Horses.

The imports of horses into Great Britain has been as follows (by British returns):—

	No.	Value.
1895.....	34,092	$4,484,583
1896.....	40,677	5,001,649
1897.....	49,519	6,104,404

I found that Canadian horses were used largely on omnibuses and for grocery and delivery wagons. The only complaint which I heard against some of them, was that when used steadily on the hard pavements of the cities, occasionally their feet became tender and lame during the first three months. If they passed that period safely, they were most satisfactory animals. I do not know whether the Canadian practice of paring the soles of the hoofs severely leaving them comparatively thin, may not be a cause for the development of this weakness when the horse is put constantly on hard pavements. No weakness or injury would be evident on the ordinary roads or streets of Canada.

The horses which are wanted are sound animals, weighing from 1,100 to 1,250 pounds. They should be well broken to drive in single harness; and a smooth, rounded appearance is a much better quality than exceptional speed. In carriage horses, showy action is considered more valuable than great speed. There is a good demand in Great Britain for horses for cavalry remounts and also for artillery. I was not able to carry investigations into that subject far enough to offer any opinion on how that trade can be developed. But if stallions entirely suitable for the breeding of that class of horses could be obtained, it would seem to be a desirable policy to afford every encouragement to Agricultural Societies or other bodies, to use such stud horses in their localities either by premiums, substantial prizes, or some other adequate means. From Prof. Robertson's Report.

As a rule, hull-less barley has not given very good satisfaction in this country. It gets so dry and hard when ripe that its feeding value is very much lessened, and stock do not relish it so well. Hull-less barley is grown to some extent in the Western States, and seems to yield very well. Prof. Henry, in his book on "Feeds and Feeding," states that in feeding trials with pigs hull-less barley gave better returns than common barley or corn. Comparatively speaking, we do not think barley is any harder on the land than many other cereals grown on the farm. The amount of digestible protein is higher in barley than in oats, and considerably more than in corn. These carbohydrates in barley exceed those in oats, and fall below those in corn. Barley has less oil than oats or corn.—Farming.

ALL RIGHT AGAIN.—The Fort Bragg Advocate says: Dr. James Henderson is able to be out and attend to office duties again, after a very severe sick spell. The Doctor was taken ill about the first of October with the grippe, which developed into pneumonia, followed by inflammatory rheumatism. He is getting along nicely now, being able to attend to his professional duties. His many friends are glad to see him on deck again.

ORIENT DIVISION.—The members of Orient Division are requested to meet in full force this evening at 8 o'clock in Wright's Lower Hall to receive the members of Mayflower Division who will pay a fraternal visit.

COASTING ACCIDENT.—While the little son of Mrs. Thos. Taylor, Granville, Lot 21, was coasting on Saturday last, he ran into a barb wire fence, the result being that his face was very badly torn and other injuries sustained. Dr. Macneill was called in and the little fellow is doing as well as can be expected.

The basket social previously announced announced to be held at Stanley Bridge Hall on February 28th has been changed to February 20th. A good programme is being prepared and no doubt the social will be a grand success. Several from Charlottetown will take part.

A Costly Autograph.
At a charitable sale in Paris Baron Rothschild stopped at a stall conducted by "Gyp," and the fair litterateur addressed him with the usual request to buy something. "What am I to buy?" said the Baron. "You have nothing at all suitable for me. But I have an idea. I should like to have your autograph. Sell me that." Taking a sheet of paper, the lady wrote upon it, "Received from Baron Rothschild the sum of 1,000 francs for the benefit of charity. Gyp."

Sheathing a Ship.
Sheathing a ship is covering the bottom with a sheath of copper. In all seas, but particularly in those of the tropics, the hulls of ships are liable to the attack of certain worms which penetrate the hardest wood and have been known in the course of a few months to damage the hull so as to render the vessel worthless. Copper sheathing protects the ship not only against the attacks of these borers, but also against decay, and is especially valuable in the case of iron ships, the metal rapidly oxidizing and becoming brittle when exposed to the action of the sea water.

A man was recently convicted in England of having enlisted as a recruit in 15 places, decamping each time with advance money. England loses about $500,000 a year from such operations.

It is said that in the sandy deserts of Arabia whirling winds sometimes excavate pits 200 feet in depth and extending down to the harder stratum on which the "great bed of sand rests."

SUCCESSFUL MEN

MANY OF THEM ARE HANDICAPPED WITH CATARRHAL DISEASES.

Dr. A. W. CHASE

COMES TO THEIR AID.

Success in life is almost impossible for a man with bad breath. Nobody wants to do business with him. Nobody wants to associate with him. He is handicapped everywhere. Offensive breath comes from catarrh; sometimes from catarrh of the stomach, sometimes of the lungs, sometimes of the head, nose, and throat. It is from catarrh somewhere, and catarrh is another name for uncleanness.

Many men understand this, and make every effort to cure it, but it is beyond the reach of ordinary practice.

No self-respecting man can ignore catarrh. If he has it in any form he makes constant effort to be rid of it. There is something about the manner of life and the climate of Canada that seems to breed diseases of the mucous membrane. Medical science ordinarily doesn't try to cure catarrh; it "relieves" it; but Dr. Chase has been curing catarrh for over thirty years, and his name is blessed by thousands who have shaken off the grasp of this insidious disease.
