Playoffs Still A Possibility For Lady Panther's Hockey

Through no lack of effort, the women's hockey team have failed to come out victorious so far this season. The girls were unable to capitalize on Saturday as they were defeated by the Mounties of Mount Allison 4-3. However, the ice in Crapaud treated the girls well as the three they scored almost matched their combined goals for, for the entire season. It would seem as though these girls are starting to put the offensive pieces together in order to start winning.

The following day, the panthers took on the UNB Reds. Once again the girls showed improvement by grabbing 2 goals but unfortunately allowed 5. The lines are starting to click, and look for these ladies to give a fine showing down the stretch. These recent losses have seen the lady panthers record fall to 0-8. But don't count these girls out just yet. With six games remaining in the season, and most of the standings being dominated by St. FX, DAL, and SMU, there are still three available slots for the remaining five teams. Of the four other teams contending for last three playoff spots, three of them have four points, and one with only six. If the girls are able to put the puck in the net after the holidays, we very well could see women's varsity playoff hockey at UPEI.

UPEI Volleyball Drops Close One to UNB

It wasn't decided until the last game fifth game, but the UPEI women's volleyball team could not ride their momentum into the last game. When it was all said and done, the girls lost 3-2 (24-26, 25-17, 25-20, 13-25, 15-6) in a very tight game. The panthers came out strong winning the first game, then dropped the next two, only to win the fourth and send the match to its fifth and deciding game.

Erin McCarvill, setter for the Panthers had 5 kills, 2 blocks and 4 digs while Jackie Ellsworth once again had a great game with 27 digs. Michelle Pridham, Ashley Shannik and Val Shannik were all strong on the ball with 9 kills each.
