REVEAL PRODUCTION OF H-BOMB RELATIVELY SIMPLE

England Has Revolutionary Potato Harvesting Machine

OTTAWA, Sept. 24 — (Special) — A new potato harvester which is operated by one person and embodies revolutionary design is being manufactured by an engineering company of Bury St. Edmunds, England, and will demonstrate its capabilities on Long Island, N. Y., this autumn.

Called the Shotbolt, the harvester not only digs potatoes but washes them as well. Potatoes are dug in the normal manner of chain type diggers, and any of the standard type of digging shares may be used. Depth can be controlled by a screw adjustment while the machine is on the move.

Potatoes, clods, stones and tops come over a rod-link chain and pass through an air stream maintained by a fan on the front of the machine. The potatoes together with any stones, tops or bits of sod drop into a tank containing a suspension of earth in water with a specific gravity above that of potatoes. Hence the potatoes float and stones and sod sink to the bottom.

Potatoes are then sprayed with clean water as they travel by conveyor to a trailer drawn alongside. This cleans the potatoes and at the same time maintains correct density of the suspension in the tank. Stones and clods picked up by the machine are removed by a rod-link elevator and deposited on the ground.

As yet models of the new potato harvester have not been exported from Britain. Next year, however, models will be shipped to both Canada and the United States. Makers of the machine claim it will cover from three to three and a half acres a day and that no skimming or cutting will result on normal potatoes.

Demonstration models of the Shotbolt will probably be shipped next year to potato-growing centres in Eastern Canada and the United States.

World Chief Guide Arrives In Province

With her arms wide open, a jolly smile and wearing her Guide uniform, World Chief Guide Lady Baden-Powell (center) stepped from the airplane at Charlottetown airport at 4.30 yesterday afternoon. With her, wearing the British Guide tam, was her travelling secretary and companion, Mrs. Harold Wilkinson, Guide Commissioner of Kenya, Africa (extreme left). "Well, it is lovely and exciting to be here again!" she said after she gave a warm "hello" to the Commissioners and a guard of honor formed by the guard of honor from Queens and Kings Counties who had the highest ranks in their companies and packs. At the airport to greet her were the following commissioners and leaders: Mrs. F. Gordon Hutcheson, Miss I. Arsenault, Mrs. John Dingwell, Mrs. J. C. Sutherland, Mrs. W. J. Rodd, Miss Suzanne MacKinnon, Mrs. A. G. MacMillan, Miss Mary Whiteside and Troop Leader Robert Hutcheson who chauffeured the visiting party. Lady Baden-Powell shook hands with the youngsters above, asking "Have you got a smile? Are you cold from the air—or just from excitement? Isn't it jolly nice to see you? How did you get here—did you have to walk?" The World Guide and Brownie above are seen shaking left hands in traditional manner. (Photo by Del)

Under the will of the late Mrs. Patricia Meyer MacMillan, admitted to probate at Dayton, Ohio on Wednesday, an outright gift of $25,000 was left her niece, Miss Elizabeth MacMillan, former Supervisor of Women's Institutes in this Province and now Dean of Household Economics at Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S. Miss MacMillan left here 15 years ago to supervise the Jubilee Guilds in Newfoundland and later was with the Federal Department of Fisheries in Ottawa. She has been active for the past ten years.

Miss MacMillan is a sister of Mr. Gordon MacMillan, practicing lawyer in Charlottetown and Mr. Norman MacMillan on the home-stead at Albert Plains.

Mrs. Patricia Meyer MacMillan was the widow of the late John A. MacMillan, founder of the Dayton Rubber Goods Company who was born at Albert Plains, P.E. ### Mayors End Convention At Montreal

By BOB JOYCE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTRÉAL, (CP)—The federal government was told Thursday it has any money to give the provinces in exchange for powers of taxation. It is because it is taking too much for its own purposes.

"If the federal authority has subsidies to offer in exchange for powers of taxation, it is reasonable to believe that it imposes, levies and collects too much for its exclusively federal needs," Hon Yves Prevost, Quebec minister of municipal affairs told Canadian mayors.

Speaking at a luncheon given by the province in honor of United States and Canadian delegates attending the International Municipal Congress, the minister said Quebec does not regard system of federal subsidies as a substitute for a province's financial powers.

The luncheon was one of the last functions attended by the mayors. The congress, sponsored by the U. S. Conference of Mayors and the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, ended officially Wednesday night, although Mayors held a business meeting Thursday to discuss plans for the coming year and wind up their part of the convention.

New President

The Canadian delegates elected Mayor Donald H. Mackay of Calgary, president of the federation for 1954-55 to succeed J. O. Aase.

Sixth Hurricane Of Season Reported

MIAMI, Fla., (AP)—The sixth hurricane of the season sprang up in the Caribbean sea and headed through the Yucatan channel at the western tip of Cuba Thursday, gaining in force as it approached the Gulf of Mexico.

The storm, named Florence for the sixth letter of the alphabet, was moving west-northwestward at 20 miles an hour.

Lady Baden-Powell Stresses Great Work Of Guide Movement

"Friendship, understanding and goodwill are the things the world is crying out for—more than ever before," said Lady Baden-Powell, beloved World Chief Guide, at a banquet last night in the Charlottetown Hotel, given in her honor by the Provincial Girl Guide Association. "Lady B.-P.", as she is affectionately known, arrived late Thursday afternoon by plane for her third visit to the Province.

"And so the practice of Girl Guiding is greatly needed today to give high-minded and glorious service to the world," she said to the audience of more than 70 Commissioners, Guides and Guide-mothers. "There has never been anything like the Guide and Scout Movement in the world and when the appeal and challenge is before youth, they respond in helping to create a great world friendship."

Messages of welcome were given by Lieutenant Governor T. W. L. Prowse who said that Girl Guiding had been carried on for 45 years through an ideal and that the movement is a stabilizing factor for peace and understanding. Hon. E. Cullen, minister of Industry and Natural Resources, who felt that P. E. I. has never had a visitor whose work is so well known to Island people; and Mr. E. Johnston, on behalf of the mayor, extended the world guide an invitation to return again soon.

At the head table were the Lieut. Governor and Mrs. Prowse; Hon. Mr. Cullen and Mrs. Cullen; Mr. and Mrs. Johnston; Lady Baden-Powell and her secretary, Mrs. Harold Wilkinson, Guide Commissioner of Kenya, Africa; Provincial Commissioner Mrs. F. Gordon Hutcheson, who was chairman, and Charlottetown District Scout Commissioner Dr. George Fisher and Mrs. Fisher.

Lady Baden-Powell is paying her third visit to this Island. The first one was made in 1937 with her husband, the late Lord Baden-Powell who founded the Scout Movement and the second, seven years ago. She has been in Guide work ever since her marriage to Lord B.-P. in 1912 and in 1957 she hopes to celebrate 40 years as Chief World Guide and the 40th anniversary of the Girl Guide Movement.

This jolly, warm-hearted woman paid tribute to the pioneers of Island Guide work who laid the foundation for those who are going ahead now. She said it was stirring for her to be amongst the Island youth who were so eager in their response.

Lady Baden-Powell told the audience that even in places of turmoil, such as Greece and the Philippines, the Guide and Scout movements are filling an important part.

Still No Sign Of End Of Liver Epidemic At Digby

DIGBY, N. S., (CP) — There still is no sign of a drop in the epidemic of hepatitis, a stubborn liver illness, which has hit about 1,000 persons in this Bay of Fundy town since June.

Although the epidemic has been widespread, it has not affected business except that a few persons have been admitted to hospital and a few others confined to bed for five to seven days.

Yanks Withdraw Offer For Russian MiG-15 Jets

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The price of Russia's renowned jet fighter the MiG-15, has fallen from $50,000 to zero on the American market.

Gen. Mark Clark's Far East command said Thursday it was withdrawing its offer to pay $50,000 to any Red pilot who delivers a Russian-built jet into the hands of United Nations forces in Korea.

At the same time the United States offered to return to its "rightful owner" the MiG-15 flown to an American air base in South Korea last week by a young North Korean pilot.

Some officials here said the enemy aircraft was an old type from which aviation experts could learn little. It is known that the Communists have developed an advanced model jet known as the MiG-17.

The reward for the delivery of MiGs has been withdrawn "during this period of armistice discussions." This seemed to indicate it would be reinstated if hostilities were resumed, although there was no official statement to that effect.

Pentagon sources suggested the armistice also entered into the offer to return the MiG surrendered in South Korea.

Even Small Nations Can Have Supply

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON, (AP)—The dread hydrogen bomb may turn out to be so cheap and simple that almost any country will be able to produce an arsenal of them in a few years.

That word seeped out Thursday as President Eisenhower met in a three-hour session with his national security council, the commanders and civilian chiefs of the armed forces, and a committee of advisers on defence of the North American continent.

No information was released as to what took place. The extraordinary nature of the session was attested by the fact that more than twice the usual number attended.

Of primary concern, obviously, was Russia's position in the atomic arms race, and United States ability to unleash retaliatory action if the Soviet Union should start war with hydrogen bombs.

But it was the amazing progress in development of H-bombs for the American arsenal that stirred alarm.

"Cheap" Bombs

Nuclear scientists are on the track of methods for making and exploding hydrogen weapons so simplified and so relatively cheap that any nation with a moderate

New Plowing Champion

The new plowing champion of Prince Edward Island, Stanley Willis of Cornwall is shown sitting on his tractor yesterday immediately before he commenced plowing in the championship event at the Provincial Plowing Match in Dundas.

Willis, a Cornwall farmer, beat out a field of fifteen competitors, as he gave a plowing demonstration which brought high praise from the judge, W. W. Baird, retired Superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Farm at Nappan, N. S.

Large Chinese Delegation To Visit Korea

TOKYO, (AP)—Red China's People's radio said Thursday night a 4,000-member Chinese delegation headed by a senior general and including Red army personnel will visit Korea soon.

There was no comment from Allied authorities as to whether the entry of Communist Chinese army personnel would be considered a violation of armistice terms, which specify that neither side can bring in military personnel other than replacements.

The broadcast, heard here, said the delegation would be headed by Gen. Ho Lung and would include representatives of "various democratic parties, peoples organizations, national minorities, the peoples liberation army, model workers and peasants."

Cornwall Man Winner Of P. E. I. Plowing Championship

Stanley Willis of Cornwall won the Prince Edward Island Plowing Championship yesterday by defeating a field of fifteen contestants in the Provincial Plowing Match at Dundas.

Willis plowed what judge W. W. Baird termed an ideal crown and uniform finish to win the coveted title. With it goes the first prize of $70 and an expenses paid trip to compete in the Dominion Plowing Match at Toronto this fall.

The newly crowned champion has not yet decided whether or not he will compete in Toronto.

Glen Morrissey of Cherry Valley, 18-year-old Prince of Wales College student and last year's Island champion was runner-up. Morrissey turned in another great piece of work yesterday and judge Baird afterwards stated that the competition between the two leaders was very close.

For Willis, who has competed in the Provincial Match for a number of years, this is his first Island championship. He won his way to the championship class by winning the two-sod tractor event on Wednesday.

Stirling Moore of Pownal placed third in the championship competitions yesterday. Moore earned the distinction of plowing the straightest furrow.

Edward Wood of Pownal, Miss Florence Matheson of Albion Cross and Donald Smith of Pownal rounded out the other high placings in the big event.

Miss Matheson, winner of the tractor class for ladies, was the first woman ever to compete for the Island championship. Her work brought favorable praise from the judge and other competent critics.

In speaking about the newly crowned champion's plowing, judge Baird stated that his crown was ideal and that he had a great second round. Mr. Baird stated that the gradual slope of his furrows gave him a finish that was hard to beat.

Mr. Baird, who has been the judge at the Provincial Plowing Match since 1947.

Abandon Search For Missing Plane

HALIFAX, (CP)—RCAF Maritime air command announced Thursday night the search for a Mont Laurier Airways plane missing in northern Quebec since Aug. 15 has been discontinued.

The plane carrying seven men disappeared on a flight from Fort Chimo, near Ungava Bay, to Roberval, 100 miles north of Quebec City.

The air force said more than 166,000 square miles along the missing Norseman's route was searched from the air without revealing a clue.

Eight aircraft searched Wednesday and three Thursday in a last effort spurred by reports of faint radio signals that might have come from the lost plane. They found nothing.

The search originally ended Sept. 12 but was resumed after the radio signals were picked up last week.

Hopes Toronto Will Come In On Defence Program

OTTAWA, (CP)—Health Minister Martin says he "still" hopes an education civil defence convoy will visit Toronto during its trans-continental tour.

Mr. Martin, whose department is responsible for the national civil defence effort, expressed disappointment that Toronto had turned down a visit by the convoy which has been designated "Operation On Guard Canada."

"But," he said in an interview, "I'm still hoping that mutual arrangements will be effected to make such a visit possible. We are working on this now."

Toronto is the only major city in Canada not listed on the convoy's itinerary. City officials said they did not consider the expense entitled would justify a visit.

Mr. Martin asked what he thought Toronto's civil defence role should be, recalled what he had said in a Commons debate last May:

"Our civil defence plan is modelled on that of the United Kingdom where emphasis is laid upon the important part, the all-important part, that must be taken by local bodies.

"A civil defence organization is incapable of successful action unless on the local level there is the greatest of interest, co-operation and contribution."

Mr. Martin declined to elaborate, beyond saying his department provided Toronto with 35 sirens which have not been installed yet.

It was learned that the civil defence budget of Montreal is $200,000. Toronto's was said to be about $100,000.

Discussing civil defence in general, Mr. Martin said: "There is a widespread conviction that the federal government should provide all the money. We don't agree. We feel that if we did, we would not get the kind of co-operation we need."

HALIFAX, (CP)—The Weather Office here says an area of high pressure is passing eastward across the district. In its wake increasing south westerly winds will bring warmer air to all regions. Temperatures will be 10 to 15 degrees higher in many localities Friday.

Cooler air is again spreading southward across Hudson Bay and its approach is expected to cause showers over eastern Quebec late Friday.
