

Firm Will Aid Cigarette Ban

LONDON (Reuters) — A British tobacco firm said here it will withdraw all its public cigarette vending machines from streets and public places to help prevent children from buying cigarettes.

British law forbids the sale of cigarettes to children under 16, but outdoor slot machines make it virtually impossible to enforce.

The manufacturer will ensure that its television advertising is limited to times when children are least likely to be viewing.

The step follows a report by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons last month that cigarette smoking was a major cause of lung cancer. The report also prompted the launching of a British government campaign to cut down smoking among children.

El Morro Castle at San Juan, Puerto Rico, was built in 1539.
