HORRIBLE TRAFFIC OF THE SOUDAN SLAVE RAIDERS.

Captured Women Belong to the Fighting Mahdists—Slave Markets in all the Cities of Morocco—Dreadful News That Never Reaches the Outside World.

Those persons who take a philanthropic interest in the affairs of other nations are deeply excited just now by the tales brought from Morocco by Englishmen who have been traveling about the domain of the young Sultan Abdul Aziz. It seems that slave dealers are more active among the Moors now than for many years past, and some attribute the increase of the traffic to the disturbances in the Sudan, where the Anglo-Egyptian troops are now waging war against the Mahdists.

Nearly all of the slaves sold in Morocco are stolen from the tribes which infest the Sudan, and of these slaves 90 per cent. are young girls, ranging in age from eight years to 25 years.

The explanation of this is that the men of the tribes are away fighting under the banner of the Mahdi, leaving the women unprotected against the raids of the slave dealers.

The latter, from all accounts, are taking full advantage of the unfortunate condition of affairs, and owing to the abundant supply, slaves are now selling in the principal cities of Morocco at cheaper prices than ever before.

An unattractive woman of 24 or 25 years can now be bought for the Moorish equivalent of $35, but a handsome little girl of 9 or 10 brings as high as $80.

The Sudan women of the Sudan mature very early, and are old at 30. Children of 9 or 10 are as well developed as the average girl of 15 or 16. The Sudanese woman is quite black and ungainly in appearance, with all the familiar characteristics of the African negro.

Slavery is officially recognized in Morocco, and in each of the large cities there is a special slave market, where the wares of the dealers are sold at auction at regular intervals. These sales are always conducted with great decorum, but the dealers resort to many tricks to get big prices for their unfortunate victims.

Bulletins are posted in the market giving particulars of the next sale, and these are closely studied in advance by prospective buyers.

The slave market at Fez is one of the most important in the kingdom of Morocco. It is situated in the center of the city, being nothing more than a large open square, surrounded by a kind of arcade in which the buyers and speculators sit. On one side of the open square is a magnificent mosque, a fine type of Moorish architecture, and many of the people who come to the sale first visit the mosque and send up a prayer to Allah.

The slave sales invariably take place in the evening, for the purpose of concealing in the dim light any imperfections which the unfortunates may possess. During the sale the slaves are kept together in one of the recesses of the arcade. They are always surrounded by a group of men—prospective buyers—who look them over as a woman inspects household furniture at an auction sale.

The average age of the slave girls is about 14 years, but the raiders do not scruple to steal children who would almost be considered babies in other countries. The dealers, who in most cases are impostors, fine-looking men, watch over their victims carefully until they are sold, feeding them generously and trying to make them contented, so that they will present an agreeable appearance when placed before the bidders.

The slaves are led out separately by the dealer, who in their many advantages in Arabic. The usual dress of the slave is a single garment of calico. The dealer marches her around in the ring of open space while the bidders raise one another. When there is no possibility of getting a higher bid the girl is handed to the purchaser, the money is paid over, and the next slave is brought out to go through precisely the same performance.

As the auctions take place every few days, there are not many slaves put up at one sale: 12 or 15 is the average number, but in some cases, where an exceptionally fruitful raid has been made, the number runs as high as 50 or 60. Abdul Aziz, the young Sultan, who looks 10 years older than he really is, encourages the slave traffic, but he is very jealous of the details concerning it reaching European ears.

Most of the cities of Morocco are well supplied with slaves. The MINISTER FOR THE SECRETARY HAS SUCCESSFULLY USED DR. AGNEW'S CATARRH POWDER PERSONALLY AND IN HIS FAMILY.

Mr. J. F. Jenkins, private secretary to Hon. Geo. E. Foster, Minister of Finance, has found in Dr. Agnew's Catarrh Powder a successful remedy for the removal of catarrhal troubles. He has not confined its use to himself, but states that it has been used by the most pleasing and successful results by other members of his family.

One short puff of the breath through the blower, supplied with each bottle of Dr. Agnew's Catarrh Powder, diffuses this powder's fine surface of the nasal passages. Painful and delightful to relieve in ten minutes, and permanently cures Catarrh, Hay Fever, Colds, Headaches, Sore Throat, Tonsillitis and Deafness. For sale at Dodd's Medical Hall.

The old-fashioned copper cent was authorized by act of Congress, April 22, 1792, and its coinage was begun the following year.

Build Up. When the system is run down a person can be built up by taking Scott's Emulsion. Many valuable lives are saved by using Scott's Emulsion as soon as a decline in health is observed.

protected against tourists, says the Boston Post, for the reason that the whole country is overrun by companies of brigands. To make a safe journey to the interior it is necessary to be accompanied by a formidable caravan, and the average tourist cannot afford the expense. These brigands are resisters of no one. They would as soon attack the Sultan as anyone else, providing there was a chance of overcoming his escort. The inland cities are, therefore, well protected against the prying eyes of Europeans, and news of the happenings there seldom reaches the outer world.

It is known, however, that ever since his accession to the throne Sultan Abdul Aziz has been busily engaged cutting off the heads of his male relatives as a means of effectually squelching all ambitions they might have to reign in his stead. Five hundred years ago one of the Sultans of Turkey discovered that the Koran permitted the killing of all male relatives of royalty, together with their harems and the progeny of the harems, and the young Sultan of Morocco has taken full advantage of this precedent.

The young Sultan has a greater number of wives than any other of the Oriental potentates. The Sultan of Turkey is credited with 1,000, but the Sultan of Morocco is said to have 1,200. When any of the slave dealers capture an exceptionally handsome girl she is at once sent to the imperial palace, and if she is deemed fitting for a place in the harem the recompense of the slaver is large. All of the courtiers and royal parasites attempt to imitate the Sultan in the size of their harems, and the merchants imitate the courtiers. The ceaseless raids in the Sudan more than meet the demand, which is now larger than at any time in the history of the ancient country.

THE "BIG" FOUR. A Quartette of Remedies that are Effortless Wonders of Cure.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, Dr. Chase's Ointment, Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure, and Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limes and Tartaric, his latest and greatest discovery for all throat and lung affections.

"I was sick for three years," says James Simpson, of Newton Mills. "I tried various alleged patent cures and several boxes of a certain pill which has been greatly cracked up. I got no relief. Then I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Since, I have been able to work every day and feel like a new man. The pills alone cured me at a cost of 25c."

"I have been subject to severe colds every fall and spring," says Miss Hatfield, of 174 Crawford street, Toronto. "I used many cough medicines, but none cured me until a cup of 25 cents I tried Dr. Chase's Syrup of Limes and Tartaric."

"My husband was troubled with the worst kind of piles," writes Mrs. Jane Poole, of Mevengrove, Ontario. "Since using your Chase's Ointment he is completely cured. It is truly worth its weight in gold instead of the price you charge, only 40 cents."

"I bought a box of your Catarrh Cure for 25 cents at Mr. Boyle's drug store here," says Henry E. Nicholas, of 776 Rectory street, London, Ont. "I am thankful to say it cured me."

Chase's remedies at all dealers. Ed-mund Bates & Co., managers, Toronto.

The government dairy station at Prince Albert turned out 27,108 pounds of butter this season and Indian Head 32,322. In two or three years Prof. Robertson hopes the Territories will be shipping butter in tin packages to the far east.

Completely Knocked Out. "I was so much run down I had to give up work, and I felt as if life was not worth living," writes Wm. W. Thompson, Zephyr, Ont. "I took Scott's Saraparilla and am now feeling as if I did years ago."

Scott's Saraparilla tones up the entire system, purifies the blood, eradicates rheumatic and scrofulous poisons. Ask for Scott's or get it.

S. H. Crosby, of Halifax, writes to the Minister of Trade and Commerce, urging a permanent exhibit of minerals and products of Canada in England. He also suggests having in connection with the same a bureau of information for intending emigrants to Canada and a list of some of the farms for sale in the dominion.

25 cents cures Catarrhal Headache, "Incipient Catarrh," "Hay Fever," "Catarrhal Deafness," "Cold in the head in 10 min.," "Foul breath caused by catarrh." 25 cents secures Chase's Catarrh Cure with perfect blower enclosed in each box. Sold by all dealers.

A despatch to the London Times from New York gives as the correspondent's impression, gained from an interview with Mr. McKinley, that he did not seem to regard a new tariff as a new barrier to American industry, and that he did not appear to be animated by hostility toward England.

Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Chase's Pills have gained popularity because they are a specific for the uric acid condition, prevent Bright's disease, cure Rheumatism and all Catarrhal conditions of the Kidneys and Bladder. They do this because they possess remarkable alterative, tonic and diuretic properties, exerting a wonderfully soothing influence on irritated or inflamed mucous membrane of the kidneys or bladder. One pill a dose. 25 a box. The cheapest medicine in the world.

Angels' Wings. A German scientist, after making a careful scrutiny of the works of the old masters, has announced that they invariably painted the wings of angels in the wrong place, Rubens, Raphael, Caravaggio and Michael Angelo, he says, were ignorant of the elemental principles of science, and simply made fools of themselves by painting angels' wings at the shoulder blades.

Nature, says this critic, has placed the wings in all creatures that fly exactly at the center of gravity. This is obviously the right place for them, and nature never made a mistake.

But now an examination of the old masters shows that the center of gravity in all of their figures is far below where the wings of the angels have been placed. The wings ought properly, says this German, to have been situated about the waist, and that otherwise they look absurd, as to fly with wings from the shoulder, where the old masters placed them, is a physical impossibility.

After a Record. "Strange," said the man with the strong cigar, absent-mindedly. "What's strange?" asked the man with the meerschaum. "I was thinking of a friend of mine who claims to have found an absolutely perfect fountain pen."

"Always writes, never dips ink and never gets out of order." "That's what he says." "The man with the meerschaum pipe shook his head. "What do you think of it?" he asked. "I hardly know what to think of it. He's joined no lions' club that I know of, and yet everything indicates that he is working for a record."—Chicago Post.

One Reason. "Jacques, how is it that you never bring any good marks home from school?" "Oh, papa, there are such a lot of us that when my time comes there are none left."

At times my suffering was intense, and medicine did not do good. At last a friend assured me that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure me. A few boxes have kept that promise, and I thank these pills for a perfect and I believe permanent cure."
