Steel Publication Sees Tight Supply Situation

NEW YORK, (AP)—Customers yelling for hard-to-get steel "haven't seen anything yet," says Iron Age, national steel trade weekly.

"The steel industry is headed for new records in order volume, in production and in the delicacy of customer relations. These will start a-building after Labor Day and will swamp individual steelmakers."

Iron Age says a slight dip in auto steel shipments has "served but to butter up some angry feelings of other steel customers whose deliveries were hopelessly behind original promises." Predictions that steel supplies will be in better shape by the fourth quarter were "wishful thinking."

"The hard-hit northeastern sections of the country will need large tonnages of structural and plates for bridges knocked out by flood waters," Iron Age adds. "Emergency calls for other steel will be made, all of which will tend to further tighten up the steel picture.

"Soon the auto industry will be stepping up its already high-level order volume for sheets, bars, stainless and other products. The pace of 1956 car output will be even with or ahead of last year's fast tempo. During the balance of this year, demands from construction, railroads, farm implement makers, appliance manufacturers and from hundreds of miscellaneous steel users will be piled upon the record requirements of the auto industry. There will be enough incessant steel demand to support 100 per cent operations for some time.

"But mills are in no position to reach 100 per cent operations in the near future. Repair programs are not completed—hurricane rains set one large steel plant on its ear this week.

"More rehabilitation is needed to put equipment in tip-top shape. Steel deliveries will slip further behind in September and backcluded: Magma Copper up at 68¾; Dupont up 4¼ at 225; Union Carbide up 2 at 103; and Commercial Credit up 2⅝ at 52⅜.

American Telephone and Telegraph once again was the day's most active stock, off ⅝ at 178⅝ on 166,400 shares.

Steels were the strongest major group. Gainers included Bethlehem, Republic and Youngstown Sheet and Tube.

Rails were ragged. Losers included New York Central, and Southern Pacific. Gaining were Chesapeake and Ohio, Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio.

Canadian issues were mixed throughout the session. International Nickel closed up 1¼, Canadian Pacific added ¼ and Distillers Seagram gained ¾. Dome Mines was off ⅜, McIntyre slipped ¾ and Hiram Walker remained unchanged.

On the American stock exchange Royalite Oil added ⅜, Lake Shore was off ⅛ and Giant Yellowknife remained unchanged.
