

Talk Is Everything.

"Have you ever considered how large a part talk plays in this world?" asked the Hog's Hollow philosopher.

"I've noticed you seem to think a lot of it," answered his friend and companion.

"Talk is everything," continued the philosopher. "You can't get anything of value without talking for it—not even a job."

"If a man can't talk there is not much use in him staying in this world. If you can't talk, it'll take the public a longer time than your span of life to find out your merits. Life is all talk and the silent reserved man has no show."

"The glib talker, the world over rises to the top in politics. The man who is always expressing himself, who lets nothing be understood, who puts everything down, so to speak, who constantly advertises himself with his tongue—that's the man who gets along, and you keep a tab on that my boy."

"The public know him. They may not all like him, but they understand him and most of 'em like him. There is no reserve behind him to worry about."

"The silent man may not like him. He, in fact generally hates him. But the silent man is jealous. He sees himself left in the cold while the talker is the centre of attraction. He envies the talker. He would like to talk too. But he can't. He is told that silence is golden but he doesn't believe it. Nobody believes it. He recognizes that chronic silence is a disease, a mental disorder."

"What a fine healthy mentality you must have," murmured his boon companion admiringly.

But the Hog's Hollow philosopher didn't mention that mental conditions are often influenced by the condition of the stomach. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets insure favorable condition to that organ. If a healthy stomach makes a talker then Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will enable a man to talk right off the reel with the wholesome vivacity of an auctioneer or a French politician.

Gatacre to the Troops.

CAPE TOWN, Monday, Nov 20.—General Gatacre, commanding the British column assembling at Queenstown, Cape Colony, told the troops there that the regulars should watch and learn from the irregulars, who were acquainted with the country and the habits of the Boers. Once the forward movement should be begun there could be no question of stopping it, and he asked all to do their best, adding:—"I will never ask you to do anything I am not willing to do myself."
