NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

TORONTO, June 18.

The Globe this morning contains the following special cablegram, dated London, June 17: "Mr. Bright has given notice that he intends to ask the Colonial Secretary, on Thursday, a question regarding the visit of certain members of the Canadian Government who are reported to be coming to England for the purpose of asking the Imperial Government for a loan or guarantee, for the purpose of constructing the Canada Pacific Railway."

LONDON, June 18.

The usual scenes took place at the conferment of honorary degrees at Oxford University to-day. The under-graduates gave derisive cheers for the "Babes in the Woods," namely, Sir Bartle Frere and Lord Chelmsford.

The channel squadron in the Mediterranean has been ordered home.

ROME, June 18.

During a violent earthquake, yesterday, seven miles north-east of Catania, five villages in the vicinity were almost destroyed. Ten persons were killed and several injured. The inhabitants are fleeing en masse.

PARIS, June 18.

In consequence of DeCassagnac's final insult to the Government in the Chamber on Monday, "urgency" has been voted for the proposal of a rule making repeated insults to the Government punishable with exclusion from the Chambers till the end of the session.

BERLIN, June 18.

It is reported that Bismarck, in consequence of the coolness of the Ultramontanes, is endeavoring to gain the support of a section of the National-Liberals for his tariff bill.

ROME, June 18.

Eighteen persons were killed in the recent riots at Colatrabario, Sicily, and 60 were wounded. Seventy arrests were made.

LONDON, June 18.

It is understood that the Great Powers are not prepared to allow Bulgaria to possess Danube flotilla.

MADRID, June 18.

The Government has ordered energetic measures to obtain satisfaction from San Domingo for the outrage to the Spanish flag in the arrest, last winter, and subsequent execution of two insurgent Dominican generals, who had taken refuge on board a Spanish vessel at Puerto Plata.

BERLIN, JUNE 18.—The Bourse Gazette believes that the Government, in reply to the interpellation to be introduced in the Reichstag on Thursday, will state that it has no intention of modifying the principles which hitherto have been followed relating to the coinage. It will attribute the suspension of sales of silver to the state of the market and to the actual requirement of the Government, and will announce its intention of extending the coinage of silver should such a measure be ultimately necessary.

ALEXANDRIA, EGYPT, JUNE 18.

According to intelligence from Cairo, the French Consul General will proceed in full uniform to the Palace to announce that the French Government has decided to insist upon the deposition of the Khedive.

LONDON, JUNE 18.

James Addy, Colliery proprietor of Sheffield, has failed with liabilities of over £90,000.

CITY OF MEXICO, JUNE 10.

The principal candidates for Presidency at present are Valart, President of the Supreme Court; Senozontes, Gen. Trevino, Gen. M. Gonzalez, Senor Riva Palacio and Senor Cadena. It is feared that the number of candidates in the field will lead to anarchy next year, but Diaz will see the next President duly installed, and as the senior general, the army will then no doubt sustain him. The new revenue bill will add $5,000,000 per annum to the treasury.

The Coming Woman.

The Rev. Dr. S. Storrs delivered the oration at the semi-centennial celebration of the Abbott Academy for girls at Andover, Mass., this year. In the course of his remarks, he said:—

"Woman will make her own sphere, and the woman nature will take the house where the builder left and will shape and mould it, filling it with the atmosphere of her own tender soul. In every department of literature woman has entrance. In all professions she is gaining a footing. In medicine in theology, in law, she has already attained eminence. The grandest periods in the histories of Spain and England have been under woman's rule. It was the foot of a woman which first stepped on Plymouth Rock from the Mayflower. Whatever woman wants she will have, her responsibility bringing larger culture, and larger culture greater usefulness. All future civilization will be open to woman's influence. For this reason institutions of learning are multiplied and will offer yet greater advantages in the time to come."

Our Washington Letter.

POLITICAL TROUBLES AMONG OUR NEIGHBORS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 16, 1879.

Our dream of an early adjournment seems to be fading. The Republicans say that they have discovered many objectionable features in the appropriation bills since they came from the House, and will stoutly oppose them in the Senate; and that the President will, at least, veto the judicial expenses and the army bills, on the ground that they are intended to abridge or restrict the executive authority of the Government. It is generally thought that Mr. Blaine announced the President's platform when he said that, after retaining the same matter in other bills intended to establish a permanent policy, the President would be stultifying himself by approving a bill to rob him temporarily of the authority to enforce the laws. If this is the case, then the Democrats appear to have their opportunity to enforce the programme announced at the beginning, that is to adjourn and leave the responsibility with the President. The friends of the Administration assert that the President will at once call another session if the Democrats carry out this plan. In the mass of contradictory reports, it is difficult to find a solution of the snarl, but it looks now but very little nearer the end than a month ago. One Democratic report has it that the Republican opposition in the Senate does not have a deep meaning. Indeed, some of the House Republicans who voted for the Army Bill are unkind enough to insinuate that "Mr. Conkling is striving to create another breach between the party and Hayes. Knowing full well that Mr. Hayes will approve the Army Bill, Mr. Conkling wishes to make the Republicans oppose it." How far this feeling extends, I am not in a position to state, but the Democrats are counting much upon it, and it is but fair to say that the Republicans are ill at ease about it. There is trouble in the Independent Greenback camp. For a long time the radical "safts" have felt impatient at the manner in which their outposts have one by one been occupied by the Democrats. Now things have got to the serious pass where the Democratic party seems likely to "gobble" the Greenback party entire in such States as Maine and Ohio, and the men who stand out for a "new party" are incensed at it. The National View, the greenback organ here came out in a savage assault on the Ohio management, denouncing its talk about "troops at the polls," "a free ballot," "no supervisors," &c., as "that sort of frath" which is calculated to conceal the true issue of "financial reform." At the same time the original greenback organ in Maine comes out with a strong denunciation of the whole party management in that State, and accusing the leaders of having sold out to the Democrats for the hope of success, and signs somewhat similar came from Ohio. In other words, the radical greenbackers appear to have determined upon an independent party action or none at all.

While these things seem to trouble the Democratic Party, the Republicans are also troubled. Ohio is giving them enough to do, and every effort is necessary to affect the Democratic campaign; but meanwhile the election in Maine comes on, and Ohio will feel its influence. The Greenbackers and Democrats are working in Maine as never before, and there are indications that Secretary Sherman and his friends are anxious. The Republicans are experiencing some local trouble, also, in the matter of candidates, nobody who is wanted appearing willing to take the nomination for Governor of Maine, Judge Peters pre-emptively declines; Congressmen Reed and Frye prefer to stay in Congress, and others who are popular have "prior engagements." Mr. Hale wants the nomination; but, on account of his defeat last fall in his Congressional District, the policy of his nomination is doubted. The Opposition are making merry over this condition of things, but the Republicans still assert their ability to regain the State.

General Grant's horses, the gifts of the Sultan of Turkey, are one of Washington's attractions now. They are beautiful animals—both dapple gray, five and six years old, respectively, bright, sprightly and kind. They are broken to saddle only. They were delivered in Philadelphia free of cost for transportation. They are now at Brightwood Park, and will be kept in this vicinity until Gen. Grant's return.

MR. JOSIAH KERR, a well known accountant of Ottawa, was engaged in a game of hand ball with other guests of the St. Louis Hotel on Monday evening. About dusk the game was finished and Kerr sat down complaining of a slight pain in the side, and in a few minutes dropped dead. Cause heart disease.

Liver is King.

The liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural result. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with dyspepsia or liver complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the liver and stomach. Sample bottles to try, 10 cents. Positively sold in all towns on the Western Continent. Three doses will prove that it is just what you want.
