

Communist bloc refuses to assist with UN payments

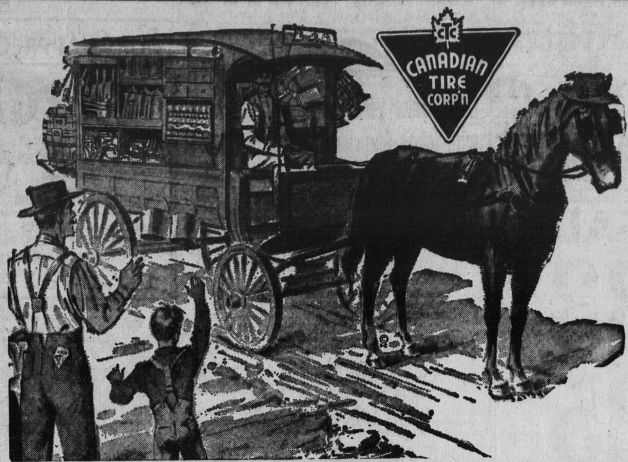

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS (AP)—A World Court opinion that all UN members are legally bound to share the expenses of keeping United Nations forces in the Congo and the Gaza Strip sparked predictions today that some debtor countries would swing the line—but not the Soviet-led Communist bloc.
 Russia, which refuses to pay either the Congo or Middle East operations, already has made clear it will ignore the World Court decision handed down at the Hague and oppose any attempt by the UN General Assembly to endorse it.
 Diplomats generally expressed confidence that the 104-nation assembly can muster enough votes when it convenes this fall to uphold the court's opinion which is only advisory.
 The Hague decision opened the way for crucial assembly debate not only on whether to uphold the court's opinion, but whether to revoke the voting power of any country falling more than two years behind in its dues for the peace-keeping operations and the regular UN budget. The UN charter provides for such penalties but they have never been imposed.
TWO YEARS BEHIND
 At present only Bolivia, Guatemala, Paraguay and Yemen are two full years behind in all UN assessments. By paying a total of about $7,000,000 they could avoid sanctions. Diplomats close to the issue predicted they would do this before the assembly meets Sept. 18 for the new session.
 The United States hailed the decision as one of fundamental importance to international law and to the present and future capacity of the United Nations to maintain peace.
 The General Assembly had asked the World Court to hand down an opinion whether the cost of the UN Congo force and the emergency force stationed between Israel and Egypt in the Gaza Strip should be borne by all UN members as apportioned by the assembly.
 The entire Soviet bloc has refused to pay a cent toward either peace-keeping operation, arguing that only the Security Council—where the big power veto prevails—is competent to act on issues involving maintenance of world peace.
 The Arab states have been withholding payments for the Middle East. France, Belgium, nearly all Latin America and a number of other nations do not pay for one or the other peace-keeping operation.
 UN members owe more than $170,000,000 on the regular budget and the Congo and Middle East operations going back to 1959.

Strawberries planted by tobacco machine

HADASHVILLE, Man. (CP)—A modified tobacco transplanting machine has helped make strawberry growers out of 65 farmers in this region 85 miles east of Winnipeg.
 The rotating hands of the machine transplanted more than 70,000 freshly dug strawberry plants on eight acres owned by the Reynolds Fruit Growers Co-operative this spring.
 The co-op was formed by the farmers of the area north of here as a means of helping increase income.
 "For years we have run rented farms in the summer and worked in the bush in the winter," says co-op president Ell Samel. "But as farming becomes more expensive we have slowly gone downhill trying to keep up with rising costs."
 His solution was the co-op which has taken shape under direction of district agricultural representative Ralph Poston.
 One problem was that while every member knew how to grow grain or vegetables or raise hogs and cattle, none knew anything about strawberries.
 They sought advice and were shown how to put in plants to be ready for transplanting this spring. The converted tobacco transplanter then came into use.
 The yearling plants were transplanted and are expected to bear fruit in 1963.
 All the work done so far has been on a volunteer basis with
