

SEATERS will please hand in their name and the character they represent at the door Friday night. 3 in.

FOR THE HOSPITAL.—Mrs. McLeod acknowledges with thanks a donation of 20 pairs of slippers from Mr. J. H. Bell, for the use of the Prince Edward Island hospital.

POWELL CIRCUIT.—The third quarterly meeting of the Powell circuit will be held at Mr. Henry Lane's, Mount Mellick, on Monday, the 26th inst. at 3 o'clock, when the question of pastoral supply for the next year will be considered.

THE BIG FIGHT.—It has been decided that Jeffries and Corbett will fight in the Seaside Sporting Club at Coney Island on May 11. It is said that O'Rourke has matched Tom Sharkey against Kid McCoy, but the articles have not yet been signed.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.—The ladies of St. Vincent de Paul Society gratefully acknowledge donation of clothing, etc., from James Paxon & Co., Stanley Bros., and Mr. D. A. Bruce. Some cash has also been received which is thankfully acknowledged.

PATRIOTIC CONCERT.—Those contributing candy for the concert are requested either to send their contributions to the Masonic Temple Building, east side door, on Thursday next, between the hours of 10 a. m., and 2 p. m., or to leave same at the residence of Mrs. Tutmarsh, Brighton Road or Mrs. F. L. Hazard, Orlebar Street, on Wednesday the 21st. if.

CONSUMPTION INCREASING.—Dr. John P. Pryor, of Buffalo, said that last year the death rate from consumption in New York state had increased by 339 and had increased so far in the present year that if this rate continued there would be in the year over 1 000 deaths from consumption, probably the highest death rate ever known.—Medical Record.

ONE OF THE ADVANTAGES.—In the course of an article pointing out the advantages of the Nome gold fields, the Washington Post-Intelligencer says: "Nome is under our own (United States) Government which imposes no unjust royalties, and our officials have been free from the corrupt practices which have characterized the Canadian officials in the Klondike."

AN OLD AND WELL TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. It is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

Green Road Notes

A trotting match took place between drivers owned by Mr. James Carragher and Mr. Michael McKeiver, in which McKeiver's mare came in ahead.

Carragher stumped Mr. Charles Toole for $5. If Mr. Toole takes up the challenge, the race will take place next week on DeSable River.

A very enjoyable party took place at Mr. Patrick Hogan's. All our young ladies, including the Misses Toole and Miss M. Carragher, were invited.

Mr. Patrick McMurrer has sold a valuable French Lion mare for the sum of $120 to Mr. Inman.

Wm. B. Crosby is home on a vacation from Denver. He is going to remain two months.

Mr. McGaughey, from Lot 9, has been visiting friends here for some time.

While Mr. John Toole was returning from Hampton his horse shied at some object, throwing Mr. Toole from his carriage and injuring his head badly. Dr. Murchieson who was sent for said he did not think that Mr. Toole would recover.

The butterfly's pocket. The male butterflies have the proud privilege of a pocket, but the pocket of a butterfly is wonderfully made. It is really an extension of the under wing folded back on the upper side, but it is exquisitely colored and marked like the upper side, so that it is very hard to detect, and no one has yet discovered just how it is opened, although undoubtedly the butterfly can throw it open while he is flying.

At first glance there seems to be only white or amber colored silk floss within, but examine this with a microscope and you will find twisted ribbons, slender rods shaped like a shepherd's crook, others jointed bamboolike and flexible rods and tiny scales of various sorts and patterns.

It is known that insects have a marvelously keen scent, and it is believed that all these odd little objects are perfume boxes and that the fragrance so thrown abroad is a signal call to the female butterfly, which may be wandering about in the air. It is, to say the least, a very interesting guess, and there is evidence to prove that butterflies and moths are summoned from distances by odors that we would hardly notice.—Philadelphia Times.

A Maori Legend.

In Cassell's Little Folks there is a quaint Maori fairy tale which concludes thus: "Suddenly the father, who had been looking up into the western sky, cried out in a glad voice: 'There they are! I see them!' The mother came running out at his cry, and together they saw their two children standing hand in hand far away in the sides of the sky, the two little stars that had not been there before. 'Let us follow them,' said the mother, and together they rose into the deepening twilight and fled after their children.

"But Piri and Noko, far off in the sky, saw their parents coming and, thinking they were angry, sped away toward the western horizon. The parents followed, and when they reached the highway of Tane that god of light changed them into stars. And now, when the night is clear, you may see two little twin stars flying away toward the west and some distance behind two larger stars in vain pursuit. Thus forever they go round and round the world, Piri and Noko running away from their parents because they were so foolish as to think their mother did not love them."

Not Entitled to a Puff.

"I believe the man who was more afraid of advertising something for nothing than any newspaper man I have ever seen," said a Chicago newspaper man, "was John Knapp of the old St. Louis Republican. He hated to print a doctor's or lawyer's name for fear he would give a free puff.

"One time there was mention made in the paper of a man having died of Bright's disease of the kidneys. Old man Knapp hunted up the copy reader.

"What do you mean," he said, "by running in the name Bright in our columns? He is not an advertiser in our paper and is not entitled to a notice unless he pays for it."—Denver Post.
