

Beautiful Isle, Adieu!

Farewell! farewell bright Isle to thee, To write that word means grief to me;

Deep, blue, crested waves around thee Ripple, with joy and mirthful glee;

Thy fame doth reach from shore to shore— People come to see and adore

Thy fields are rich with golden grain; Birds chant thy praise in joyful strain;

But, oh! what rapture fills the breast! The gaze on Heaven's arches rest!

Upon thy hills are lofty trees, Swayed by the gentle, cooling breeze;

When wintry winds 'round thee moan, And feathered songsters far have flown,

The earth beneath, the Heavens above, Softly proclaim a God of love;

Seeing these beauties, we admire, To you fair world our souls aspire—

Pure crystal water, fruit and bread, With smiles, before your guests you spread;

Farewell, fair Isle, with beauty robed, Trees with lovely foliage clothed,

Ch'town, August, 1882.

NEWS NOTES.

Often very practical lessons are taught by Nature. It was a poetic young man contemplating the stars who discovered how didactic they were.

The military authorities at Quebec are busily engaged in mounting and placing in position new pieces of cannon on the citadel forts and along the ramparts.

In the unoccupied moments of life half its mischief is hatched. The busy hours may be given to harm, but it is harm of one kind or another, while the vacant ones are stamping grounds for communities of evils.

One of the sharks that prey upon human credulity in the guise of "next of kin" advertisers has been caught. For the next two years James Stadden Rogers, B. A., "compiler of pedigrees," will grace the interior of one of Her Majesty's bastilles.

Lawn tennis has become so scientific a game, with the "volleying" now in practice, that English clubs are considering changes that will lengthen the rallies, and leave it less dependent on sheer strength and swiftness.

The modern newspaper is coming to the fore in enlightened philanthropic movements. The New York Tribune's Fresh Air Fund is giving all the blessings of a two weeks' country vacation to thousands of poor children in the great city.

ORIGIN OF THE "PRINTER'S DEVIL."—When Manius the elder set up in business at Venice he came in possession of a little negro boy. The boy was known over the city as "the little black devil," who helped the bibliofactor along, and some of the ignorant persons believed him to be none other than the embodiment of Satan, who helped Aldus in the prosecution of his profession.

A physician calls attention to the fact that if tobacco smoke be instantly ejected from the mouth and throat before descending into the chest and be made to pass through a cambric handkerchief drawn tightly across the open lips, a permanent deep yellow stain, corresponding in size and shape to the opening between the lips, and having numerous spots of a darker hue pervading it, will be left on the handkerchief; but that the prolonged puff from the chest after inhalation from a cigarette fails, under similar circumstances, to produce any but a scarcely perceptible evanescent mark.

LORNE HIGHLAND WHISKY ANALYTICAL SANITARY INSTITUTION 54, Holborn-viaduct, E.C., London, Aug. 8, '79 REPORT ON THE LORNE HIGHLAND WHISKY: "We have visited the bottling stores of Greenlees Brothers, and have selected from the vats, samples of their Lorne Highland Whisky, and have subjected them to careful examination and analysis. The samples were very fragrant, mellow, and of pleasant flavor, and possessed all the characteristics of pure and well-matured Scotch Whisky of the first quality."
