny who gave an outstanding performance.

Coach O'Flaherty, playing his first game in the league, made it 2-0 early in the third by scoring Bill McCracken's rebound. Sydney's first was shot by Peterson after Phil Hughes stopped a drive and then dropped the puck. The Smelle brothers combined for another Saint John tally when Tom tipped home a shot by Carl.

About midway in the period, MacIntyre flipped in a low backhand, and then, with Beavers short-handed, the count became tied. Bill Cupolo fired and Roach successfully deflected the shot as it was in the air.

Tom Smelle and Jack Heon received assists for Ubrico's clinch overtime. A close-in attack resulted in a rebound and capitalization of a loose puck. Sydney — Goal, Pidsodny; defence, Levandoski, Baby, Marineau, MacBride, Rokey; forwards, MacIntyre, Kennedy, Roach, Whalen, Robertson, Storey, Peterson, Cupolo.

Monday Is Gala Stage Night At "The Rollaway"

For lovers of stage entertainment there is certainly a real treat in store for Monday at the Rollaway. Two travelling road attractions have combined to make an outstanding and "never-to-be-forgotten" gala night of fun, frolic, music and baffling acts of magic. The show is headlined by the well known Eddie Bourgeois and who at one time was a member of Don Messer's Islanders. Eddie says "It's just like coming home again." He is as funny as ever and can be relied upon to keep the patrons in gales of laughter throughout this fast moving variety show. "Ma" Bourgeois will be his main support on the comedy end of the business. Daughters Shirley and Lillian appear in singing and tap dancing routines, and for lovers of music 17 year old Joe Vay, guitar and yodeling artist, also appears. This is the lad that received such an ovation recently at the Forum.

A most unusual act is that presented by Furze The Magician, who has been thrilling and amazing audiences all across the ten Provinces. Besides making rabbits appear from nowhere—doves disappear, and numerous other baffling and perplexing procedures—he then cuts off a human head, and carries it through the audience! Due to the length of the combined shows the public are advised to be seated early. An advertisement elsewhere in this paper gives all details.

HUNTERS' CORNER

Many hunters who have been afieid this past week are reporting a scarcity of Hungarian partridge. Huns to most of us, I have been stopped on the street, sometimes three or four times on a walk uptown with the question: "Where are the Huns?" I am ready to admit hunters who choose Hungarian partridge as their special target on their forays afield earn all the birds they get. I am also in agreement on the contention that we lost a lot of birds this past summer from a variety of causes.

August was a hard month on the Hun coveys. I am certain that losses were sustained by being caught out in heavy rains and chilled and drowned out like domestic chickens often better than half grown. Foxes are present in unprecedented numbers and are known to have taken a heavy toll from chicks that were only a few weeks old. Hun chicks can make short flights when a week old but it would be an easy matter for a fox to follow a covey up and catch the young birds.

The parent Huns have a trick, also resorted to by Ruffed grouse and black ducks, of luring foxes and dogs away from their broods by pretending injury. Feigning a broken wing is the usual procedure. If it were not for this 'little deception practiced by some of Mother Nature's children many coveys and broods would never reach maturity. A fox, cunning as he is, never seems to see through this little ruse...they'll fall for it every time. Whatever the cause many Hun coveys disappeared between the end of hay-making and the middle of September.

I know of farms that held as many as three coveys of birds, large ones, at the end of July. Trying to find them today is another matter. I have observed more coveys holding from seven to nine birds this fall than during any recent hunting season. I have also run across coveys that held close to thirty birds.

At a certain stage of growth the Hun chicks are too large for the mother to cover the lot when a torrential downpour of rain sets in and yet are not feathered out to the extent that water will not penetrate to their bodies. In such cases these members lacking the strength to fight for position under their mother are liable to perish. Instinct prompts the mother bird to seek shelter under a thick evergreen growth, old building, pile of lumber or any other suitable cover that will turn rain. Sometimes they are caught out in the open and this may account for half or quarter size coveys.

Foxes, housecats, hawks, hunting dogs on the loose, etc., often whittle a covey down below normal size. However, despite the hue and cry raised in some quarters that we have not enough Huns to furnish worthwhile hunting, this columnist contends that we have enough Huns to provide excellent sport without endangering future hunting prospects. A lot of gunners do not know where to hunt for them. I know one or more sections less than a mile square in extent that hold upward of one hundred birds. The nature of the terrain makes for tough going on the part of the hunter and tends to favour the birds.

The joke is that gunners would laugh right in one's face if told that such and such a spot harboured as many as five coveys averaging twenty birds each. Huns can subsist and thrive if they never saw a stubble field. I have no intention of giving their position away. To those who insist that we have no Huns I have this to say. Wait until the first real snow storm sets in this winter before jumping to rash conclusions. From now on to the end of the hunting season birds should be more in evidence. Once farmers have completed harvesting their root crops and finished ploughing the stubble fields not sown out to Timothy and clover the hunting area will be narrowed down to the advantage.

Pawlyshyn Here

Big Walter Pawlyshyn, Islanders first string left winger of last season arrived in the City yesterday evening from Providence. Pawlyshyn flew in by air and arrived at the air port at seven o'clock. Walter stated that his back is not in too good condition yet but it is thought that he may be able to lineup with the Islanders on Tuesday night against Saint John.

Middleton, N. S. Wins Baseball Championship

MIDDLETON, N.S., Oct. 19 (CP)—Middleton Cardinals won the Maritime intermediate baseball title today, defeating Summerside Holmans 6-2 in the fourth game of the best-of-three series.

The two teams split a doubleheader which opened the series Wednesday and were tied 4-4 when the third game was called by darkness in the 12th inning yesterday.

Big Gerry Ray scattered six hits to notch up the win today and his mates gave him airtight support. They were never threatened after the first inning when Holmans put together McKay's single and Schurman's double to take a one-run lead.

Bernie Parent opened the home half of the first with a double, was sacrificed to third and came home on Harry Coleman's long fly.

Two walks, one intentional, and a single set the stage for one of the most dramatic moments of the game in the second.

Southpaw Embrett, hurling for Holmans, went into a windup against Bruce, and as he did so Coleman made a clean steal of home.

An error on Bruce's drive scored another run and seconds later Parent duplicated Coleman's steal of home.

Cards drove Embrett from the rubber and then did the same with Stewart Finn, a stylish left-hander, in the game.

Ray, meanwhile, pitched a workmanlike game and allowed singles in only the fifth and seventh. Stewart opened the eighth with a single and Schurman's double brought him home for the only other Summerside tally.

Linescore: Summerside 100 000 001—2 6 0. Middleton 130 020 00x—6 6 0.

Tour Ceremonies To Be Revised

SALMON ARM, B. C., Oct. 19 (CP)—Some of the rigid formalities of the royal tour will be dropped, it was reported here today. From the entourage of the royal party it was learned that an official statement may be made in Vancouver tomorrow.

The Vancouver program will be unchanged, but more informal meetings will be planned for the "common people."

There is no likelihood of the tour being cut down, the report said. One change will be that there will be no formal inspections of guards of honor at night.

The formal statement, it is expected, will likely stress that Princess Elizabeth is in top physical condition and not, as some reports say, over-strained.

Glace Bay Downs Islanders 5-3 For 3rd Straight Win

"Bud" Polle's Glace Bay Miners led by winger Andy Anderson scored their third straight Maritime Major Hockey League victory with a 5-3 win over the Charlottetown Islanders at the Forum last night. Anderson paced his red and white clad team of husky players with three goals in the second period. The Miners scored once in the first and fired the puck into an empty net in the dying stages of the third.

Islanders outshot the Baymen 35-25 and enjoyed nearly a 2-1 edge in this department during the last two periods. A few of their shots however, were from well out or far on the side as the Miners set up a tight defence.

The going was much easier than during Monday night's contest with Halifax, and referees Gillis and Good handed out only 15 penalties. Eight of them went to Charlottetown and seven to Glace Bay.

Polle made his first appearance on Charlottetown ice and his play was closely watched by the crowd. The big fellow appeared to take it easy but he engineered a lot of good plays. His feared shot was seen only a couple of times but it nearly hit the mark once. He was an easy mark for big Phil Vitale who sent the former major leaguer to the ice three times in the first period with hard and clean body checks.

The Miners started on the attack as soon as the puck was dropped in the first session and they fired a blue line shot at Gordon. Travis returned the play and had the Islanders first shot at Hicks who was subbing in the visitors net for Arnel.

Wywrot opened the scoring for Glace Bay when he broke into the clear during an Islander ranging attack. He skated in on top of Gordon before drawing him aside and slipping the disc in the corner at the 6:34 mark. Glace Bay were a man short at the time.

Beadry evened matters up less than two minutes later while the Islanders were playing a man short. He scored from a face-off to the left of the net with the puck going in without leaving the ice.

During the dying stages of the period goalie Hal Gordon played brilliant hockey as he stopped five scorching drives within two minutes. He stopped Anderson twice from right in front with his first save being the pick of the night.

George McLagan sent the Islanders ahead 2-1 with a blistering 35 foot shot while the Miners were two men short and the Islanders one. The goal came on a passing play with Dutchak and Trainer.

The Islanders struck for five goals in less than a minute. His first came on a pass from Wywrot as the two men broke away with only one man to beat. He stuck-handed out from behind the net after a play with Legere and Bloomer to score the second one.

Willie Marshall, one of the best men on the ice, tied matters up as he battled the puck past Hicks after Knox and Hennessey had taken short shots from out front. Anderson completed scoring for the period on a play with Wywrot and Myketyk. He scored on a rebound shot.

The Miners tenaciously hung onto their one goal lead during the third session as they played defensive hockey and let the Islanders carry the play. The Islanders tried hard and the puck did everything but go in the net.

George McLagan let two shots go from near the blue line that the goalie never saw and which just missed the goal post. Willie Marshall, Don Bellringer and Denis Smith each missed by inches.

Then with a minute and six seconds to go coach Leo Lamoureux pulled goalie Hal Gordon and sent on his forward and scored five more backfired and Rohmer took a pass from veteran "Hub" Macey and shot into an empty net to complete the scoring. With 30 seconds left Gordon was taken out again but the effort was of no avail.

"Bud" Polle led a big, fast skating squad which played good positional hockey and they appeared to be more of a threat than Halifax. Their regular goalie was given a night's rest. Forward Phil Dalgleish suffered a bruised shoulder and will have to undergo X-rays today.

The Islanders showed the effects of their strenuous three day road trip and slowed up in the third period. Willie Marshall put on a great stick handling exhibition in Service, Charlottetown.

SUMMARY First Period: 1-Glace Bay, Wywrot 6:34. 2-Charlottetown, Beaudry 8:10. Penalties—Favero 1:26, 17:05; Windley 4:46; Haley 4:45; Vitale 7:36, 10:42. Second Period: 3-Charlottetown, McLagan (Dutchak, Trainer) 6:34. 4-Glace Bay, Anderson (Wywrot) 6:24. 5-Glace Bay, Anderson (Legere, Bloomer) 7:01. 6-Charlottetown, Marshall (Knox, Hennessey) 7:53. 7-Glace Bay, Anderson (Wywrot, Myketyk) 8:47. Penalties—Macey 3:57; Bloomer 4:16; Whitlock 4:15; Bellringer 9:20; Travis 11:06; Dalgleish 16:20. Third Period: 8-Glace Bay, Rohmer (Macey) 18:56. Penalties—Haley (minor and misconduct) 2:37; Favero 8:26. Stops:—By Hicks—10, 12, 13-35. By Gordon—12, 6, 7-26.

Rule Bonhomme, Gray Property Of Glace Bay

SYDNEY, N. S., Oct. 19 (CP)—The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association ruled today that Bob Gray and Connie Bonhomme are the property of Glace Bay Miners of the Maritime Major Hockey League.

The ruling also meant, in effect, that the C. A. H. A. recognizes Miners as the club that played in the old Cape Breton League last season.

The club went under new management this year and joined the newly-formed M.M.H.L. along with Sydney Millionaires of the old Cape Breton loop.

Gray and Bonhomme played with Miners last season but wanted to join Charlottetown Islanders of the M.M.H.L. this year.

The C.A.H.A. decision—on a 14-7 vote of the registration committee—was wired to M.A.H.A. secretary-registrar Charlie Campbell by W. A. Hewitt, C.A.H.A. secretary, today.

The M.A.H.A. had previously made a similar ruling on the matter but Islanders appealed to the parent body.
