

Chain Of Command Causes Lively Council Discussion

A decision to borrow $475,000 by way of 20-year debentures was unanimously made by a special meeting of the Summerside Town Council Thursday night after Council members earlier in the evening had divided sharply on a resolution in respect to discipline and authority at the various levels in civic administration.

Strong opposition to the contentious resolution was voiced by Councillors James MacDougall and Dr. Hillard Clark who voted against the motion which was introduced by Mayor Wm. A. Currie and supported by Councillors William Jenkins, Andrew Perry, and Edgar Cannon. Councillor Donald Lidstone who had supported the Mayor's "chain of command" plan at previous meetings, was absent from the Thursday night meeting.

After relinquishing the chair, Councillor Cannon so that he might discuss the motion, Mayor Currie reviewed the development of events which led to the formal presentation of the resolution at the special meeting.

He recalled the announcement of a policy on the matter at the first meeting of the new Council following the February civic election and referred to the opposition which had been indicated by Councillors MacDougall and Clark who had expressed opposition to the policy because they felt that too much responsibility was being delegated to department foremen and committee chairmen, especially in regard to hiring and firing of permanent employees.

Mayor Currie expressed disappointment that he had not had the full support of the Council in giving the proposed policy the courtesy of a fair trial period. He was of the opinion that considerable improvement had already been favorably noted since the matter had come into the news, and said he felt strongly that the policy was basic to efficient operation of town departments.

Councillor Jenkins, speaking in support of the policy, noted that the resolution had been criticized by the Town Recorder, and suggested that a foreman or committee chairman could at all times seek the advice of the Council in the matter of hiring or firing personnel.

Councillor Perry, in supporting the Mayor's plan, called attention to the fact that the Chief of Police has always conferred with the Council on personnel problems, and said he failed to see anything wrong with the plan.

Councillor Cannon in expressing his support said he thought the resolution was sufficiently clear, and he thought it would be an inefficient organization whose foreman didn't have authority over his men.

The resolution provides that the various committees appointed by the Council on recommendation of the Mayor are responsible to the Council.

The supervisors or foremen are responsible to their respective committees. They must answer to the committee chairman for the discipline and efficiency of the men under them. They must gauge the size of their crews in proportion to the requirements of the project.

If additional help is required over the normal complement, they must obtain the approval of their committee chairman. They will have the authority to dismiss a crewman for inefficiency, being intoxicated on the job, or other sufficient causes. They will have the authority to hire a replacement. They are free to consult their committee chairman at all times for direction or guidance subject to reference to the Town Council.

The employees under the level of foremen and supervisors are responsible to their respective foreman or supervisor who will have complete control over the employees in his crew.

Councillor MacDougall, noted he had made strong objection to the idea when it was first proposed, and following that meeting had visited the Mayor to re-state his feeling that the policy was contrary to the town by-laws and that it would be a disastrous mistake to adopt such a policy.

He was critical of the wording of several sections of the policy resolutions and maintained that it lacked clarity of purpose in several instances. He suggested that it should be tabled for study and revision. He suggested too, that the assistance of the Town Recorder be sought in an interpretation of the meaning of several points raised in discussing the resolution.

In reply Mayor Currie said that the Town Recorder, E.H. Strong, Q.C., had been associated with its preparation.

HIRE AND FIRE
Councillor Clark supported Councillor MacDougall in opposing the resolution. He had looked it over but could not understand it, he said, and sought an explanation of whether or not the resolution meant, for example, that the Electrical Engineer, the Chief of Police, and the Fire Chief, could hire and fire the men in their respective departments.

The meeting recessed briefly while Town Clerk John E. Cameron tried unsuccessfully to contact the Recorder by phone for the purpose of having him come to the meeting to give a legal interpretation.

S'side Y's Men Stress Young Adults Month

Guests from various young adult groups in the town were present at the regular weekly meeting of the Summerside Y's Men's Club Thursday night when a special program directly related to Young Adult Month was carried out by the club.

The meeting was presided over by Charles Ballem with Don Adams as song leader and Jim Murphy acting as emcee.

An amendment to the club by laws regarding club dues paid by new members was voted on and passed by the members present.

Guests at the meeting were: Birdie Cairns, HiY Beta Group Mentor; Peggy Preston, HiY Gamma group mentor; Dorothy Townsend, Advisor to the HiY council; Dorcen Dennis, representing the Anglican Young People's Society; Ernest Murphy and Vance Bridges, representing the Trinity Y.P.S.; Olive Jelly and Blanch Mathews, of the Phiat Club; Earl Ross and George MacLellan and Horace Hayes, all of Summerside.

Art Holland spoke to the club in relation to a proposed social educational program which it is hoped to be started in Summerside. The speaker read a brief outline of the So-ed movement which was illustrated by color slides shown by Horace MacFarlane. The So-ed program covers a period of six to twelve weekly meetings devoted to helping its members better understand themselves and others, develop handicraft, sporting and social skills and serving as an introduction to the various service groups of the Y.M.C.A. At the conclusion of his talk the speaker was thanked by Charles Linkletter.

A report from the Booster License plate committee was given by Frank Cameron. Allison MacLean announced that the contract for the Y Center extension had been signed. It was decided by the club that a letter of congratulations be sent of the Charlottetown Centennial Club on their winning the Bishop's Fund stamp contest.

Volunteers with typewriters were called to help send out letters of thanks to the many donors to the recent radio auction.

The Jim Harris rink of Summerside chalked up a total of 99 points yesterday to take the honors on the third day of a four-day bonspiel presently underway at the Alberton Curling Rink.
