

Island Born Minister To Preach To US Signal Corps

PORT MONMOUTH, N. J. — Dr. John Sutherland Bonnell, minister of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York City the past 24 years, will participate at the Protestant Preaching Mission scheduled here at this Army Signal Corps installation April 20 through 23rd.

The Canadian-born minister who also heads the ABC network programs National Vespers and Pilgrimage, will deliver the sermons at all three nightly services.

"Facing Life with Courage" will be this year's theme for the eighth annual Protestant mission, with services to be held each night in the Post Field House starting at 8 p.m.

In addition, the renowned Westminster Choir College of Princeton, N.J., some 70 voices, will sing at all three services.

Doctor Bonnell's topic for the opening service will be, "Building Strong Character". The next evening his subject is, "A Soldier Who Saved His Country". On the mission's close, he will talk on "Learning to Live at Your Best".

Born in Dover, Prince Edward Island, Canada, Doctor Bonnell was educated at Prince of Wales College in Charlottetown, and Dalhousie University in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

VETERAN
Serving in World War I as a Sergeant Major with the 5th Canadian Siege Battery, he was twice wounded.

After graduation from Pine Hill Divinity Hall in Halifax, he was minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Saint John, from 1923 to 1929. Doctor Bonnell next served six years as minister of Winnipeg's Westminster United Church. His New York duties are the second longest pastorate in the Church's history.

Among his several visits to Europe while studying the social and religious situations, Doctor Bonnell in 1949, was awarded by King George VI, "The King's Medal for Service in the Cause of Freedom".

The Protestant services are

Nehru To Discuss With Lama Possibility Of Return To Tibet

SHILLONG, India (Reuters) — Prime Minister Nehru will discuss with the Dalai Lama when he arrives in New Delhi the possibility of a return to Tibet, informed sources said Tuesday.

The 29-year-old Tibetan spiritual leader continued to rest Tuesday at the Buddhist monastery at Tawang in the northeast frontier agency, where he arrived with his 30-man party Saturday following his escape from Tibet.

The Indian consul-general in Lhasa, P. N. Menon, arrived here Tuesday on his way to meet the Dalai Lama. He is understood to be carrying a personal letter to him from Nehru.

The Dalai Lama will make his own plans on when to leave Tawang. A strong force of Assam riflemen will escort him and his party on the five or six-day trip to Bomdila, where a road begins.

NEHRU'S ADVICE
Nehru is understood to intend advising the Dalai Lama to do or say nothing in India which would irrevocably put him against the Communist Chinese and lead Peking to denounce him.

Informed sources said the basis of Nehru's discussion with him on a return to Tibet is based on four points:

1. The Chinese have not condemned the Dalai Lama personally and in fact still claim him as "progressive" though surrounded by "misguided reactionary advisers."

2. The pro-Communist Panchen Lama has been made only acting chairman of the Tibetan "preparatory committee" — which the Chinese appointed to run the country in place of the dissolved government — while the Dalai Lama is "under duress."

3. The Chinese cannot remain unaware of the disastrous setback to their prestige by the Tibetan events and must be anxious to re-establish themselves in the eyes of the world, particularly Asia.

4. The Dalai Lama's immense influence with his people gives him bargaining power with the Chinese, to whom his co-operation would be invaluable.

WON'T FORCE LAMA
It is understood that Nehru will not force the Tibetan spiritual and temporal lama to return, but it is doubted whether the Dalai Lama can be persuaded to return. It took considerable persuasion by Nehru to induce him to go back to Lhasa when he visited India in 1956.

If the Dalai Lama still refuses to go back and decides to stay in India, he will not be allowed to form a "free Tibetan government" or indulge in political activities.

He would be condemned ultimately to dying in exile, bringing to an end his dynasty of 14 "incarnate Lamas" for it is unlikely there would be an opportunity for the search for a new incarnation.
