Farm Fires Stress Need For Study Of Insurance

During the latter part of last week four farm houses burned in the province and apparently there was no insurance in some cases and a small amount in others.

At the risk of becoming tiresome on this point, we would like to suggest that every owner of farm property take a look at (A) The value of his buildings, livestock, and equipment and (B) The amount of fire insurance which he is now carrying. We realize that there are places —many places— for all the dollars but economizing on fire insurance hardly seems the best place.

Farm buildings are very vulnerable and once a fire starts particularly in barns it can rarely be arrested.

Fire insurance is not expensive (three to five dollars per one thousand) and it looks like good business to carry enough that in the event of a disaster the farm operation will not be crippled.

NO COMPLAINTS

The first three weeks of October have provided something quite special in the way of weather. Last Saturday and Sunday stood in a class by themselves as a really pleasant weekend. In farm operations this adds up to satisfactory progress in completing the gathering of crops. Still a few fields of grain remain, not a large percentage of the potatoes, and we see turnips being harvested at a much earlier than usual date. A great deal of plowing remains to be done, but this is an operation which can usually be carried out in November even though there are advantages for earlier attention. Rainfall has been light in October and it is certainly nice to be spared the mud. The autumn and fall is certainly one of our pleasanter seasons and this year more than usually so.

PESTS AND CHEMICALS

On November 14th the Canadian Federation of Agriculture will make an appearance before a special committee of the House of Commons on dangers from the use of insecticides, pesticides, and chemicals. These hearings are in keeping with a general development of interest in the effect of many new chemicals and man's attempts to control an ever increasing variety of pests. In this connection it is interesting to know that the province of Manitoba has forbidden the use of dieldrien and aldrin on the grounds that there is danger of effects on dairy products. In this province attention has largely been focused on loss of cattle caused by absorbing arsenic contained in certain potato top killers. A loss of this size, of course, gives rise to the desirability of prohibiting the use of such dangerous material.

In any event the C.F.A. is canvassing its member bodies for ideas to incorporate in its statement to the Committee on November 14th.

FARM FORUM 1963-64

On November 4th following preseason program the latter part of October Farm Forum introduces the season with a program related to the problems of the rural church and entitled, "Where two or three are gathered together" at this gathering the groups will submit questions on which a second program will be based the following Monday night. This type of program is referred to as a "talk back." On November 18th the subject is "Heritage" a topic dealing with the holding of land, the inheritance of it and maintaining of family farms. On November 25th a topic tailored to the interest of women will be presented. Here the questions for discussion point out the areas of interest viz— 1. Do you think that women in your community are interested in entering occupations outside the home? 2. What would be the effects of women spending much of their married lives outside the home? 3. Would you undertake further training or education if it were available? If yes, what are the barriers?

This year Farm Forum has a variety of topics pointed to the interest of special groups including women, young people, church people, dairy people in fact many people.

INSURANCE-LIABILITY

The law of the province says that a person involved in a motor vehicle accident must be able to prove that he or she is in a position to pay claims levied for damage to property or persons when damages are in excess of $100.00. Practically this means that if the person doesn't have liability insurance covering damage to property or person that they lose both license and car registration until their position is re-established.

In many cases car owners have an insurance policy which covers collision, fire, theft, etc., but doesn't provide coverage for public liability. Today any one who drives without liability insurance is running the almost certain risk if invoved in an accident of losing both license and registration. If finances are the determining factor in buying insurance any funds available should first be used for liability insurance.

DO YOU AGREE?

There is a tendency on many of the chronically low- income farms to use sacrifice and deprivation on the home-side of the farm to subsidize the operations of the farm business itself. Many operators and their wives willingly sacrifice necessary expenditures on their health to permit the purchase of a necessary machine. In too many instances the children's education must be sacrificed in a series of poor years in order that the payments on the mortgage may be met. Perhaps one of the biggest tragedies in agriculture at the present time is the tendency for many families to sacrifice their living standards in order to have a clear title to their farm assets at the time of retirement. A farm business that is kept solvent by an erosion of rural human resources is, in fact, bankrupt." Quotation Farm Forum Guide "Heritage".

Gov't Reviews ADB Projects

At a special meeting of the provincial cabinet yesterday, about a dozen submissions that will be made to Tuesday's meeting in Charlottetown of the Atlantic Development Board came under review.

Acting premier J. David Stewart said yesterday that the government will meet informally Tuesday morning with members of the board and the official submission of the province's proposals will be made Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Stewart said he hopes to arrange for rooms in the Basilica Recreation Centre for the meetings with the board.

At noon Tuesday, the government will tender a luncheon for the board.

Mr. Stewart indicated that several projects were under discussion for submission. "They are not of a major nature," he said, 'but are projects that the board can get its teeth into."

Recreation Program Outlined For Parkdale

Representatives from all the organizations and service clubs of the village attended the recent annual meeting of the Parkdale Recreation Commission, chaired by Layton Smallwood.

In order to assist the 10 members of the commission, who were re-elected, it was decided that each club or organization should name two representatives to form a board of directors.

It was also approved that this newly-formed body should conduct meetings at least four times each year with the commission. At these sessions proposals will be heard for the carrying out of various community projects.

Reporting on the summer's activities of the baseball teams in the community, Wilfred MacDonald, stated that an excellent start had been made and he anticipated that there will be a big upsurge of interest in this sport next year.

REGULATION ICE

Richard Brown reported on rink activities of the past season, and he also announced that the rink equipment donated by the Experimental Farm, would be enlarged this season, to allow for the ice surface to be brought up to minor hockey regulation size.

He also stated that it is planned to employ a full-time supervisor and the program is to be enlarged to accommodate minor hockey, children's skating and adult activities.

Mr. Smallwood gave a report on the amount and condition of the playground equipment, and stated that material is available to increase the facilities. He also revealed that light standards for the rink are on hand along with hockey nets.

He said he had been informed that a group of interested citizens has decided to donate additional playground equipment, which will be officially presented to the commission next spring.

ADULT CLASSES

Following the indication that interest in adult physical fitness classes is running high, a committee comprising, Mr. Boudreau, Frank MacDonald and Keir Costain was appointed to contact the men of the village to determine the number wishing to participate.

To carry out the same procedure with the women, the commission named. Mrs. Arthur Love and Mrs. D.J. McAskill.

An organizational meeting for these classes has been scheduled for Nov. 4 at 7 p.m. In connection with these activities Jack Proud offered to conduct dancing classes a part of the program.

SENIOR CITIZENS

For the senior citizens, Mrs. Roy Bevan, Gordon Ramsay, Mrs. Smith and Henry Douglas, were named to look into the possibilities of holding special entertainment evenings. It was also decided that a get-acquainted evening will be held some time in January.

The final item on the agenda, which got full approval, was the suggestion to make a recommendation to the village commissioners that Parkdale should develop a park and playground as a 1964 centennial project.

Frozen Food Shipping Rates To Jump In Jan.

By DON MacLEOD

Agriculture Minister Andrew B. MacRae, received word yesterday from W.J. MacLauchlin, manager and secretary of the Canadian - United Kingdom Freight Conference, that transportation companies carrying frozen french fried potatoes from Eastern Canada to the U.K. will go ahead with their planned 25 per cent increase in freight rates.

Mr. MacLauchlin said "member lines have studied applications for consideration of the rate on frozen french fried potates, and announced the decision that experience proves the present rate is uneconomical for this expensive type of refrigerated space with increased rates still lower than in other trades."

"We regret there is no alternative but to maintain new level of rates effective Jan. 15, in accordance with contract agreements."

Industry and Natural Resources Minister Leo Rossiter said yesterday that the federal department of trade and commerce has been asked to look into the matter.

Mr. Rossiter said he talked in Montreal earlier this week with representatives of one of the shipping companies involved. "I suggested," he said, "that the increase be deferred until the governments involved, Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, as well as the department of trade and commerce, have a chance to meet with representatives of the industry in the provinces to thrash the matter out. The company representatives were willing to attend such a meeting."

MEETING PLANNED

As a result, a meeting is being planned for a central part of the Maritimes and will likely be held within a week. In the meantime, the Maritime Transportation Commission has been asked to assist in the matter.

Mr. MacRae said the present rate from this province to the United Kingdom is $36.96 per ton. When the increase goes into effect, the freight cost will be $50 per ton. "It is likely," he said, "that the potato grower will pay for the increase which could amount to one-half a cent per pound. This increase could make it unprofitable for growers to sell to processing plants."

The Seeman Bros. (Canada) Limited plant at New Annan has orders for the United Kingdom of 2,000 tons of french fried potatoes. Since frozen french fries represent 40 per cent of the potato before processing, about 5,000 tons of raw potatoes would be needed to fill the orders. "It is possible," said Mr. MacRae, "that a large part of the order may be shipped before the freight rate increase occurs."

Y's Men Hear Details Of Visit To Liberia

SUMMERSIDE — The regular weekly meeting of the Summerside Y's Men's Club was held Thursday night with Thomas Phillips occupying the chair.

Guest speaker was Wilson Ross, principal of Central Queens Regional High School, who gave a very interesting talk on his visit to Liberia where he spent the summer months instructing native school teachers on the teaching methods used in Canada.

This exchange is known as "Crossroads Africa."

It was interesting to the Summerside club to know that Mr. Wilson visited the Robertsport Y's Men's Club and they publish the only newspaper in the town on a Gestetner machine presented to them by the Maritime Y's Men's Club.

He showed a number of slides that depicted clearly the people and the way of life in this interesting country.

He commented that a man might be seen coming out of a mud hut in a tuxedo on his way to a dance, or travelling to the interior of the country a person might see a new Singer sewing machine in a mud hut.

He said the thing that helps the economy of the country most is the modern American rubber plantation. Here everything is up to date and a large number of natives are employed.

By Canadian standards the wages are very small however, as the labourers receive only 18 cents an hour.

Y's Men Ross MacKenzie thanked the speaker on behalf of the club.

Song leader for the meeting was Charles Linkletter; devotions - Keith Lapp; fines master - Morley Bell; guests - Bob Sharp, Frank Dillon, Claude Hunter.

REJECT BUDGET

PARIS (Reuters)—The French Senate finance committee Friday rejected the special budget for Algeria because it felt the Evian peace agreements had not been respected after Algeria became independent. Georges Portmann said on behalf of the Senate finance committee that the budget, which envisaged credits of about $233,000,000, was rejected unanimously.

slum racketeer builds vice empire

Harrowing tales of aged tenants beaten, and of squads of thugs accompanied by ferocious Alsatian dogs forcing tenants to move by physical violence, were revealed in the British House of Commons in connection with the Christine Keeler case. The responsibility for these acts of terrorism was attributed to the mysterious Polish-born Peter Rachman who made a fortune through rent-gouging, drugs, extortion and blackmail. An exposé of the activities of Rachman, the slum baron, who built a vice empire that thrived on evil and profited from human misery, is featured in Weekend Magazine this Saturday.
