was not just a theoretical organization. What really surprises me is that the leaders of the Business Society receive no cent for this wonderful job that they are doing. It is true indeed that the service we render to others is really the rent we pay for our room on this earth. At least these hard-working kids leading the Business Society saw it that way.

Lest I forget - the University of Prince Edward Island was represented in a big way at the Atlantic Federation of Business Students conference held at Dalhousie University, Halifax, in the fall. The Business Society subsidized this trip greatly.

I was personally one of those that were in the conference. It was a hectic three days of business education. Thanks be to the society for making that opportunity available to the five of us that attended. Due to our very active participation in the conference, all the students in the Business departments of the Atlantic Federation of Business Students insisted that the next conference is going to be held here at UPEI next fall. So know it now in time that the Business Society is going to host this be-all-and-end-all conference.

Well, since the Business Society is the result of trial and error, some errors were also made by the student leaders. An error doesn't become a mistake until we refuse to correct it. So, our honourable leaders, yours were ordinary errors and no mistakes. They were inevitable but were neither great nor destructive. One of such was our failure to invite some businessmen from Charlottetown and other areas of the country to come and speak to us in our parties on campus. I also feel that those parties on campus could have been more beneficial to us had they been more educational.

All in all, yours was a job well done. I do not know how to express my feelings on the colossal loss of this year's Executive and class reps.

I wish they stayed in office for one more year to make the Society more strong. I am saying this because there is something that is much more scarce, something finer far, something rarer than ability.

It is the ability to recognize ability. Once more I say, thank you for recognizing your abilities and putting them to our advantage.

The members of the Executive and class reps. in the Business Society are: Mary Anne Hutchinson, (president); David Murphy, (vice-president); Marlene Gallant (secretary); Scott MacKenzie (treasurer); representatives Ivy Hender (Junior); Jo-Anne Doyle (Sophomore), and Shelley Taylor (Freshman).

I extend my great gratitude to the faculty members of the Department of Business Administration for their fatherly relationships, care and love for our interests.

All your hands were on deck for the solution of our problems. These are: Assistant Professor W. Isenor (chairman); Associate Professor J.W. MacCarvill, Associate Professor J. Revell, Assistant Professor G.R. Bond, Assistant Professor R. Collins, Associate Professor I. Kilpatrick, and visiting professor, D. Nemetz.

Some of us miss opportunities because we are too dull to try. Others let opportunity go by, too much startled when they see it to take hold of it. Another golden opportunity has brought itself up for business students. This is the opportunity to serve the Business Society

The society is changing its leaders through an election next week. We should really learn to be proud to associate ourselves with such successful organizations as the Business Society. It is a very big challenge to us Business students. Let us avail ourselves of the noble opportunity of following the Hutchinson example in the Business Society. Stop hiding. Come and put into practice your much learnt human relations.

Once again, I say thank you very much, Mary Anne Hutchinson and Co. for your able leadership.
