Isaiah Horne'S Famous Remedies.

MR ISAIAH HORNE.

Dear Sir,—My son strained the muscles of his arm some time ago, and suffered violent pain until treated with a rubbing of your Magic Discovery, which gave relief at once. Also my other son struck his knee against a log and it pained him so that he could not sleep. He got out of bed and rubbed his foot with the remedy and fell asleep and was all right in the morning. I think it a grand liniment.

Yours truly,
WILLIAM NEIL,

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. AN ANCIENT PLOW.

The North Sydney Herald says: Alexander McDonald, of Myra Gut, is the possessor of a plough that has been in use nearly one hundred and fifty years. This relic was brought from Invernesshire, Scotland, by Mr. McDonald's father when he emigrated to Cape Breton, and had been used over sixty years before it came into his possession. The plough is made of iron, is quite light and easily rusted, and might be taken for a modern implement. It was an old plough when at the first of the century some Highlanders went to take up a musket against Napoleon, and died at Waterloo; it may have been used in the dark days that followed Culloden by a survivor of the battle, turning the sod in the security of some glen for his scanty harvest of oats. It was used last spring and may be used for generations yet.

The Dead Soldier of Japan.

I saw in Yokohama on Sunday last another of those wonderful funeral processions which serve to keep alive and nurture the warrior spirit of this land. A poor sergeant named Sato Ryosabura, who died of cholera down the Pescadores, was the subject of the demonstration, and had he been a royal Prince stricken upon the battlefield his ashes could not have had greater honor paid them. To the Kuboyama Temple Cemetery there was a vast procession of people with banners, flowers and emblems and symbols of every description. Two enormous black oxen dragged a cart, on which reposed an enormous tombstone. The obsequies were from first to last of the highest Japanese order. The man's life had been sacrificed for the country and that was enough. Soldiers and citizens united in honoring his memory, and that the lesson was not lost upon the rising generation it may well be assumed.

All over Japan to-day the men who died in the late war are being solemnly and beautifully remembered. In every home which gave a home to the cause the mother or wife has caused a little altar to be erected. Upon this is placed a portrait of the deceased, a tablet recording the date and manner of death and the sacred name which the Buddhists give to the departed. Hereon are laid from time to time melons, rice, lotus flowers, etc., and such ornaments as the family can afford to offer. In front is a "hibachi," upon which burning incense sticks are continually laid. If the soldier left a widow she cuts off her hair, which is a sign that she will never marry again. Every morning and night this widow, if she has children, will gather them about her at the altar, and offer prayers for the memory of the dead. After a period, during which a priest comes daily to offer his prayers, the tablet is placed in a shrine belonging to the family and for six weeks priestly prayers are regularly offered.

Nowhere in the world is so much reverence and respect shown for the dead and the memory thereof as in Japan. It amounts to something closely resembling idolatry, but it is none the less touching and sublime. The impression left upon the mind of a growing son of a deceased soldier by the ceremonious honors paid his memory may well be imagined.—John A. Cockerill, in New York Herald.

A Story of Madagascar.

The most cheerful liar in the world lives in Madagascar. The latest story that comes from there tells about Pip, the King of the Lotolies, one of the local tribes which is not busy fighting the French.

This king, the story goes, devised some time ago a human harp. He had been visiting the place of punishment in his village and, witnessing the bastinadoing of his captives, he was struck by the tonal difference of their groans. At once he commissioned the royal carpenter to construct a series of stocks in which he placed eight captives whose howls of pain when the soles of their feet were struck by the rod were so carefully arranged that they made a perfect octave.

This seemed such a success that he had a second frame constructed for the feet of eight more wretches whose average groans ranged a full octave higher. The harp was now complete. On it he proposed to play melodies and started in to practice the national air.

His project was to regulate the length of the note by the violence of the blow. At first the scheme did not succeed at all, for the reason that the captives, hitherto used to hard hits alone, howled loudly each time and with little difference in force. At last he arranged it, however, so that the groans became proportioned to the blows.

But the instrument never got quite in tune. Incessant was the cry of some of the animated notes, others would not sound at all at the right time. The heathen king had to give it up. The discords were too painful for his musical ear, for although he tried fresh sets of prisoners the human notes would never work just right.

ODDS AND ENDS.

THE FRONT FELL OUT.—There was almost a panic in the First Presbyterian church, Chicago, last Sunday night. The regular quartette had just risen and stepped forward to sing when a large section of the front of the great organ fell out and crashed down into the chairs which they had been occupying. The congregation instinctively rose to their feet, while women screamed in all parts of the house. The organist saved his life by dodging.

SAVED HIS LIFE.

"I now weigh nearly 200 pounds," said a fine, robust looking man the other day; and yet this same man was given up to die of consumption less than two years ago. What cured him? Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil did. He took it when at a low ebb, when his weight was less than 100 pounds. It created new blood for him and that combined with his will power raised him up to a life of usefulness and happiness. If you are threatened with consumption or any lung trouble try Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil. Miller's Emulsion is the great nerve strengthener and blood maker, and cures Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Scrofula and all lung affections. In Big Bottles, 50c. and $1, at all Drug Stores.

Shabel finished his thousand mile ride at 11.30 at Toronto on Sunday night, 80 hours and 56 minutes from the time of his start, the total time on wheel being 64 hours and 35 minutes. The last ten miles were done in 41 minutes. The last mile in 3½. Best quarter 35 3-5 seconds. He was much delayed by rain.

Not that Kind.

Scott's Emulsion does not debilitate the stomach as other couch medicines do; but on the contrary it improves digestion and strengthens the stomach. Its effects are immediate and pronounced.

A GREAT MEDICINE.

Cod-liver Oil is useful beyond any praise it has ever won, and yet few are willing or can take it in its natural state. Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil is not offensive; it is almost palatable.

Children like it. It is Cod-liver Oil made more effectual, and combined with the Hypophosphites its strengthening and flesh-forming powers are largely increased.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR HOWLAN AT VERNON RIVER.

Dairy and Fruit Interests Promoted.

His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Howlan, accompanied by Mr. Dillon, Dairy Superintendent, visited Vernon River on the 3rd inst. The large Hall was filled with an appreciative audience to greet him. Even the stairway was occupied. J. F. McLeod, Esq., President of the Dairying Association occupied the chair and presented His Honor with the following address;—

To His Honor the Honorable George W. Howlan, Lieutenant-Governor, &c., &c, &c.

May it please your Honor.

On this your first visit to Vernon River, we, on behalf of the Union Dairymen's Association bid you welcome. We welcome you as the Representative of our Queen. We welcome as the friend and promoter of every interest that tends to the wellbeing of our island. In doing so we but express the universal sentiment of the community.

Occupying as your Honor does the highest position in the province, we are gratified to know that you are still mindful of the sources from which the island's prosperity is drawn.

Your Honor's good example will, no doubt, have a decided influence in inducing the farming community to turn their agricultural resources to the best possible account.

We thank your Honor for your presence at this meeting. May your rule continue to be prosperous. Be pleased to accept for Mrs. Howlan and yourself our best wishes for your present and future welfare.

Signed on behalf of the Association:

J. F. McLEOD, President,
O. SULLIVAN, Vice-President,
W. JENKINS,
W. W. GRANT,
L. C. HAYDEN,
JOHN R. McDONALD.
ALEX. ANDERSON.
DAVID P. IRVING, Secretary.

To which His Honor replied with thanks for the reception accorded him. He said that he knew the people to be loyal and paid a glowing tribute to the many virtues of our great and good Queen, counted it a privilege to live in such an age and under such a rule.

He felt it his duty as Lieutenant.-Governor of the island to advocate the best interests of the province. He knew the difficulties of the farmer, had farmed himself and was pleased that so many difficulties had been overcome. They have overcome prejudices. Thirty years ago he had been in London and Canadian beef was not counted fit for use. To-day it is sought after.

Dairying is fast becoming your leading industry. He complimented Professor Robertson and Mr. Dillon on their success in this direction. You have a better dairying country than any other part of America. Profit by it.

His Honor recommended more attention to fruit culture. Many instances had come under his notice of the successful and profitable cultivation of fruits. There was no good reason why the industry should not succeed. Put your energies into the business. See that you have the kinds best suited to the climate and market. Profit by experience.

He was struck by the particular excellence of our canned fruits. Those of Jones and McRae of Pownal surpassed anything he had ever seen in any part of the world. They excelled even those of France.

His Honor urged self-reliance. He would like to see the farmers in line. Organize. Good results follow organization. Don't be behind in the procession.

Mr. Dillon being called on, said he was glad to see the farmers alive to their interests. It was something fine to have the Lieutenant Governor interested in such matters. He pointed out the advantages of a Central Creamery and Cold Storage. Both were essential. The cost will be considerable. You have to take risks Co-operation is the order of the day. It proved the success of your dairy enterprise. You have made it a grand success. You have laid the foundation of a great industry. Build upon it. Patronize the factories. Every patriotic citizen should do so. Keep your young men at home, you have plenty for them to do. Grow large crops off small areas. Raise the best milk producers. We want the best milk in order to make the best butter and cheese. He would like to see P. E. Island export the finest goods imported into Great Britain from any part of the world.

Rev. Dr. Doyle in response to an invitation for a speech, said he came to listen, not to speak, and was amply rewarded. He complimented His Honor on the course he is pursuing and advised the farmers to improve their methods—tof arm intelligently. No business could succeed without it. Prosperity was before them. He had much pleasure in moving a vote of thanks to His Honor.

Honorable George Forbes said he had the pleasure of listening to His Honor on many previous occasions, but never with greater satisfaction than the present. Had personal knowledge of the good influence His Honor is exerting. Fully indorsed Rev. Dr. Doyle's well merited compliment. Felt it a pleasing duty to second the rev. gentleman's motion. The audience responded heartily.

His Honor expressed his thanks on behalf of Mrs. Howlan and himself. God Save the Queen was sung and the meeting closed.

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

BERLIN, Sept. 9.—Princess Alexandra of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, third daughter of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha and Duke of Edinburgh, was to-day formally betrothed to the hereditary Prince Ernest of Hohenlohe-Lunenburg. The Princess Alexandra is 17 years of age, and Prince Ernest 32.

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—Warrants have been issued for the arrest of fifteen business men of this city and surrounding towns on charges of arson, in addition to the eight under arrest now. The insurance companies have been collecting their evidence for a long time and claim to have straight cases against every one of them.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 9.—Governor Patterson arrived here this afternoon and was met at the depot by Sir John and Lady Schultz, Col. McMillan, representing Premier Greenway, and quite a large number of prominent citizens of both sides of politics. The Royal Dragoons were to have formed a military escort, but Mr. Patterson wired the D. A. G. requesting there be no military display.

The Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association of New York

Did a larger business in Canada in 1894 than any other Company.

Since its organization in 1881 has paid its policy holder for death claims over a twenty-two million dollars.

Is now paying at the rate of over a quarter of a million each month.

98,000 policies, and $300,000,000 of Insurance in force, attest the popularity of the Company, its system and the confidence of the public.

IT IS THE PEOPLE'S INSURANCE, and is sold at about half the rates charged by old system companies. During the first three months of 1895 it was thoroughly examined by the Insurance Departments of New York, Illinois, Ohio, Texas and South Dakota, and pronounced to be sound to the core.

Painless Dentistry!

This is addressed to all those who are suffering from TOOTHACHE, or who may require treatment of any kind at the hands of a Dentist. I make the very best Teeth, guaranteed, for $15 00 a set. If not satisfactory money refunded. Gold and Silver Fillings a specialty.

The following letter from Dr Robertson of Crapaud, as regards the Painless Extraction of Teeth, speaks for itself:—

To J E McDonald, D D S, Summerside, P E I.

Dear Doctor,—I am so well pleased with the work you have done for me that I will take it as a special favor if you will give publicity to this letter. I positively assert that after an experience extending over twenty-two years, under the hands of many dentists, you are the only one who ever extracted a tooth for me Absolutely Without Pain. The TEN teeth you removed for me at one sitting did not hurt a particle, as Mr James Dawson of Tryon, who was present at the operation, heard me testify. The man who invented your method should be knighted.

I am yours, gratefully,
H W ROBERTSON, M D
