SCOTT ACT IN MONCTON.—An exchange says: Scott Act Inspector Fielding has not done any practical work in his line as yet, but has all his plans matured, and as soon as the city council gives him authority to get advice from a lawyer he will proceed to business.

A CURIOSITY.—A young farmer near Sussex has quite a curiosity in the shape of a small peanut plantation. The little plants, which are very similar to the common pea, are now covered with yellow blossoms. The season in this country is too short except for the very earliest varieties.

LECTURE LAST NIGHT.—Rev. Dr. Lucas lectured in Philharmonic Hall last night, his discourse being entitled "Those Grasshoppers." The lecture was both entertaining and instructive, as all Dr. Lucas's discourses are. There was a fairly large audience. Hon. David Laird presided.

THE TIMES BRIGHTENING.—The New York Herald has been interviewing the merchants of the American Metropolis on the possibilities of the fall trade. In every instance the reporter was informed that business was increasing, that values were higher, and that the prospects for the next three months were better than they have been for the past few years.

A GOOD SEASON.—The Chignecto Post points out that the Portland Packing Co. has operated four factories this season at Cape Tormentine, Jourmain Island, Cadman Corner and Amos factory. They put up 1850 cases. The season has been the best for three years. The company has 44 licenses.

TUNNEL BORINGS.—Boring for the tunnel has been prosecuted this season with marked success over last year, when no holes were bored at all. This season, the contractors, Messrs. McLaren of Ottawa, have bored one and commenced another. The engineer in charge is Mr. J. S. D. Caddy. The operation of boring is likely to last well into the 20th century.—Chignecto Post.

A PHONOGRAPH BURIAL.—In New York the other day, when a minister was wanted to conduct the funeral services for a young child, it was found that the ministers were all away for the summer. One, more thoughtful than the rest, had left a burial service in a phonograph. This was used for the occasion, and had a stranger been listening at the door he would have thought that a minister stood beside the coffin and spoke the words which rang through the rooms. The service was most impressive.

A NOVEL SIGHT.—A steamer running on rails is a curious sight to be seen near Copenhagen. Two lakes are separated by a narrow strip of land, on which rails are laid, running into the water on either side. The steamer, which is 44 feet long and carries 70 passengers, is guided to the rails by piles like a ferry slip. It has wheels on either side which fit the rails, and is driven full speed up one side of the incline and down the other into the water on the other side.

IT WAS HIS MOTHER.—Some lawyers seem to have no sense of honor in the means by which they try to discredit the testimony of those opposed to them; in illustration of which we need only adduce the following specimen of cross questioning: Counsel—"Mr. Jenkins, will you have the goodnes of answering me directly and categorically a few plain questions?" Witness—"Certainly, sir." "Well, Mr. Jenkins, is there a female living with you who is known in the neighborhood as Mrs. Jenkins?" "There is." "Is she under your protection?" "Yes." "Do you support her?" "I do." "Have you ever been married to her?" "I have not." (Here several jurors scowled gloomily on Mr. Jenkins.) "That is all, Mr. Jenkins." Opposing Counsel—"Stop one moment, Mr. Jenkins. Is the female in question your mother?' "She is."—Exchange.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 28.—In the chimney of a little frame cottage standing at some distance from the other residences of Irvington, a small suburb of this city, detectives this morning found the charred remains of little Howard Pietzel, one of Holmes' victims. The find was the result of a long and persistent search by Detective Geyer, of Philadelphia, who came here six weeks ago, and has been working ever since on the theory that young Pietzel had been killed here. To-day he and Inspector Gary found the empty cottage at Irvington which had been occupied by a man answering Holmes' description, and a little boy, early last October. They began a search and soon found a large stove and the black trunk in which it had been supposed that the body had been shipped. Further search was rewarded by the finding of a number of charred bones in the chimney, together with the buttons from the boy's overcoat. Evidently the child had been murdered in the house and his body cremated there. The supposed murderer and his victim came to the house together, and were seen about the place for a week, when both disappeared and nothing has since been heard of them.

ST. DUNSTAN'S CHOIR PICNIC.

The choir of St. Dunstan's Cathedral held their annual picnic yesterday, on the beautifully-situated grounds of John Maceachern, Esq., at Red Point, which had been kindly placed at the disposal of the choir for the day. The weather was fine throughout, with just sufficient breeze to make it pleasant. The choir picnics are always most enjoyable functions, and that of yesterday was fully up to the standard. Everyone present—the choir and their guests—had a good time. Father Reid, Mr. Blanchard, and the individual members of the choir were untiring in their efforts to make their guests enjoy themselves, and it goes without saying that they succeeded admirably.

The tables were spread in a shaded nook which seemed to have been especially designed by nature for such a purpose, and they were well filled with delicacies, to which, it is perhaps needless to say, the fullest justice was done. During the day the choir rendered some choruses, and individual members contributed several solos. There was also some music on the organ and violin All tended to make the day pass pleasantly, and were greatly enjoyed.

A very pleasant feature of the outing was the sail in the morning from Charlottetown to Red Point, in the neat little steamer May Queen, and the excursion up and down the harbor on the same steamer in the evening. The May Queen is a comfortable craft, and is well adapted for excursions. Captain Paoli is a most efficient and courteous commander. Vocal and instrumental music added to the enjoyment of the sail, Auld Lang Syne and the National Anthem concluding the programme as the steamer came up to the wharf.

Before leaving Red Point the choir tendered their thanks to Mr. Maceachern for his kindness in allowing them the use of his grounds and residence during the day, and three rousing cheers were given for that gentleman. "Three times three and a tiger" were also given for Father Reid and Mr. Blanchard.

DIED.

At New Perth, on the 17th inst., after a short illness, Catherine McNeill, beloved wife of James R. McDonald, and daughter of the late Roderick McNeill (Rory Og) of Vernon River, in the 74th year of her age. The deceased was a most exemplary wife and devoted mother. She was pure in life, genial and gentle in disposition, and one of our most honored and respected citizens. Her departure has created a vacancy in the family which time cannot fill. How sad to think that a modest, gentle and unassuming lady, who only a few days ago was so jovial, now lies cold in death's embrace. She was attended in her last moments by her beloved pastor, Rev. S. T. Phelan, who administered to her the last rites of the Holy Roman Catholic Church. She leaves behind her a disconsolate husband, one son and five daughters to mourn their irreparable loss, besides a large circle of grandchildren. May her soul rest in peace.

'Tis not the tear at this moment shed,
When the cold turf has been laid o'er her,
That can tell how beloved was the friend that's fled.
Or how deep in our hearts we deplore her.

'Tis the tear through many a long year wept,
'Tis life's whole path o'ershaded;
'Tis the one remembrance kindly kept',
When all lighter griefs have faded.
