The monthly meeting of the Junior League of the Charlottetown Hospital was held Tuesday evening, March 4th at the Nurses Residence, with twenty seven members present.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the President—Mrs. George Chandler.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted, also the following correspondence. From the family of the late Mother Paula for an appreciation of sympathy expressed.

Mrs. Francis McKenna thanking for the gift received for her New Year's baby.

Resignation from Vice-President Mrs. Urban McQuaid, also a letter from the Red Cross for canvassers for the Annual Campaign.

The financial statement was read by the treasurer and approved.

Mrs. John Connolly reported for the Ways and Means Committee on a dance held in February, also for the annual tag day which is to be held April 5th.

The president gave a report of the annual Red Cross meeting she and the Vice-President had attended. Names of canvassers were taken for the Red Cross Campaign.

It was moved and seconded that a half dozen books on Baby and Child Care be purchased for a library for the use of the patients in Maternity.

The members were then asked if they had any suitable books they would like to donate to this library.

Mrs. Jules Gaudet reported for the Sewing Committee and stated a number of articles turned in for use in the Nursery.

The Constitutions were passed out and read by the members.

It was then moved by Mrs. Vincent Pineau that paragraph three of the Constitution be amended at the annual meeting.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

Jaycees Discuss High School Project

A proposal that a new high school be erected in this city and that a census of business men and parents be taken in order to determine their opinions in regard to this matter was made at the monthly meeting of the Charlottetown Junior Chamber of Commerce last evening. Dr. John Sterns presided.

It was also proposed that the same census should include expressions of opinion as to the present school system.

The question of whether or not the young children of the community were receiving sufficient education was discussed, also many other questions pertaining to Education Week.

The announcement that Charlottetown will again observe Education Week was made and although no definite date has been set it is believed it will be held in the middle of May.

At the close of the meeting Dr. Sterns was congratulated by all present for his past efforts and invaluable aid rendered to the chamber.

Card Of Thanks

Mrs. Eimer (Irene) Matheson, Summerside, wishes to express her sincere thanks to her doctor, nurses, and staff of the Prince Edward-Island Hospital; also her friends and neighbors who remembered her in any way. A special thanks to R. T. Holman and staff.

Mrs. Campbell died in hospital last Sunday from a heart attack following a recent fall in the bathroom of her home when she suffered several broken ribs. House Likely To Hold Discussion On Tax Agreement

It is assumed that when the Legislature meets the new tax agreement between the Province and the Dominion will be the subject of considerable debate. Another probable subject will be what many people, particularly rural residents, term the high cost of electricity. Government policy in the matter has not been disclosed, but it is possible that the Speech from the Throne may contain some reference to the matter.

The session which opens Tuesday, March 11, will be the second of the 47th General Assembly. The first was a special session called last October to deal with this Province's participation in proposed old age and blind pension plans. It is generally assumed that it will take the normal length of time and it is not likely the House will rise before the Easter holidays. If all members speak on the Draft Address and the Budget those two items might consume three weeks of the session. The practice in recent years, however, has been to curtail the former debate very considerably.

Situation Relieved At North Rustico

The two government plows that were dispatched to open a road through to the village of North Rustico via Portage Road were reported last night as nearing South Rustico, a distance of approximately 5 miles from their goal.

Officials of the Government Garage stated that considerable difficulty had been experienced in trying to push through the heavy drifts and that the tractor and truck plow had only managed to gain approximately one half mile towards their goal as the result of a day's steady plowing.

It was also announced that another plow had been sent from Hunter River in an attempt to open the paved road from there into the small community.

A spokesman of the Rustico community stated that the situation has improved greatly and that their condition is no longer critical. A steady flow of fuel and supplies is being brought in from nearby Hunter River by six horse teams and sleighs which will provide ample fuel and foodstuffs for the community until the roads are again open for travel.

It is believed that the plows working from South Rustico will arrive in the village sometime tonight. No information was available as to when the Hunter River plow would get through.

Elton Woodside, the flying farmer who landed his tiny ski-equipped plane on the harbor ice Wednesday to remove four hospital cases, returned yesterday to North Rustico with one of the convalescents.

Donald they said, and ordered him to "put that gun away. You ain't going to shoot anybody."

The soldiers testified the two Canadians then exchanged some low words, after which a gun "popped."

The soldiers said they were sitting across the room from a Korean girl, away from the two Canadians.

They testified MacDonald told them to put the wounded man in his jeep and get blankets to keep him warm. MacDonald then pointed directions to the nearest medical officer or hospital, they said and left Harrison in the jeep.

A United States soldier, Pfc. G.R. MacLean, said he saw the wounded man lying on a rock and MacDonald trying to free his jeep from the snow.

MacLean sent for help. Two officers and a Korean doctor arrived and took Harrison to an army hospital. Military police arrived and arrested MacDonald.

Local Talent Heard In Enjoyable Recital

Charlottetown welcomed back Miss Gaelyne Craig last evening when she appeared in recital at the Prince of Wales College Auditorium, assisted by Mr. William Keith Rogers.

In spite of the hazardous road conditions and other attractions in the city, the hall was filled almost to capacity to greet Charlottetown's own singing star in her first recital. Both Miss Craig and Mr. Rogers received well earned applause as they appeared in groups of selections with Miss Louise Cox as accompanist for Miss Craig.

Still in her early twenties, Miss Craig left this Province a year and a half ago to work and study in Halifax and it is only recently that her teacher, Miss Audrey Farnell, has announced that she was ready for her first appearance of this type.

From the moment she appeared on the stage last evening, acknowledging the burst of applause with a shy smile, she won the hearts of her audience. Her beautiful soprano voice, which won her such praise in the Musical Festival of 1949 has increased in range and is developing a warm, rich, lower register. It still retains the purity of tone which was developed by the local teachers, but is gradually building in volume.

A most attractive young lady, Miss Craig showed a charming stage personality last evening which should be of great assistance to her in her chosen career. With ambitions to study in England, she is at present a student electrical draughtsman at H. M. C. Dockyard in Halifax.

Mr. Rogers added to his laurels in the numbers he presented and showed once more an intelligent, sympathetic, and sincere interpretation of his music.

The Musical Festival Association is to be commended on bringing the talents of these two artists before the music-loving public, and for sponsoring the recital at a time when it would be a stimulus to those who will be competing in the Musical Festival of this Province which is scheduled for the first part of May.

Following is the program which was presented:

"Violet's" Scarlatti; "She Never Told Her Love" Haydn; "Alleluia" Mozart—Miss Craig.
 Organ Fugue in G Minor, (Bach-Samaroff)—Mr. Rogers.
 Dein Angesicht, Schumann; Heiden Roslein, Schubert; Vergebliches Brahm's—Miss Craig.
 Three Etudes, Chopin; Op. 25 No. 1 in A Flat Major; Op. 10 No. 3 in E Major; Op. 25 No. 3 in F Major.—Mr. Rogers.
 "I Will Lift Mine Eyes," Ovarak; "By the Waters of Babylon," Dvorak; "Turn Thee To Me," Dvorak; "Sing Ye A Joyful Song," Dvorak—Miss Craig.
 Sonnetto del Petrarch, Liszt; "The Fountain," Ravel; "The Girl With the Flaxen Hair," Debussy; "Garden in the Rain," Debussy—Mr. Rogers.
 Corals, (Bryceson Trehanne); Cuckoo Song, (Roger Quilter); Estrelita, (Manuel Ponce); "A Heart That's Free," Robyn; "The Little French Clock, Kountz; (Summertime, Gershwin) — Miss
