I. O. G. T.

RECEPTION OF THE DELEGATE TO WASHINGTON.

J. C. Underhay, Esq., representing the order of Good Templars in Prince Edward Island at the thirtieth session of the Right Worthy Grand Lodge of the World at Washington, D. C., arrived in St. John, N. B., on the 5th, and was the guest of Jacob R. Pidgeon. Mr. Underhay expected to be accompanied on his return by P. J. Chisholm, of Truro, the newly elected R. W. G. Marshal of the order, but that gentleman in consequence of indisposition, remained over a day in Boston, to the great disappointment of numerous friends, who proposed to testify their respect to him, as well as to Mr. Underhay, by a reception on the 5th.

At the Portland hall J. C. Underhay, G. W. C. T. of P. E. Island, was introduced by A. Y. Paterson, L. D. The hall was well filled.

Mr. Underhay addressed the assembly heartily and in a colloquial manner. He said that when he entered a lodge room he always felt at home, and for many times its cost he would not have missed his visit to Washington. He could safely say that all the enjoyment of the past three years combined would not amount to as much as he had experienced during the last fortnight. To be known as a temperance man, and especially as a Good Templar is all the past port needed to the best society in Washington. The members of the different subordinate lodges of Good Templars can form no conception of what a meeting of the Grand Worthy Lodge is like. They must see for themselves. At the meeting held in Washington some of the ablest lawyers, statesmen and jurists in the United States were present, and every question was discussed and decided on its merits. No matter however limited or small a subject may appear, the greatest care and attention is paid to it. He stated that the mission which had been entrusted to Brother Chisholm and himself had been very successfully carried out, and it was more than probable that P. R. W. G. T. Col. Hickman would visit this Province shortly, and deliver lectures on the subject of temperance and assist in organizing new lodges and reuniting those that are in a neglected condition; and if it were not possible for Col. Hickman to come here, the R. W. G. L. had passed resolutions whereby means would be supplied to the Grand Lodge of N. B. to carry out the objects which it was intended the visit of Col. Hickman should promote. He continued that one of the most touching spectacles he had ever witnessed was the march of the Juvenile Templars to the number of two hundred into the Grand Lodge Room, where they sang a number of odes. He also stated that the next meeting of the Grand Lodge will be held in Toronto next year, when he hoped to see present a large delegation from the Maritime Provinces. The delegates were received with every attention at Washington, where all the members from abroad had the honor of a personal introduction to President Arthur at the White House. Questions concerning the working of the order, said Mr. Underhay, will be submitted to all the subordinate lodges in each Province and State for discussion and their decisions, will be returned to their respective Grand Lodges, and by this means the Grand Lodge, when in session, will have before it the opinions of each subordinate lodge on these various matters and be able to reach more satisfactory results. It is also stated this will create in each lodge a greater interest in the work in hand, as each individual member will feel that he has an influence on the action of the superior body. A small money grant was made for the assistance of the brethren in Maine, in fighting the proposed modification of the Maine liquor law, as it was considered very necessary to avoid defeat in that State. It was especially desirable as Maine was the first State to adopt a prohibitory law. It has been said that the Maine law is a failure, remarked the speaker, but I can assure you it is anything but a failure. The State has its detectives placed everywhere—some of them in the lumber woods even, in the guise of workmen, for the purpose of ferreting out any illicit trade that might exist there. Prince Edward Island has adopted the Canada Temperance Act—the vote in St. John, though a defeat might be looked upon as a moral victory; when the question is again tested the act will be carried by a handsome majority. It is always harder to carry these acts in large cities than in the rural districts, but when carried where they are easier to enforce. Mr. U. expressed his regret for the absence of Mr. Chisholm, and thanked the Good Templars for their many kindnesses.

Mr. Underhay continued his remarks to considerable length, and at the close was loudly applauded.

J. R. Pidgeon, G. W. C. T., made a brief address, thanking Mr. Underhay and Mr. Chisholm for the manner in which they had advocated the interests of the order in New Brunswick at the R. W. G. L., and hoped that the time was not distant when the order here would be in a position to reciprocate.

A Pointer in Trade.

(Montreal Gazette.)

The customs receipts for May, as far as reported, are decidedly favorable, indicating a turn for the better in the consumptive demand of the country. At the following ports they were:—

1884. 1883.

Montreal $664,773 $643,119

Toronto 212,808 220,328

Hamilton 39,393 63,195

Halifax 151,928 146,328

Montreal 29,930 25,193

Total $1,128,832 $1,098,166

The increase of thirty thousand dollars in the collections at these ports, which represent about 75 or 80 per cent. of the whole, although not large in itself, derives significance from the fact that for months past the revenue has been steadily declining. An intimation of a change for the better was first given in the April return of imports, which showed a decrease from the preceding year only one half as large as in March, and considerably less than in February, and the evidence of improvement thus held out appears to be confirmed by the customs receipts in May. There is no doubt that stocks throughout the country are low, and that business will quickly spring into activity upon a revival of the consumptive demand, and the fact that importations are being conducted with great prudence gives promise that the revival is slowly coming about. The outlook has been brightened of late, too, by improving crop prospects, an abundant harvest in the Northwest, where the stagnation of trade and heavy losses of the past year and a half have been a drag on the general business of the Dominion, being assured.

CURRENT NOTES.

Mr. Bourinot, Clerk of the House of Commons, has left for Nova Scotia to attend to private affairs connected with the estate of his late father.

Investigation is being made of the alleged bribery case in the Massachusetts legislature. It is said $5,000 a piece was paid for several votes in the defeat of the water gas bill.

The Illustrated Gazette contains the following:—"To let; good accommodation in farmhouse, for family or gentlemen; healthy, pleasant spot, near Lord Beaconsfield's tomb."

A Frenchman said to a Berliner:—"Your Iron Cross, the highest Prussian order, is simply ridiculous—it has an intrinsic value of scarce five sous." The Prussian replied:—"But it has cost you two Napoleons."

Fogg says he doesn't believe it pays in the end to get your landlord to make extensive repairs. Putting new wood into an old building is like putting new cloth into an old raiment. The rent is made worse.

A young man named Randolph committed suicide by hanging himself to a small tree in the bushes near Paradise, Annapolis County, N. S., on Sunday morning. When found he had been dead for some time. He was respectfully connected, and was generally esteemed for his many good qualities. Among the causes assigned for the rash act, it is stated that he was recently disappointed in a love affair.

The will of the late Samuel W. Sweet, of Jamaica Plains, distributes $240,000 to a number of local charitable and religious institutions, including $50,000 to the Massachusetts general hospital and $10,000 to the Harvard medical school. The residue of the estate, which is estimated at $500,000 is to be divided equally between the American board of foreign missions and the Massachusetts home missionary society. The American board also gets $10,000.

Some days ago the Government steamer Canadian ran into and sank a brig in Gaspe Harbor. The brig, which was owned by a local fishery firm, was at anchor when the collision occurred. An investigation was held by Capt. Scott, R. N., when it was shown that the steamer was altogether to blame. Consequently the sailing master of the Canadian has been dismissed and the sailing master of the Druid appointed in his stead. It is probable the owners of the brig will bring an action against the Government to recover the value of their vessel.

At the meeting of the Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, at Pittsburg, Pa., on the 26th May, the report of a committee condemning the liquor traffic licensed by government and providing for the excommunication of such church members as deal in spirituous liquors and rent property to tavern keepers, was after a heated debate unanimously adopted. This is one of the highly signs of the times, that indicate how rapidly temperance and prohibition principles are taking hold of the public mind. Despite occasional reverses temperance principles are steadily marching onward.

The Chicago Tribune voices western public opinion as well as public sentiment in Canada when it says:—"The treaty conditions between the United States and Canada bearing upon the extradition of criminals are grossly defective. Nothing but indifference and neglect upon the part of the United States authorities seems to stand in the way of their improvement. The Canadian Government is represented as willing and ready to agree upon a scheme of extradition which shall provide for the return of persons accused of embezzlement, swindling and other offences not included in the existing arrangement. Canada is probably disgusted at being the Botany Bay for
