*BRUSH FIRE EXTINGUISHED - The heavy downpour of rain on Monday night completed what it was almost impossible for fire fighters to do in putting out the underground peat fire which has been burning in Brudenell for the past week. Several times it was believed that the fire had been stopted, only to have it break out in a new place, and then race along the windrows of dead brush to start in a new location. For the second time this summer the home of Mr. Tom Cameron in Brudenell has been threatened, and for the second time a disastrous burning of the woods to the east of the house, as happened in the past, has been averted. It is hoped that those who enter the bush will use some caution to prevent a repetition of these forest fires, since one careless action can burn out many homes, and considerable forest land.

*IS RECOVERING - His many friends will be glad to learn that Johnny Anstie is recovering satisfactorily following the accident on the St. Peter's highway in which he was injured. It is understood that the truck which he was driving overturned in a ditch into which he drove it in order to avoid collision with a car which unexpectedly cut across the road to enter a side road. Mr. Anstie's father-in-law was taken to the Charlottetown Hospital suffering from shock, while young Mr. Anstie suffered severe cuts from windshield glass.

The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Robert Bryan. The hymns sung were "In the Sweet By and By" and "The Shepherd's Psalm." A solo, "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go" was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Ralph Beck. The pallbearers were R. W. Beck, M. F. MacDonald, H. G. Myers, William Annear, Guy Nelson, and Henry MacLaren. Interment was in the Montague cemetery.

ning me crazy using my phone. If I am listening to a program on my radio I have to shut it off while they phone. If I am in the bathtub, I have to jump out and drip water all over my house waiting for somebody to use my phone. What can I do to rid myself of this nuisance?

ANSWER: The answer to that is easy. Put in a pay telephone yourself. When your neighbors find out that it costs them a nickel at your house, they will go to the store or the oil station.

At any rate, there is no sense in your running a free telephone both and having your peace and comfort destroyed by your deadbeat neighbors, and you are foolish to put up with the imposition. Neighbors can be a great comfort to you, but they can also be the greatest nuisance on earth, and there are not many of us who have not known what it was to have a borrowing neighbor who was always running in for a cup of sugar or a few eggs or the daily paper or your new hat.

How to abate these nuisances without making mortal enemies is one of the great problems of social life.

DEAR MISS DIX: We are both 20 and so hopelessly in love, but there will be years and years before we can possibly marry because the boy is the sole support of his mother, who is a widow. He also is doing work now that will eventually enable him to start taking up a profession. But the future is so far off. The present is staring at us in every move we make. Why should we not take advantage of it without the benefit of clergy?

ANSWER: Because it is morally wrong. Because it is social suicide. Because it will take the sacredness out of your love for each other. Because it will degrade you in your sweetheart's eyes. Because marriage will do less to injure the young man's prospects than a liaison would.

If you are so desperately in love, take your courage in both hands and marry, honestly and decently. If you have a job, keep it and support yourself. It costs no more to support a couple married than single, nor to keep up a home than it does a lovenest.

DOROTHY DIX cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column.
