Practice Sessions Resume At O'Leary

O'LEARY — O'Leary Regional Lions Band has re-commenced its practices in the O'Leary Regional High School on Wednesday nights. They were organized in January this year with some 35 boys and girls in grades five to nine from the schools in the O'Leary district participating.

It is expected that they will be giving their first concert soon either at the end of October or in the beginning of November. Joining them will be the Summerside Presbyterian Pipe Band, its vocalists and dancers.

Bandmaster Raymond Lock says that the O'Leary youngsters have made excellent progress in the few months they have been practicing. All of the band members are keen and enthusiastic.

Mr. Lock says that whereas this fall's concert will have the purpose of acquainting the O'Leary region residents with the progress of their band, it will also show the promise of future things. Next year, the band will be able to handle a variety of public engagements.

The bandmaster reports that there are many children waiting to join the band. So far, very few have fallen out and left instruments for others to take up. Mr. Lock says that this is very encouraging. However, many more would like to join the band and he himself would like to see a follow-up group, a "B" band formed. This, though, is unlikely because of the lack of instruments. Mr. Lock says that there are ways of obtaining more instruments: firstly, by interested residents donating new instruments (or the money to buy some), or second-hand ones they have at home that are lying around unused, and secondly, by the parents of present members buying new instruments for their children now that they know how well their children are progressing, and so releasing their present instruments for new band members.

Mr. Lock also hopes that a majorette corps will be formed in O'Leary in time to take part in next year's activities.

The band auxiliary, composed of parents of band members, under the guidance of chairman, Heath Woodside, and Chester MacMackin, manager of O'Leary's bank of Nova Scotia, and chairman of the O'Leary Lions Club Band Committee, are enthusiastic in their support of this special venture, and are only regretful that they didn't begin the band a year earlier, in which case it might have had the honor of taking part in Master's Edge W. The school board, principal and janitor of the O'Leary Regional High School have been very cooperative in permitting the band to use their auditorium every week.

Two of those hospitalized after the accident were released with minor injuries following examination and the third, 16-year-old Sharon Ramsay of 315 Grafton Street was held for further examination.

Strait Crossing Project Outlined At City Rotary

The estimated $148,000,000 Northumberland Strait Crossing project, scheduled for completion in 1970, was reviewed briefly during the regular Rotary luncheon in The Charlottetown Hotel Monday noon.

Ireland-born Brendan Whelan, a graduate of the University of London in engineering, who is presently manager of operations for Northumberland Consultants, gave the meeting a general outline of the crossing and the problems considered in its construction.

Mr. Whelan stated that the average depth of water in the Strait is about 60 feet; the maximum depth is an estimated 100 feet.

Drilling operations have been carried out for some time in the Northumberland Strait investigating the structure of the seabed.

PROBLEMS

Some problems mentioned were the effects the crossing would have on fisheries, which has undergone considerable study, and the occurrence of heavy ice during winter.

The caissons, which support the bridge structure, will be constructed in such a way as to deflect ice which would exert great pressures, stated Mr. Whelan who commented on the tunnel as "the most difficult part of the job."

Constructed in drydock, the 14 tunnel elements will be floated out and connected to lie on the bottom of the sea.

The tunnel itself will be ventilated and an adequate circulation of air will be maintained during the most adverse traffic conditions.

Trains will travel on the underneath deck of the crossing while automobile traffic will be accommodated on the upper portion in two lanes which can be widened to four if necessary.

Construction of the P.E.I. approach was said to be "going as well" under Matheson and MacMillan Construction Limited.

MAGIC TRICKS

Henry MacLean, known by many in MacLean's Method of handwriting, delighted Rotarians with his magic tricks during the course of the meeting. Mr. MacLean, a former Islander is the brother of Neil D. MacLean, Charlottetown.

Chairman for this week's meeting was Frank Curtis who introduced the guest speaker, President Claude Hunter remarked briefly.

Guests of Rotary, introduced by Claude Whiteneck, included: Henry MacLean, Vancouver; J. Mulligan, Charlottetown; Reginald MacLean, Charlottetown; G.A. Pelletier, Moncton; W.S. McMurry, Charlottetown; Kenneth MacKenzie, Charlottetown; Robert MacNeil, Omaha, Nebraska; Angus Avar, Atlanta, Georgia; Frank Potts, St. John's, Newfoundland; Dr. James Coupland, Ottawa.

Visiting Rotarians were Cliff Fleming, Saskatchewan; Con MacDonald, Summerside; Darrel Mills, Halifax; Norman Capper, St. John's, Newfoundland; W.B. Thompson, Fredericton; Bell May, St. John's, Newfoundland; Bell MacIntosh, Toronto.
