IOC Decision Has Bad Odor

By CHRIS ANNETT

There is sure to be a very bitter taste in the mouths of those who attempted so valiantly to bring the Olympic Games to Canada for the first time after both Montreal and Banff were turned down for the Summer and Winter games in favor of Munich, Germany and Sapporo, Japan.

The greatest injustice was done to Montreal, which had offered to pay the costs of room and board for the thousands of athletes which attended the Games. This was an estimated cost of $3,000,000 which was to be paid out of the Expo profits.

Complaints were made about the cost of holding the games on the North American continent, but Montreal had apparently rendered this argument useless by offering to pay everything but the plane fare.

Facilities in Montreal are as good as or better than any other spot on the globe for having the Olympics. The Montreal presentation of their brief was acknowledged to be superior to the other countries. And yet they lost the bid.

The whole situation appears to be as phoney as a three dollar bill. Canada is robbed continually in the realm of international sport and there is simply no reason why it should continue. Perhaps the communist countries are afraid to come over here and face some half decent hockey refereeing.

BANFF BAFFLED

In the case of Banff, which was bidding for the third time for the Winter games, there is bound to be more than a bit of bitterness although a group of shortsighted, unattractive, wildlife fanatics damaged their bid.

Why Japan was awarded the bid before Canada is rather obscure for the two countries had equal facilities. Canada took a slight advantage when it offered to pay part of the plane fare of the athletes but yet the plan was rejected.

The Olympics began in 1896 and since 1904 Canada has had at least one person on the podium accepting a medal in gold, silver or bronze. Why this great nation has not been judged fit to act as host for the assorted athletes of the world is a matter which casts the IOC (International Olympic Committee) into rather a dim light.

Perhaps the IOC is waiting to award us with the games in 1996, the 100th anniversary of the annual events.

Mets Beat Cubs

CHICAGO (AP)—New York Mets scored six runs on four hits in the eighth inning Tuesday and outlasted Chicago Cubs 14-11.

Ken Boyer and Ed Kranepool homered for the Mets and Randy Hundley connected for the Cubs.

Boyer's three-run blast in the third ended 23 scoreless innings for Cubs' pitchers. Kranepool followed with his fourth homer of the season.

The Mets also scored four runs in the sixth. New York starter Jack Hamilton was shelled in a four-run seventh inning by the Cubs.

The Cubs committed five errors, including a two-base wild toss by first baseman John Herrstein during the six-run eighth against Billy Hoelt.

Red Wings Mangle Habs To Take Series Control

By AL McNEIL

MONTREAL (CP)—Detroit Red Wings erupted for four third period goals Tuesday night to beat Montreal Canadiens 5-2 and take a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup final before 14,550 fans.

Wings won the first game in the series Sunday afternoon 3-2 and now return to Detroit for Thursday and Sunday contests. The teams battled to a 1-1 standoff in the first period, and fought through a scoreless second stanza before the roof fell in on Montreal, this year's National Hockey League champions.

Detroit scorers were Andy Bathgate, Bruce MacGregor, Ab McDonald, Floyd Smith and Dean Prentice. Montreal picked up its two markers from J. C. Tremblay and Ivan Cournoyer. Detroit generally outshouted Canadiens, and Roger Crozier in the Wings' net turned in his second consecutive stand-out performance.

He broke Canadiens' backs early in the third period as he made dazzling stops on left winger Gilles Tremblay and centre Jean Beliveau.

Wings' captain Alex Delvecchio drew an assist on Detroit's final goal of the night scored by Prentice. For the veteran centre it was the 100th playoff goal of his NHL career, which started in the 1951-52 season.

Yanks Darn Sox; Pale Hose Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Pepitone's run-scoring single climaxed a three-run rally by New York Yankees in the bottom of the ninth inning Tuesday as the Yankees broke a seven-game losing slump with a 7-6 victory over Boston.

The Red Sox scored four times in the top of the ninth but the Yanks came right back. The victory was the second for the Yankees in 12 games.

The Red Sox got their four in the top of the ninth off Whitey Ford and three relievers.

George Scott, rookie first baseman, hit a towering home run into the upper left field stands in the third for Boston. Mickey Mantle had three singles in the game and drove in his first run of the season.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Floyd Robinson's two-run homer in the first inning staked Chicago White Sox to an early lead and they beat Washington Senators 4-1 Tuesday behind the combined seven-hit pitching of Joel Horlen and Eddie Fisher.

Robinson extended his hitting streak through all 11 games this season. Tommy Agee led off with a single off loser Diego Segui and scored ahead of Robinson. The latter added a double in the eighth inning.

The White Sox added two in the second on consecutive singles by John Romano, Ken Berry and Ron Hansen and Agee's sacrifice fly.

The Senators scored in the fourth on an error and singles by Jim King and Dick Nen.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore Orioles smacked four homers, one by Brooks Robinson, and defeated California Angels 7-3 Tuesday night for their seventh straight victory.

Angels also hit two homers in spacious Memorial Stadium as all the runs were scored on roundtrippers.

Jose Cardenal opened the game with a solo homer off Oriole starter Jim Palmer, who was relieved by Dick Hall in the sixth after a two-run blast by Bobby Knoop narrowed the Baltimore lead to 4-3.

The record was set by St. Louis Browns in 1944. The major league record is 10, shared by the 1955 Brooklyn Dodgers and the 1962 Pittsburgh Pirates. Home runs by Larry Brown and Duke Sims helped Tiant to his second victory in two starts. The 25-year-old right hander struck out 12 in registering his second shutout.

Tiant pitched himself out of a one-out, bases-loaded jam in the fifth inning by retiring Chuck Dobson on a pop foul to first baseman, Fred Whitfield, and striking out Bert Campaneris.

Research In Fisheries To Be Pushed

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal fisheries department hopes to increase its outlay on industrial development—which includes research into techniques and equipment—to more than $1,000,000 in 1969-70 from the $3,270,000 spent in 1965-66.

Dr. A. W. H. Needer, deputy fisheries minister, presented the projected figures at a meeting of the Commons fisheries committee Tuesday.

He reminded members the figures were "just a projection" and would require government and parliamentary approval, but they showed the department's long-range plans in the development area.

The expenditures are under the department's industrial development service and go towards: Over-all development, modernization, improved efficiency, research, experiments and demonstrations, exploration for new and under-exploited resources, new gear and vessel designs, technical assistance programs, and other work.

The fish processing industry is also involved. The sum does not include capital outlays involved in the projects. Dr. Needer also outlined joint, federal-provincial, fisheries projects involving the Maritimes and Quebec.

IOC Decision Shows Banff; Awards Olympics To Japan

ROME (CP)—Sapporo, Japan, was awarded Tuesday the 1972 Winter Olympics.

Sapporo was chosen over Banff, Salt Lake City and Lahti, Finland.

President Avery Brundage of the International Olympic Committee said that undoubtedly "one reason for awarding the Games to Sapporo was the fact that the 1940 Games would have gone to Sapporo."

Those Games were never held because of the Second World War.

The Japanese had gone to Rome openly fearful that they had no chance because Japan had so recently had the Summer Games—in Tokyo in 1964.

COULD CAUSE BITTERNESS The decision in favor of Sapporo seemed certain to cause Canadian bitterness.

Banff, the famed Canadian Rockies ski resort 75 miles west of Calgary, was turned down in its third bid for the Winter Games. Canada, which always sends a big team to the Olympics, remained among the few larger participants which never has been able to win the right to be host to either Summer or Winter Games.

Munich, West Germany, was picked earlier over Montreal, Detroit and Madrid for the 1972 Summer Games.

Observers regarded Banff as even with or slightly ahead of Sapporo when the 62 IOC selectors began their final voting. What tipped the balance for the Japanese city, with its population of 760,000, was not immediately clear.

Banff had offered to aid in the transport of athletes and officials and had said athletes would be housed and fed for $3 a day—Sapporo offered to feed and house athletes and officials "at a very low price," so there appeared to be little choice on that issue.

No votes were immediately announced from Rome.

Claude Brewster, director of the group which took Banff's bid to Rome, said "the wildlife issue might have had something to do with it."

Several conservation organizations sent protests to the IOC warning of possible damage to scenery and deploring the commercial use of national parks.

He said, however, the decision will not affect a $25,000,000 federal government program to expand skiing and accommodation facilities in the Banff-Lake Louise areas of Banff National Park.

In a telephone interview from Rome, Alberta Labor Minister Ray Reiersen said the provincial government regards the decision as "just another round in our experience."

Mr. Brewster, a prominent Banff businessman, said it is not likely that the same group would bid for the 1976 Winter Olympics but he hoped Banff would make another bid.

Earlier, Ed Davis, president of the Calgary-Banff committee which made the bid, said members will be of real help in Montreal if that city bids for the 1976 Summer Games.
