Wedding Rings

"WELL, SAM, since the engagement ring wears so well these long eight years you bought from G. G. JURY, I accept your proposal if you promise to buy the Wedding Ring from him also. My friend Nell was married a few days ago, and you should see the beautiful ring she has, and oh, so cheap. She says Mr. G. G. JURY has a fine assortment from 14k to 18k, and he buys them from the largest dealer in Canada, and they will last a lifetime; and you know one wedding ring must do these hard times."

"Agreed, I will go and buy the ring from G. G. JURY, Watchmaker and Jeweler, Charlottetown."

ASK GOD FOR WHAT YOU WANT.

But do Not Pray Yourself Into a State of Religious Conceit. "I do not advise you to attempt to say long prayers," writes Ruth Ashmore in October Ladies' Home Journal. "Ask God for what you want, believing that you will get it, and do not pray yourself, as is possible, into a state of religious conceit. Think sometimes before you go to bed of this verse: 'Stand in awe, and sin not; commune with your own heart in your chamber, and be still. I will lay me down in peace, and take my rest; for it is Thou, Lord, only, that makest me dwell in safety.'" He does not want you to come to Him with loud wailing, but with a repentant spirit and in quietness. Be generous and ask that He give His patronage and comfort to all those who are in sorrow. Ask for the poor a competent support, a contented spirit and a hope for the treasures in the hereafter. For all that travel by sea or land freedom from perils of all kinds, and that they may reach the haven where they wish to be. For those who grieve for some who are asleep may there be given a knowledge of the goodness of God and a willingness to take up the burden of life and to carry it joyfully until the end is reached. For all those who are disconsolate actively digesting and the liver pouring out bile. You'll say you never felt better in your life. The system has been cleared of poisons by Mack's Pills, that's why. Fifty cents.

AN X RAY Snap Shot

Of your internal organization, would reveal if your back pains, congested kidneys, if your tongue is coated, disordered stomach, if your head is heavy, sluggish liver. Take another snap shot after you've used Mack's Rheumatic Pills, and note the change—the kidneys will be filtering the poisons from the system, the stomach actively digesting and the liver pouring out bile. You'll say you never felt better in your life. The system has been cleared of poisons by Mack's Pills, that's why. Fifty cents.

"Cough Chaser" will cure that hacking cough. 10c.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

A CANNON OF GOLD.

It is the Most Valuable Weapon on Earth. A cannon plated with solid gold, mounted upon a carriage of rosewood, is the unique handle of the possession of the Imperial Army of Berlin.

The outward appearance of this monster jewel is most delicate in workmanship, and is of a kind never before seen in an arm of its nature.

The cylinder is ten feet long, with a circumference of 3 feet at the mouth, and the entire barrel is strangely beautiful in its massive coat of burnished gold, chased with a delicately designed frieze work.

This singular gun, which is the most valuable on earth, was presented to the Imperial Army by the managers of the Hamburg Museum, in whose keeping the entire barrel is stored for two centuries.

Helpful Calisthenics. Here is a very simple routine which is considered most beneficial by Delia's teachers in imparting a good carriage to the body, and which has the further advantage of requiring little of one's time to carry it out.

Every morning, before you leave your bedroom, stand as close to the wall, facing it, as you can approach. Try touching the nose, the forehead and the chest to the wall while the rest of the body is quite away from it. Then preserve the very same attitude in walking about the room for a few moments. This will inevitably, if persevered in, give one a fine, upright bearing, and the right position of the body's members.

Wonderful Power. The power of imagination is amusingly illustrated in the story of an old lady who had never heard the celebrated violinist, Paganini, play, and one day obtained permission to attend a rehearsal of one of his concerts.

It so happened that Paganini did not take his violin with him to the rehearsal that day, but borrowed one from a member of the orchestra, and instead of playing as usual, kept up a kind of pizzicato accompaniment.

After the rehearsal, the old lady went up to Mr. Cooke, the musical director, and said in a burst of enthusiasm, "Oh, dear! Mr. Cooke, what a wonderful man he is! I declare I never knew what music was capable of till this morning."

"Indeed, madam, he is truly a marvelous man," assented Mr. Cooke, with a smile; "but this morning you are indebted rather to your imagination than your ears for the delightful melody that Paganini has not really played at all. He has not even touched a bow."

"Well," said the old lady, after a moment's astounded silence, recovering herself, "then all I can say is, he's even more remarkable than I thought. For if he can affect me in such a manner without playing, what should I do, how should I feel when he really did play?"

Katie's Butterflies. When Katie saw Ben's rare collection of insects, she wanted to have some of her own.

"There's lots of butterflies in our garden," she said. "Great yellow ones, with spotted wings; golden-brown ones, and scarlet stripes; and pretty white ones, which shine like silver."

The next day Katie ran into mamma's room, her little fingers tightly closed over the brown head of a splendid specimen. Her blue eyes were full of hope.

"Oh-h-h! I can never do it, mamma. I never can. See it squirm and kick. It don't want to die, dear little thing. God gave it its life, same as he gave me mine. I don't want any frame of insects—never!" she cried, sobbing in mamma's arms. "That was the first and last butterfly that our Katie caught, and she thinks that only cruel folks can kill them."

GENTLEMEN.—The bottle of medicine given me by your agent for my wife has helped her very much. She is now able to digest her food without difficulty, has an improved appetite and the pain has left her hands and limbs to a very large extent. She shows such a decided improvement that we are very hopeful it will go to affect a cure, and will continue its use. We have all confidence that it will cure her Rheumatism.
