U. S. Wants Grain Restrictions Removed

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) NEW YORK, June 5.-Representatives of North Atlantic transportation lines and grain handling agencies decided at a conference here today to seek the United States state department's aid in removing restrictions on the flow of Canadian wheat to the United Kingdom by way of North Atlantic ports.

J. E. Ramsay, general manager of the port of New York authority, was authorized to request a meeting with secretary of State Cordell Hull with a view to enlisting the department's help in connection with pending negotiations on a reciprocal trade agreement between the United States and Great Britain.

Ever since the consummation of the Ottawa agreement in 1923 the movement of Canadian grain through the United States has been restricted by the requirement of documentary evidence of through consignment from Canada to the United Kingdom. In the past year virtually no Canadian grain has moved through United States ports bound to the United Kingdom. It was stated at the meeting.

Ports represented at the conference included Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston, Buffalo and New York.

So Victoria United church on or before July 1, 1937, will unite with St. James with Rev. Mr. Sinclair as the pastor of the joint churches. Meanwhile, Rev. D. M. Sinclair, if he accepts the call, will act as minister of St. James church and begin his pastoral duties the first Sunday of July this year at that church.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH - The second of a series of sermons on "Strange Religion" will be preached in the Baptist Church to-morrow morning by the Rev. H. L. Denton, B.D., the subject on this occasion being "Strange Tidings." Miss Pearl Burns, contralto, will sing the Ninety-first Psalm. Mr. Denton's evening subject is "The Life Entire." Mrs. T. Roy Cudmore will be the soloist at the evening service.

WEDDING BELLS-A quiet but very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Mobbs, Greenvale, P. E. Island, on Saturday evening, May 30, when Miss Laura Smith was united in marriage to Percy William Whitlock of Hunter River in the presence of about fifty friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was gowned in blue silk with accessories to match and carried a beautiful shower bouquet of snapdragons and maiden-hair fern. She entered the parlor which was beautifully decorated for the occasion on the arm of her brother, Russell, who gave her in marriage. Miss Vera Whitlock of Charlottetown, sister of the groom, was maid-of-honor, while Mr. Fred Smith, brother of the bride, ably supported the groom. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. E. Boothroyd of Hunter River. After the usual congratulations the guests were invited to the dining room where a dainty supper was served to all. After the supper was over horns and drum were heard which told that the merry-makers had arrived in their funny and fancy uniforms to serenade the newly-wedded couple and to wish them every happiness on the sea of matrimony. Mr. and Mrs. Whitlock will go to their new home shortly in Hunter River as Mr. Whitlock has it nearly completed. It is needless to say all wish Mr. Whitlock and his young bride many years of wedded bliss. Prior to their marriage a miscellaneous shower was held in honor of the occasion at which a large number of useful and valuable presents were received which go to show the high esteem in which they are held.

Sound, Enduring Trade Agreements Needed

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) QUEBEC, June 5.-B. W. Coghlin of Montreal, as the new president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, last night challenged the C. M. A. to "go and negotiate sound and enduring trade agreements that will benefit all Canada."

"During our history we have made unsatisfactory agreements with other countries but we have also made very good ones," said Mr. Coghlin at the annual dinner at the conclusion of the 6th convention.

"Let us continue our efforts to negotiate sound and enduring agreements," he said. "Volume of trade alone is not sufficient. The character and value to this country of the exchange of products for those of other countries are vital to prosperity."

"Canada has immense stores of wealth in the form of raw and partly finished materials," said the new president. "But it would not be wise economically to export them unless it is done on the permanent advantage of all Canadians."

If industry was to employ more people it should be given every reasonable encouragement, Mr. Coghlin said. If manufacturing operations were curtailed by external influences, unemployment would result.

"If, on the other hand, manufacturing is extended, more Canadians will be employed," he declared. The condition of industry also has a direct bearing on taxation. "Therefore it is not reasonable that in determining policies, their probable effect on employment and taxation will be considered," he asked.

An appeal for members of the organization to take greater interest in the economic and financial affairs of all Western Canada was made by F. C. Brown of Vancouver, newly-elected first vice-president.

The delegates, who previously approved when one of their speakers called for an amendment on a cash basis to relieve the taxation burden, heard from Hon. T. D. Bouchard, Quebec's Minister of Municipal Affairs, how Quebec Province plans to do this.

From now on, said Mr. Bouchard, Quebec's unemployed are going to work for their relief. The plan, which he said would be endorsed by 95 per cent of the people "if politics were removed from the question," will benefit not only the province and the unemployed but also the taxpayer. "Without relief from the burden of taxation serious trouble loomed," he said.

Mr. Brown urged the Association to express its opposition to establishment of free ports but J. E. Walsh of Toronto, said such opposition had been expressed 10 years ago and representations "are now in the hands of proper authorities in the Senate," where the bill to provide for free ports is being considered.

In his plea for greater consideration of the West, Mr. Brown said there had been much adverse publicity concerning Western Canada, especially in financial matters. He suggested "we should all bear in mind the tremendous contributions these provinces have made to the development of industrial Canada during the last two decades."

As for British Columbia, he said, "there was no place for the word 'reputation' in its affairs."

"We are meeting our obligations," he said, "thanks to the wise and far seeing methods of our provincial finance minister, and I can assure the world 'reputation' has no place in British Columbia provincial affairs."

In Memoriam

MRS. MAJOR CLARK

In the death of Mrs. Major Clark on Tuesday at the age of 92 years, Cape Traverse has lost one of its oldest citizens. Mrs. Clark was one of the pioneers of the district and a life long resident. She was quite active until a month ago when she was taken ill. Up to that time she enjoyed life and took a keen interest in the affairs of the community; and will be much missed by a large circle of friends. Mrs. Clark leaves two sons, Isaac, a retired C. N. R. conductor residing at Southport and Russell living on the old homestead. Her husband predeceased her about ten years ago and her daughter, Mrs. John Mansford, passed away two years ago. Mrs. Clark was a staunch member of the Church of Scotland.

The Hiking Season
 ADVICE TO AMATEURS

With a first few days of warm spring sunshine and trees all bursting into bud it is not unnatural that our thoughts should be inclined to wander in the direction of those wide open spaces.

If hiking is to be a new kind of holiday for you, remember that your enjoyment of it will depend greatly upon foot comfort, and to harden up the skin of the soles and give them more resistance, they should be rubbed with methylated spirits every day after bathing or washing. Excessive perspiration makes the feet uncomfortable, but the application of a liquid deodorant followed by a liberal dusting with either talc powder or powdered borax will certainly help matters.

Choose good strong comfortable shoes. These need not be terribly heavy, for too heavy shoes can be extremely tiring to walk in. A fairly thick sock should be worn, or if preferred tennis socks can be slipped over thin stockings to give more protection.

Now we come to the question of kit. To my way of thinking shorts are neither becoming nor practical. Flannel "slacks" seem a much more reasonable hiking outfit if you don't care for skirts; these latter afford a far better protection against brambles, rusty wires, and similar scratchy objects likely to be encountered when hiking. This is rather an important point, as scratch of this kind are apt to prove extremely dangerous, more so if you have no antiseptic with which to treat them.

It is quite a simple matter to carry a small first-aid kit with you, containing the following items: - An iodine pen, one small roller bandage, one small antiseptic bandage-dressing which can be placed over an open wound; safety pins, small sharp pair of scissors, plaster. With this little outfit you are ready to treat any damages pack. Foster-mache cartons are excellent for filling with sweet or savoury pellets or creams. Take some fresh fruit if you can, or better still, if possible buy it on the way. If you do take sandwiches wrap them in delicate green lettuce leaves; these keep them from drying up, and also they are good to eat with the sandwiches. Grease-proof paper will also help to keep sandwiches from getting dry. Chocolate containing nuts and raisins should always be taken, as it is extremely nourishing. Try and do without carrying your kit, as these are always bulky and heavy, and it is frequently
