Lesage Feels Western Tour Has Accomplished Purpose

By G REAADRLARIE

REGINA (CP)—Quebec Premier Jean Lesage feels he is accomplishing the main purpose of his current tour of Western Canada—to make English-Canadians think.

"Everywhere I go, they tell me I am thought-provoking," the premier has remarked at a number of press conferences in Western cities.

"That is the principal aim of my good-will tour—to provoke thought, to make English Canada react.

"I think I am succeeding."

Observers who followed Mr. Lesage's tour have noticed however, that his reception on the prairie has not been as warm as in British Columbia.

A Regina reporter gave an indication of a possible reason for this during the premier's press conference Thursday. "The majority of people here favor a strong central government," the reporter said in leading up to a question he wanted to put to Mr. esage.

During his tour, the Quebec premier has always stressed the powers of the provinces. A strong Quebec, he says, would be better able to support ties across Canada.

HOD SIMILAR VIEW

It is common knowledge that British Columbia too has been stressing provincial priorities recently and this may account for the enthusiastic reception that province gave Mr. Lesage.

In Calgary, a number of businessmen and lawyers addressed by the premier remarked later that his speech was "to abstract" and that "he repeated platitudes."

Mr. Lesage apparently took note of the comments. Since his visit to Calgary a week ago, he has sprinkled his speeches with everyday illustrations to make sure he is getting across to his English-speaking audiences.

His reception among French-language groups—in Saskatoon, in Maillardville, B.C., and Edmonton—has always been enthusiastic.

In Regina Thursday, he was warmly applauded by an English-speaking audience of about 250. An elderly woman added later to a reporter sitting at the same table: "You see, they listened. But a lot of people here are not with him."

Earlier, the premier walked three blocks to visit Regina Mayor H. P. Baker, and no one on the street appeared to recognize him.

Mr. Lesage, now on his way back to Quebec, left Regina Thursday night for Winnipeg where he is to spend four days.

249 Ships Lost, Lloyds Reports

LONDON (AP)—The world in 1964 lost 249 ships totalling 558,200 tons — foundered, burned, wrecked, missing or sunk after collisions, Lloyds register of shipping reported here. The greatest loss under one flag was 101,347 tons in 15 Liberian vessels.

Refugees Face Starvation

MUZAFFARABAD, Azad Kashmir (Reuters) — Officials here said Wednesday 50,000 people were facing starvation in an isolated valley because food cannot be taken to them along a narrow mountain road shelled by the Indians.

They said the road to the Meelam (Blue Sapphire) Valley, north of Muzaffarabad, capital of Azad (Pakistan) Kashmir—was heavily damaged by shelling in the last year.

Food carriers with 80-pound bundles on their heads have been sent to the valley, where food is needed to supplement a thin harvest. They have to cross 8,000-foot passes on which the first snows will soon gather.

The officials said feeding and clothing thousands of refugees in five areas of Azad Kashmir is a big problem.

International Red Cross and United Nations Children's Fund officials are helping to alleviate the plight of 1,000 refugees from Indian Kashmir who have streamed into a camp of stone huts 18 miles from Muzaffarabad.

The refugees have trudged along river and forest tracks from their homes as far as 60 miles to the camp, flanked by fir-clad mountains in one of the world's most beautiful and remote valleys.

Sexual Problems Are Big Worry

VINELAND, Ont. (CP)—Sexual problems are the most common worries expressed by both men and women who ask physicians for marital counselling, an American doctor said here.

Dr. Edwin Dunlop said fear of pregnancy is the second most frequent concern among women, while financial worries rank second among men.

Dr. Dunlop, director of the Fuller Memorial Foundation, Attleboro, Mass., was addressing the annual meeting of the Ontario chapter of the College of General Practice of Canada.

He said affection—too much or too little—from the spouse is the third most common problem for both men and women.

Sex was a source of concern because it was the area most fraught with anxiety, guilt or shame. However, sexual maladjustments often reflected much deeper discord — usually the outgrowth of immaturity, lack of understanding, of physiological changes or changes in situation.

All these problems require time on the part of the physician, Dr. Dunlop said, and not many doctors are willing to act as marriage counsellors.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Opening lead—king of hearts.

Declarer's chief danger in many hands is an attitude of complacency when the contract appears easy to make.

Instead, declarer should be on the lookout in such hands for something unexpected to happen and take all appropriate measures possible to guard against unusual distribution of the adverse cards. The price of good dummy play is eternal vigilance.

South got to four spades and he could normally expect to take either ten or eleven tricks. When dummy came down, the contract looked cold as a mackerel. But West had doubled four spades and South failed to pay heed to the danger implicit in the double. He should have realized that there was a good chance of a 5-0 trump division.

He ruffed the heart lead and led the king of spades, West refusing the trick as East showed out. West then took the queen of spades and played the queen of hearts. Too late South became aware of his difficulties and discarded a diamond. When West then continued with a heart, overtaken with the ace, the South discarded a club.

But the ten of hearts play now fixed South's wagon beyond repair. South had to ruff, cutting his trump length to two spades while West still had three, and he had to go down one.

Declarer could have made the hand had he carefully weighed the significance of West's double. Since the only danger lay in the possibility of West's having all five trumps, South should have guarded against it.

He should have discarded a diamond on the opening heart lead, since the diamond was an eventual loser in any case. And he should likewise discard a club on the heart continuation, the purpose being to exhaust West of hearts, if possible.

He could then ruff the third heart lead and force out the ace of spades. This method of play would have earned him ten tricks — five spades, two diamonds and three clubs.
