DR. CHASE VISITING THE SICK.

Raised from a Bed of Sickness.

Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure and Kidney-Liver Pills Combined for Perfect Health—An Interesting Cure After Long Suffering.

Simcoe, Jan. 13th, 1897.

Messrs. Edmanson, Bates, and Co., Toronto, Ont.:

Gentlemen.—For over five months I was confined to my bed, not being able to move. The best medical skill was called in, all treating me for catarrh of the stomach, but to no avail. I could not eat the most simple food without being in dreadful misery, and found no relief until same was vomited up. After spending a large sum in medical advice, I was advised to try a box of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. I said it was no use, for I considered mine a hopeless case from which I could not recover. At length I purchased a box from J. Austin and Company, Simcoe, and to my surprise found great relief. Not being able to eat I tried a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills; the pains left me the third day. My appetite has been fully restored. I consider myself perfectly cured, and feel as well as when a young woman, although I am 65 years old at present. I was almost a shadow, now I am as fleshy as before my sickness. Have used only three boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and only two boxes of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. I can do my house work as usual. I am positive that my marvellous cure (which I think it is) is due purely to Dr. Chase's remedies, which I have used. I can honestly recommend the same to any persons suffering from symptoms similar to mine, wishing you every success.

Yours, truly,
MRS. ANN CHURCHILL, Sr.

The English Inn.
The cheap place in which to live is like the typical old English inn that my American friends are continually asking me to find for them. I found it the other day, and, as the point of this incident lies entirely in its truth, I give names and addresses.
I cycled my American friend over the hills from Croydon to the little hamlet of Little Waringham, and there we ran into the courtyard of an inn named the Leather Bottle, which designation had an old world flavor that delighted the man from New York. We had there a most excellent lunch, and the charge was 18 pence instead of the usual half crown.
My friend was enthusiastic and resolved to have the innkeeper up and compliment him on the choiceness and cheapness of his viands. I begged him not to do this, as he might raise the price, and a lunch at one and six is a boon to a literary man, but my advice was unheeded. The proprietor when he came received the praise of the American calmly.
"Well," said the innkeeper, "I guess I ought to know how to set out a meal to suit one from the States. For five years I was steward on W. K. Vanderbilt's yacht. I was on her at the time she was sunk at Newport."

You may imagine the collapse of my western friend, who had flattered himself that he was several centuries away from New York and Newport.—Robert Earr in London Outlook.

How to Win on a Toss.

Spinning a silver dollar and then guessing heads or tails is a favorite medium for small wagers among the crowd in the alley behind the Cotton Exchange. The other day a young broker mystified everybody by producing a coin that invariably settled down heads up no matter who did the spinning. It was some little time before this peculiarity was observed, and then there was a general demand for the secret. Some suggested that the piece was loaded, which was scouted as a self evident impossibility, and close scrutiny failed to reveal anything unusual about it.

"I'll tell you how it's done, boys," said the owner at length, "but keep the scheme dark. All that is necessary is to pass a file a few times around the edge, so as to put on a slight bevel. It can't be seen, but the coin will fall on the beveled side every time as sure as fate. It's a good idea, by the way, to have two in your pocket—one fixed for heads and one for tails. A steady run is always suspicious, you know, and you can shift 'em occasionally."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Woman's Laugh.

A feminine laugh has to be decorative, and so it should be the laugh of gaiety rather than of humor. There can hardly be a question as to the sweetest laugh to be heard among nations of women—it is surely the Frenchwoman's. She has the softest warble of all. If doves were not so serious, they might remind us of Parisian women laughing together. The Italian laugh is happy enough, but it is not quite so independent of the subject of laughter. It has a jollity all its own. It is somewhat uncivilized, but needs no civilizing. But its principal characteristic is the contrast to the proper to the woman who is to the last somewhat of a peasant.

The laughter of English women is too various for any brief description. For English women laugh not according to their race, but according to their caste, as caste has lately been revised and redistributed. It may be said that in caste also the treble note, the ready, the immediate, flits up to its own place—the top—and is audible there, for all its slender quality.—Coffier's Weekly.

Uncle Tom's Cabin Chair.

Among the many things associated with the memory of Harriet Beecher Stowe is the chair occupied by her while writing the initial chapters of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Mrs. Stowe, accompanied by Rev. Lyman Beecher, her father, was a visitor at Batavia, O., many years ago, at the home of Judge Owen F. Fishback. During all the hours of her visit and while writing she always occupied this plain poplar chair. After Mrs. Stowe rose to fame with her book the chair was preserved and handed down as a part of history from Mrs. Fishback to Lou Buerkle, in whose possession it now remains. The back of the chair has become broken off, and all the slats are broken out of the back. The color of the chair was black. They relate all the historic points now connected with this plain and unassuming old time piece of furniture.—Milwaukee Sentinel.
