

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

APRIL 22, 1889.

Notes and Clippings.

The only life that is worth the living is that spent in worthy undertakings.

Mr. C. J. Rykert, M. P., has addressed an open letter to the Rev. Dr. Hunter, beginning with the following words: "You have certainly an undoubted right, both as a citizen and a Christian minister, to criticize in a fair, impartial and Christian spirit, the language and utterances of public men; but when a minister of the Gospel steps down into the arena of party politics and lowers himself to the level of a common blackguard, by giving utterance to language which, even the Billingsgate women would hesitate to use, it is high time for his friends to inquire whether he is mentally responsible for the same."

Principal Grant, in the course of a speech at Kingston, said that for the past twenty-one years Canada had been too busy settling internal affairs, and had had no time for her external affairs. He differs with Hon. Edward Blake, that to-day the question of Imperial Federation is impracticable and calls on him as one who, was wedded to the principle, to help make Imperial Federation possible. Dr. Grant strongly urged the question and declared he was proud of his British connection, of allegiance to a wondrous nation, that he had repeatedly refused to leave Canada for a foreign land, where a double and treble salary was offered him.

The Duke of Bavaria was very proud of his son, the oculist, Karl Theodor, and often recommended him to patients. Passing along the streets of Munich one day he met a blind girl standing on the corner, singing. Tossing a louis d'or into her outstretched hand, he went on, but suddenly returned to inquire more minutely into her affliction. "Well," said he, "I shall give you the address of a physician who will be able to cure you." With that he tore a sheet of paper from his note book, wrote a few lines upon it, and left the girl, who continued her singing. When she returned home that evening, her mother and sister would not believe their eyes, for the note was signed "Duke Maximilian" and addressed to "Duke Theodor." They thought some one had been jesting. But the girl had confidence in the kindly voice, and, in company with a friend, went to the palace.

A number of Newfoundlanders, working on a Government wharf, have struck for seventy cents a day. They have been receiving fifty-five cents! The Halifax Herald says: "Here is a pointer for the Grit secessionists of Nova Scotia. If we could only get 'repeal' and be put in the same position as 'Happy Newfoundland,' our wharf builders could get the extravagant wages of 55 cents a day. In fact, at certain seasons of the year, when there was a strong demand for labor, they might hope for seventy cents a day. As it is, ground down by their are beneath the iron heel of 'Kennedy,' they have to struggle along with $1.25 to $1.50 a day. It is true that nearly all kinds of clothing and food are 25 per cent dearer in Newfoundland than in the Dominion, but then just to think of 55 cents, with a possible chance of obtaining 70 cents a day! It is no wonder that our Grit secessionists cast longing eyes in the direction of 'Happy Newfoundland.'"

One hears little of Egypt now-a-days, and the inference is that all is going well in that country under the English occupation. The facts support the inference. The great problem in Egypt for a score of years has been to meet the financial obligations of the government. The problem at last seems capable of solution. Annual deficits no longer appear. Under the close scrutiny and direction of English officials, the government is paying its way and redeeming its debts. Another effect of English control, which is at the same time one of the causes of present prosperity, is the improvement of the irrigation system. To the traveler this is especially noticeable. Under it he sees the wheat fields ever advancing and the desert ever receding. With peace on the borders and plenty along the Nile, Egypt is bound to recover her credit. There is, however, among those who have the welfare of Egypt at heart, some anxiety over the turn affairs may take if the present British Government is overthrown.

The exports, the produce of Canada, for the month ending 31st March, amounted to $5,551,595, an increase of $621,018 over the previous month, and of $738,375 over the corresponding month of last year. Of the produce of other countries $216,105 were exported during last month, as against $107,820 for the month of February, 1889, and $225,668 for the corresponding month of 1888. Comparing the total exportation of last month with that of the previous month, an increase of $732,748 is shown, and for the corresponding month of 1888 an increase of $728,862. The total amount of coin and bullion exported during last month was exceptionally large, amounting to $1,321,644, making the grand total of the exports $5,089,344, as against $3,038,888 for the corresponding month of March, 1888. The total exports for the nine months ending March 31st amounted to $68,499,888. The greatest increase in the exports is in agricultural products, the produce of Canada, which amounted to $1,089,007 for last month, as against $801,886 for the same month last year, an increase of $286,121.

The railway statistics presented to Parliament a few days ago show that the mileage of completed railways in Canada on the 30th June last was 12,701, an addition of 380 miles during the year; the tons of freight carried amounted to 17,172,759, an increase of 816,424 tons over the previous year; the passengers carried in the year numbered 11,416,791, an increase of 718,153; the receipts from the passenger traffic were $12,144,637, $376,960 more than in the previous year; the receipts from freight traffic were $2,410,085, an increase of $1,829,033; the total earnings were $42,159,152, which is $3,317,142 more than in the previous year; the receipts per train mile $1.13, and the expenditure 81 cents, which is about the same proportion as in the previous year. During the past ten years the mileage of railways has more than doubled, the number of passengers carried per inhabitant has increased 46 per cent., and the total number carried has increased 77 per cent.; the number of tons of freight carried per inhabitant has increased, and the total number of tons of freight carried has increased 118 per cent.; the receipts from passengers increased nearly 100 per cent., and those from freight over 100 per cent.; the total receipts from all sources have increased 105 per cent., and the expenses have increased 90 per cent. Taking the report altogether, the year shows a most gratifying increase all round.

The Destiny of Canada.

In the course of his speech at Kingston Principal Grant proposed to himself three questions. The first question was: First, is Canada, as a part of the British Empire, in a condition of stable political equilibrium or not? This being answered, the next question was: "What is the cause?" The Principal answered, "We should attain to full citizenship." Some men say, and perhaps honestly, that it would be better to cut off from the Empire, join with the United States, and later unite again with England. It seems amusing that to strengthen the Empire they would first cut off a portion of it. Succession would be self destruction. It is doubtful if there is one politician of any eminence who believes that Canada could live by itself or defend itself or one of its inhabitants in a foreign country. If Canadians were to cut themselves loose from the Mother Country they would have to protect their citizens and a thousand expenses would be involved.

The third question, "What is involved in full citizenship?" draws the answer: "That there should be political understanding between every part of the Empire making all parts share alike. Peace, war and treaties should not be made without our consent. The amount and cost of a full fleet would be determined by a fair and full understanding. Whenever Dr. Grant heard commercial union spoken of he always asked, 'What about union with Britain?' and he believes that the manufacturers of Canada would have a fiercer competition with those of the United States than with British manufacturers. Commercial union with Great Britain would be a boon to every farmer, to every Canadian. The Americans are anxious for commercial union that they may discriminate against the Mother Country, a step which, on the part of Canada, would be dishonored. (Applause.) Canada, the West Indies and Australia should at once cultivate closer relations with Great Britain and unite on a trade policy. Instead of 5,000,000 competing against 60,000,000, it would be 320,000,000 against 60,000,000 if there were free trade between the countries mentioned. Ever Western American farmer would then instruct his representative in Congress to vote for free trade. In conclusion the Principal said: 'I ask you to consider the past of the Empire. When I look at what it is to be a British subject, I say I would not barter my citizenship for any consideration. We did not make that country (the British Empire,) and we have not the right to rob by secession our children's children of their birthright. Which future shall it be—secession or citizenship? It is for you to decide.'

Death of Hector McMillan, Esq.

Another old "landmark," Mr. Hector McMillan, has gone over to the great majority. The deceased, who had only been ill for some few weeks, passed peacefully away on Sunday morning, 14th inst. Mr. McMillan was a good citizen, and always had a kind word for everybody. Naturally of a genial disposition he was ever the same, and it can be said of him that truly a good man has gone to his reward. Mr. McMillan was a native of P. E. Island, and always took a deep interest in the annual Scotch games, being present whenever possible. He was a Presbyterian, and in politics a staunch Liberal-Conservative. We tender our sincere sympathy with the relatives and friends of the deceased.—Colonial Standard, Pictou, N. S., April 16, 1889.

The deceased, whose parents, among others, emigrated from Colonsay in the year 1803, in the emigrant ship Spencer, was a native of Wood Islands, and in his 63rd year. He left his birthplace for Pictou, N. S., when a young lad, and entered the employ of Russell Bros., with whom he served his apprenticeship as chain maker and ship blacksmith. Shipowners and others from his native Province found in him one who, as a master mechanic and a kind-hearted friend, was always ready to render them every assistance and advice which his sound judgment and skill could impart.

Mr. McMillan was for many years an honored member of the Caledonian Club of P. E. Island, took a deep interest in its welfare, and was but seldom absent from its annual gatherings. He was much esteemed by a large circle of relatives and friends on the Island, as well as at his adopted home in Pictou, N. S. We sympathize with his bereaved widow and family in their sore affliction.

Personal.

Mr. J. Hunter Davar, Inspector of Fisheries, is at the Hotel Davies.
John Bright never would admit that he even approached Mr. Gladstone as an orator.
Mr. Chamberlain says that all domestic animals had an instinctive fondness for John Bright.

Mr. W. A. O. Morsen, who has been visiting the Upper Provinces and the United States, returned home on Saturday evening.
Rev. James Carruthers left for Halifax this morning. He will deliver the address at the closing of the Presbyterian College on Wednesday.

Rev. Angus Macdonald, of Rustico, has returned from Montreal where he has been under medical treatment all winter. We regret to learn that the rev. gentleman's health has not been improved by his sojourn abroad.

Principal Grant will be presented with his portrait, painted by Harris, at the coming convocation of Queens' University. The graduates this year will number over eighty—the largest yet turned loose.

Lieutenant F. P. Carvell, No. 1 Battery, G. A., who has been taking a special course at the Royal School of Artillery, Quebec, has returned home after passing a very successful examination. Thus another qualified officer is added to the Brigade.

Dr. Talmage says the Church, if it would do its duty, could convert the world in ten years. It has the men and the money. Perhaps so; but it must turn over a new leaf of generosity very soon if it is going to undertake so great and speedy a task. The Brooklyn Tabernacle last year, with 4,126 members reported, gave $151 to home missions, and $138 to foreign missions.

Martin Dickie, manager of the Merchant's Bank of Halifax at Truro, has departed on a four months trip to England and the Continent. The trip is for the benefit of his health. Mr. J. J. McKane, well known in Charlottetown, is acting agent during Mr. Dickie's absence, and associated with him is Mr. Currie of Antigonish fame, who will render the bank burglar proof.

McLEOD & McKENZIE,

STAR MERCHANT TAILORS,
The Original and Peerless Artists of Our Day.

THE ABOVE HAS BEEN A SETTLED FACT FOR YEARS, and to keep before the public what is so well known to every good dresser in this Province, may seem superfluous. But as a good dinner tends to give a quietus to the disturbing influences within the inner man, so a thorough knowledge of our capabilities will give a quietus to anyone who may have had the good fortune of being dressed by us. The sun rises and sets, and it appears to the ordinary judgment that the sun revolves around the earth instead of the earth revolving around the sun; so we, through the immense strides we have taken in our art, would appear to the uneducated to be moving around our many friends, instead of they moving around us; like the sun imparts its warm rays to revive drooping nature, so we are the benefactors of our people, by aiming high and attaining to a STYLE and FINISH in our Garments, which cannot but commend us as the MERCHANT TAILORING PHILANTHROPISTS of our day.

Are you anxious to test the foregoing? Come in, then, and see our line of Goods, which are superior, in every sense of the word, and we will fit you out with a Suit which will doubtless draw the loving remark from your best girl that she has "the best dressed young man in town." Call early, if you must have it before 1st July.
