CORRECTION - In printing the names of winners of entrance scholarships to Dalhousie University, as announced by President A. E. Kerr on October 14th, the Guardian incorrectly stated that Mr. Elmon Nicolle, one of the winners, was from Murray River. Mr. Nicolle's home is in White Sands, and he did not attend high school at Montague but took the special Matriculation Course at Prince of Wales College.

FUNERAL AT ST. PETER'S ROAD - The largely attended funeral services for the late Benjamin Reid, who passed away on Thursday, were held yesterday from the home at Peter's Road, with Rev. Carl Currie officiating, and bringing a message of comfort and inspiration to the members and friends of the bereaved family. Hymns sung during the service were "Will There Be Any Stars in My Crown" and "Safe in The Arms of Jesus". Mr. Willard MacLean sang a solo, "Beyond The Sunset". The pallbearers were Edgar Vanderstine, Ralph Lea, Gordon Lea, Edward Jenkins, Frank Butler, Fred Morrison. Interment took place in the Peter's Road cemetery.

GIRL IN EVERY PORT, GIGGLES IN EVERY REEL

Packed with wild fun from the starting gate to the finish line, RKO Radio's "A Girl in Every Port" at the Capitol Theatre, stars Groucho Marx, Marie Wilson and William Bendix in the hilarious race-track adventures of two bumbling Navy seamen and a bombshell blonde.

Twin race horses and a ludicrous drive-in car hop start the merry tale on its way. Groucho and Bill acquire the horses while on shore leave, and simultaneously begin making passes at the maddening Marie. Intending to race one colt and sell the other, the two sailors plan to make a fortune. Both nazg wind up, however, in the same race, with Groucho and Bill riding them—and a nightmarish photo finish for first between the twin colts is the astonishing result.

What happens after that to the blundering seamen and the dumb but always beautiful Marie, furnishes the side-splitting climax to the fun-filled film.

Don DeFore and Gene Lockhart are featured, with Dee Hartford and George E. Stone in the fine supporting cast. "A Girl in Every Port" was produced by Irwin Allen and Irving Cummings, Jr., and directed by Chester Brinkley from his own screenplay. The original story is by Frederick Hazlitt Brennan, based on his hilarious stories of Seaman Benjamin Linn and Timothy Dunnevan which have appeared in Collier's Magazine over a period of years.

Address and Presentation

On Sunday, September 28th, the occasion of Father Campbell's last Sunday as pastor of St. Andrew's Parish, the following address was read to the beloved pastor. Rev. Terence Campbell.

We the parishioners of St. Andrew's are assembled here today not only to assist you at the holy sacrifice of the Mass but also to learn with profound regret of your intended departure from our midst.

More than fifteen years have passed since you assumed your duties as our parish pastor and during that time you have experienced many joys and sorrows. The joy of seeing the children whom you have baptized going forth into the world bearing the marks of faith, fortitude and humility which were exemplified in your own life; the sorrow of administering the last rites to the aged people, the landmarks of St. Andrew's.

We little realized the heavy burden of anxiety you bore when St. Andrew's Church was consumed in flames, but you carried it with Christian fortitude and resignation to the will of God.

Never have you failed at any hour of the day in attending to the spiritual needs, not were you unmindful of our temporal needs as well.

You have concerned yourself primarily with the foundation of spiritual values whose worth cannot be appraised in this world. You have been to us an excellent example of Christian life, a very wise counsellor, a learned philosopher and a true friend.

We shall continue to remember you in our prayers, in our sorrows and in our joys, and we humbly ask that you will remember us in your prayers before God's altar when offering the holy sacrifice of the Mass.

While thus reluctantly taking leave of you we ask you to accept this gift as a token of our affection for you.

Presented on behalf of the parishioners of St. Andrew's, a purse of money was presented to Father Campbell on behalf of the parishioners by Mr. Wilfred MacDonald.

Father Campbell thanked the people of the parish very heartily and spoke at some length upon matters pertaining to the parish, stressing particularly the need of erecting a suitable memorial to the illustrious first Bishop of Charlottetown, Bishop A. B. MacEachern, whose tomb is at St. Andrew's.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. WILLIAM J. JOHNSTON

They are not lost who find The sunset gate, the goal Of all their faithful years. Not lost are they who reach The summit of their climb, The peak above the clouds And storm the they are not lost Who find the light of sun And stars and God.

Relatives and friends were deeply shocked to learn of the unexpected death of Mr. William J. Johnston who passed away suddenly at the King's County Memorial Hospital on Tuesday, August 19. Seldom has any community been called upon to mourn a death that has brought such profound sorrow to so many hearts.

Son of the late Samuel Johnston and Jane MacDonald, he was born at Peter's Road on April 6, 1878, and was one of a family of fourteen. He was united in marriage with Isabel Millar, daughter of the late Neil Millar and Margaret Irving. For several years he made his home in Peter's Road and later took up residence in Murray Harbour North.

The late Mr. Johnston was widely known throughout the province as a successful fox-rancher and also as a lobster packer, having operated a canning factory for many years.

He was a man of upright and honest character. By his ever-present cheerfulness and keen sense of humour, he won and retained the confidence of a host of friends. The community of Murray Harbour North has lost a highly esteemed and leading citizen, and the church, a regular attendant and generous supporter. By his passing he leaves a heritage of good will and respect that will long be remembered.

Nine years previous to his death Mr. Johnston sustained a serious injury as a result of a car accident. He endured his suffering with Christian fortitude and patience and made a wonderful recovery. Although not enjoying the best of health, he was able to resume light work and to lead a quiet life in the community to which he had endeared himself.

Suddenly, on the night of August 18, he became seriously ill. His suffering was of such overwhelming severity that all the ministrations of his anxious family and all the skill of attending physicians and nurses were unavailing. On the following afternoon God took from him his pain and suffering and called him to his eternal rest.

Besides his sorrowing widow, nee Isabel Millar, he leaves to mourn his passing two sons, Verne and Weston, and one daughter, Mae, Mrs. John Clow, all of Murray Harbour North. Six brothers also survive: Frederick G. Murray River; Lester C. Charlottetown; Earl C. Fortune Bridge; Garfield, Percy and Raoulton, all of Peter's Road, and one sister, Beatrice, Mrs. John MacLean, also of Peter's Road.

His sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved.

"Let not your heart be troubled! He knows each step you've trod; The path may lead through sorrow, But ends at home with God."

The funeral, which was very largely attended, was held from the Murray Harbour North Presbyterian Church on Friday afternoon, August 22. The service was conducted by his pastor, the Rev. Carl Currie. Taking his text from St. Mark 4:35, "Let us pass over unto the other side," he brought a message of hope and cheer to the bereaved family, and paid fitting tribute to the departed.

Hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "Sleep On, Beloved, Sleep". A duet, "Alone", was feelingly rendered by Mrs. David Millar and Mr. Willard MacLean. The pallbearers were Messrs. Newton Hicken, Willard MacLure, Rae Kennedy, Harry Millar, Edward Millar and Chester MacLure. In the sunset glow of an August day, which seemed to emphasize that "all is brightness beyond the veil", his mortal body was committed to God's holy keeping in Murray Harbour North Cemetery.

Many beautiful flowers, silent tributes of love and sympathy, were borne by the nephews of the departed:
