Wrong Serum Kills Cattle In Western Quebec

DeGaulle Inches Steadily Nearer To Control In France

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle inched steadily nearer control in France Sunday with the Socialist party—and the Communists, of course—fighting a serious and rather skillful battle against him. Despite his gains, de Gaulle has not won the war. It still is possible that he may not win it. "The Socialists are not going to give way before him," said an important spokesman. Yet it remains just possible that this week may see de Gaulle called in. And if he is, it is more than possible the country may see tough fighting in the streets of the big cities, Paris among them. This is no longer the silly and somewhat superficial battle that has continued in the National Assembly for a dozen years, seeing one premier go out and another in, with nothing much involved in all too many instances.

Leavenworth, Kan., professed his love for Kim to a television audience before he left. Red Chinese Gov't Praises Achievements In Tibet

By JACK GEE PEIPING (Reuters)—The Communist Chinese government Saturday praised achievements in Tibet to mark the seventh anniversary of its annexation to China. Peiping's newspapers and radio extolled the advent of electricity to homes formerly lit by yak butter lamps, the construction of a 4,000-mile network of roads, factories and hospitals and the opening of an air link with China. The Dalai Lama, Tibet's spiritual leader, in a message to Chinese chief of state Mao Tse-tung on behalf of the 1,200,000 Buddhist population, said "Tibet has made appreciable achievements in political, economic and cultural fields thanks to the correct leadership of the Chinese Communist party, yourself and the Chinese government." The present union of China and Tibet follows 50 years of intrigues and manoeuvres during which Tibet's monks and nobles sided in turn with British, Russians and even Chinese to maintain their independence. The Western world has had to take entirely on trust the Chinese account of the events during the last seven years in the world's loftiest land where farmers till ground at 12,000 feet and trade routes lead over passes 16,000 feet high. The Peiping government has carefully admitted only Communist diplomats, officials and journalists who would be certain to confine their reports to aspects of Tibetan life which would stand to credit of Tibet's new rulers. In 1956, only one year after the government began to set up a Tibetan autonomous region, it was announced that most of the Chinese officials working there would be withdrawn although the army remained. Last year Mao said that Tibet would not be ripe for communism until at least 1962. The main problems of the government appear to be the vested spiritual interests of the lamas and the Tibetan's historical dislike for the Chinese which Peiping prefers to call "local chauvinism."

THOUGHTS FOR OUR TIME BY HIS EMINENCE CARDINAL McGUIGAN

INSPIRATION IS NEEDED FOR YOUTH OF TODAY What is referred to nowadays as the "teen-age problem" is really nothing new in the history of man. Youth has always been rebellious to some extent, and no doubt always will be. Because the world is constantly changing, young people will always have a slightly different outlook on life from that of their parents. This is a truism, of course; we might even call it a "law" of nature. And it is far from being a bad thing. Youth is always to the fore when changes have to be made. Whenever revolutions have been fought, whenever some cause has needed defending, whenever fundamental rights and freedoms have been endangered by oppression, there has never been any lack of young recruits in the front ranks of the battle. The recent abortive revolution in Hungary is a case in point. It would be a hard heart indeed which could fail to be touched by the pictures in the daily press of the youthful Hungarian revolutionaries—some of them barely in their teens—awaiting the invasion of the Russian tanks. Here was youth showing itself ready to face death for the things it believed in. But falling a worthwhile cause, youth is as it were, thrown back on itself. When society fails to provide goals for their idealism, young people not unreasonably begin to feel that society itself is at fault. This might account for the present trend toward what can only be called nihilism. SENSELESS VIOLENCE So much of the teen-age problem in North America is characterized by sheer senseless violence. Our newspapers are full of stories about gang wars and individual acts of brutality by youths, which seems to be the ordinary citizen completely inexplicable. The act of violence in many of these incidents is done purely for its own sake—without hope of

A C.G.I.T. Banquet Is Enjoyed At Crapaud

A delightful banquet was held in the Institute room at Crapaud Hall on Wednesday evening, May 14th, when the United Church C.G.I.T., with their mother's leader and invited guests, which among others, included the teen-age boys of the church were served a bounteous supper by several members of the W.M.S. auxiliary. Several clever and humorous toasts were proposed which included the Queen, proposed by the leader, Mrs. John Simmons. The mothers proposed by Judy Sturdy and responded to by Mrs. Harold Harvey. Dr. P.M. McDonald, organist and choir director, proposed by Helen Harvey and responded to with some fitting remarks and a jolly sing song. Our teachers and Sunday school teachers proposed by Beatrice McLeod and responded to by Miss Christine McLeod. Mrs. Ralph Myers proposed a toast to the girls which was responded to by the president, Carol McLeure, who gave a brief report of the year's progress. A toast to the church was proposed by Kathryn Myers and responded to by Rev. D. C. Earle. Catechism and memory work certificates were presented to the girls by the Sunday School Supt. William Waddell. A vote of thanks on behalf of the Senior Sunday School class was extended by Jackie Myers to the girls and their leader. The closing worship service led by the girls was on the theme "At Home—Go Be In My Heart". It included a poem read by Judy McLeure, a story read by Beatrice McLeod and Helen Harvey, scripture by Marilyn Sturdy, prayer by Jean Dingwell, hymn, "Happy the Home When God is There," and benediction pronounced by Rev. D.C. Earle.

Soviet People Want Butter But Steel Still Comes First

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Soviet-bloc nations want more butter, but steel still comes first. Analysis of a 1,200-word communique issued Saturday night by Russia and the Communist countries of East Europe indicates their leaders' urgent desire to raise the level of consumer goods production by wider use of automation. The communique was issued after Russian and East European Communist and government chiefs met here as members of the mutual economic assistance council. The four-day session ended Saturday. The need for common-sense planning and close economic cooperation would be particularly vital, observers said, if the East bloc now launches the big program of buying Western products suggested recently by Soviet Premier Khrushchev. HOPE TO BEAT U.S. The communique reflected Russia's avowed intention to catch up and pass the United States in per capita industrial production. Although Red China is not a member of the council, it agreed to co-ordinate its national plans with council programs, the communique said. The communique also said the meeting considered ways of meshing economies so that some bloc members will specialize in certain industries and avoid competing with others. It did not mention such political issues as Yugoslav President Tito's defiance of Moscow's claim to direct ideology and practice. The political issues were expected to be explored in the political committee meeting that

R.A. HARRIS

The appointment of Mr. Roland A. Harris, O.B.E., as Executive Vice-President of Canada Cycle and Motor Company, Limited, is announced by Mr. M.P. Jolley, President of Russell Industries Limited. Mr. Harris was born in Toronto and educated at U.T.S. and the University of Toronto. Previous to his new appointment he was President of Walker Stores Limited and Vice-President of Gordon MacKay and Company Limited. He has also been active in many public services and is Immediate Past-President of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce. At the recent annual meeting of Canada Cycle and Motor Company Limited, Mr. G.S. Braden retired as President after having been associated with the Company for more than fifty years. Mr. Braden was succeeded as President by Mr. M.P. Jolley, who is also President of the holding company, Russell Industries Limited. De Gaulle's latest gain came through a visit to his home by former premier Antoine Pinay. Pinay is liked and respected by many and disliked and despised by others. Political life is that way. But his action seems to have been motivated by a real belief that only de Gaulle can bring an end quickly to the uprising of army officers and colonials in Algeria. Pinay is no Gaullist. In times past he has indicated he has no great respect for the statesmanship of the general. He simply asked the general whether he would be prepared to meet a representative of the present government of Pierre Pflimlin to see whether de Gaulle's aid could be had in quelling Algeria. De Gaulle said he was willing, but apparently didn't spell out his terms. There were many ready to believe he wouldn't try to help unless he had the power. That would mean the premiership. The move in a sense put the

RCN Reserve Pilot Killed

FONTHILL, Ont. (CP) — A Royal Canadian Navy reserve pilot was killed Sunday when a Grumman Avenger aircraft crashed in flames one mile east of here. The plane hit the ground within 15 feet of the home of Lloyd Burton on Highway 20, seven miles west of Niagara Falls and caused a 10-foot deep crater. Parts of the wreckage were found scattered over a three-mile area. Mr. Burton said the plane swooped in a low level, banked around his barn and crashed. The plane was stationed at Downsview Airport, Toronto. Officials there said identification would be withheld pending notification of the pilot's parents, believed to be holidaying in Northern Ireland.

EXEMPTS JAPAN

TOKYO (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev has declared Japan would be exempt from nuclear attack in the event of war if there were no American bases on Japanese territory. A letter from the Soviet premier to Japan's huge Sojyo federation of labor unions said that "the Soviet Union has absolutely no plans to attack any country."
