SIR CHARLES TUPPER.

(Ottawa Journal)

Forty-five years ago there was an election in Cumberland county, Nova Scotia. One of the candidates was a young man who was noted for his great physical and mental strength, and for a certain winning charm of manner that made him friends everywhere. He was not thirty-four years old. His name was Dr. Tupper.

He was a fierce opponent but a faithful friend. And it was noticed that he had a buoyant, humorous way of taking hard knocks, that took half the victory from the other side.

Cumberland county liked this young man. Children grew into men, married and died; one third of a century passed, the young man grew into an old one, but still Dr. Tupper went to Halifax as member for his native county. His strength, his humor, his faithfulness never lost hold on the people amongst whom he had always lived. During the thirty-one years he was a member, he fought fourteen elections, but he was rarely ever in danger of defeat.

Sir Charles Tupper is the oldest and most experienced man in Canadian public life today. Yet he has the vigor of a young man. Last Thursday the House of Commons sat fifteen hours. Sir Charles entered the chamber a few minutes after nine o'clock in the evening. There he sat for ten hours continuously, during that time taking extensive notes, speaking a couple of times briefly, and delivering a speech of an hour and a quarter's length about sunrise. Then at seven in the morning he walked home with a group of friends, debating and arguing all the way.

Canada or any other country has few old men like Sir Charles Tupper. Forty-five years he has been in public life, and at the end of that time is the leader of a great party. His success is an exemplification of what pluck, determination and singleness of purpose can accomplish, especially when coupled with a good constitution and ability.

A Big Swin Is.

Boston, May 21.—Special treasury reports, under the direction of Agent Conroy J. Smith, have just unrolled what they allege to be one of the greatest swindling schemes ever attempted at this port. Special employe Baum has seized 100 sacks of wool, valued at $6,000, in a city, Lawrence, Mass., and Bristol, R. I. It is said that the wool was shipped from Canada through St. John, to Grand Manan Island. There it was taken by English vessels out to sea and reloaded on to American vessels; then taken to an African territory and loaded on cars in the same manner as wool brought into port by coastwise vessels, on which no duty is demanded.

The special agents say that as near as they can estimate fully $40,000 worth of wool has been smuggled into this country through the port of Boston during the past year.

DIED.

Mr. Alexander Chipman, May 21st, in the 52nd year of his age. May his soul rest in peace.

[Boston papers please copy.]

One precious to our hearts has gone, The voice we loved is still, The place made vacant in our home Can never now be filled.

Our Father in his wisdom called, The boon his love had given; And though on earth the body lies, The soul is safe in Heaven.

SIR LOUIS DAVIES

Brought to Task by One of the People.

DEAR SIR,—Sir Louis Davies, as reported by the Patriot, of 23rd, says: "See the debate before the House at Ottawa on investigation before the Privilege and Election Committee."

"No man can condemn more than I do the man who interferes with the free expression of the will of the honest elector in depositing his ballot at the polls," etc.

Again he is reported as saying: "I admit that the officer or the man whether he be an officer or not who interferes with the free expression of the elector at the polls and his choice of a candidate is a man who cannot be punished too severely."

Mr. Editor, can this be the leader of the Maritime Grits, whose record in this province is so prominent before the people of Canada to-day—the free expression of the people at the polls in their choice of a candidate in opposition to the Farquharson Government which was held in the first electoral district of Prince County? Was Pincus elected by the free expression of the people at the polls to support the said Government? Did not Sir Louis use all the influence that could be brought to bear to defeat the said Pincus at the poll? Did not E. McLellan, M. P., arrive and take a hand in the endeavour to defeat said Pincus? Did not Premier Farquharson, Hon. Senator Yeo, Hon. J. R. MacLean and all the great and mighty campaigners in the grit camp put forth all the efforts in their power to defeat said Pincus? But the free will of the people at the polls prevailed and Pincus was declared elected. How has the free will of the people of the first district of Prince County been carried out? Who is the officer or man who defeated the free expression of the people at the polls in this case? According to Sir Louis he cannot be punished too severely.

One would think the Local Government should feel like crying out, "Save us from our friends."

The Patriot says: "Sir Louis has lost none of his original force." Well, Mr. Editor, if the Patriot will publish the reply to Sir Louis on this important debate by Mr. Powell, of Westmorland County, N. B., I am satisfied the intelligent reader will decide that the original powers of Sir Louis is about the only thing he did not lose.

ONE OF THE PEOPLE.

TOO MUCH A GRIT.

Sir,—The Patriot carries its politics too far. The Queen's birthday celebration was the occasion for the joining hands of all parties and all creeds. Yet the Patriot, after taking in every illumination from Weeks & Co. to Mr. Cook's and including city and provincial halls and every spot who made display, stops short when he reaches the Market House. In this building the display was one of it not the best in the city. It was the most of its kind, being right in view of the immense crowd. But our work was done by Conservatives, and that paper could not get above its politics sufficient to see the colors.

ITS FAME SPREADING

A New Remedy in General Use in Manitoba and the Northwest.

WINNIPEG, May 28.—The effects of the regular usage of medicine which sweep over this portion of the Dominion to the spring are noticeable in the increasing amount of the druggists' sales. There has been quite a run on the kidney remedy now so well known under the name of Dr. J. D. Kidney Pills. The recovery from Bright's Disease of Mr. Arthur Cole, of Somerset, through their use, an account of which appeared in the papers, gave a considerable impetus to the sale, and the remedy has become indispensable in many Manitoba households, its fame having penetrated into the remotest parts of the province and Northwest Territories.
