MR. LEMUEL H. CRASWELL

Inserted by the family. There passed away at the P.E.I. Hospital, Charlottetown on June 14, 1966, Lemuel Hamilton Craswell of Hunter River at the age of 67 years.

The deceased was born at Rustico on April 30, 1899. The son of the late Ethan and Hannah (Hickox) Craswell.

As a young man he worked in livestock for the Marketing Board and for the Swift Canadian Co. also farmed at Renwick's Road where he married the former Lottie Andrews.

Twenty years ago he moved to Hunter River and purchased the Everett Wedlock homestead where he continued as a livestock dealer for Swift's and operated a farm machinery business for Massey-Ferguson from which he received many awards for outstanding sales in the Maritimes.

Although in failing health for the past few years he was able to carry on his work on a much smaller scale until last February when he underwent surgery. He partially recovered and was able to be at home with his wife and family for two months. During this period a large number of neighbors and "old" friends called to wish him better health. Seven weeks before his death he again entered the hospital where in spite of medical aid, kind nursing, and his great courage, patience and cheerfulness throughout his illness, he passed peacefully away.

Lem will be greatly missed not only in the home but in the community and throughout the province because of his wide spread business contacts, especially with the farmers.

Besides his widow he leaves to cherish his memory two daughters and sons-in-law, Edith and Boyd Weeks, Fredericton, P.E.I., Phyllis and Norman Hall, Halifax, N.S. A sister, Beatrice and a brother Arthur predeceased him.

The largely attended funeral was held from Hunter River in the Presbyterian Church on Friday, June 17, 1966. Service was conducted by Rev. W. E. Hare and Rev. Merle Zimmerman. Interment took place in the church cemetery.

Flower bearers were Howard Schurman, J. Scott Cairns, Everett Francis, Fred Paynter, Stanley Evans and Ralph Burns.

Flower bearers were Robert Jardine, Cecil Paynter, Ronald Lewis, R. A. Profit and C. B. Matheson.

Interment was in the Freetown Community Cemetery and was under direction of The Davison Funeral Home.

EVERETT T. SCHURMAN

Inserted by the family. His many friends learned with deep regret of the death at the Prince County Hospital of Everett T. Schurman of Freetown, April 29th 1966. Although in declining health the last few years, he had been reasonably well until several days previous to his passing.

Mr. Schurman was a son of the late John Davis Schurman and Mrs. Schurman (nee Margaret Auld). Two brothers, Percy, former of Port Medway, N.S. and Ray, formerly of Vancouver, B.C. predeceased him.

As a young man he spent a number of years homesteading at Togo Sack. He then came back to Freetown where he has since been engaged in farming. After his return from Western Canada he married Marguerite Auld, daughter of the late Robert and Mrs. Auld (nee Minnie Fond). She passed away on December 22, 1948.

He is survived by his only son Robert Davis, on the homestead and three young grandsons Robert Douglas, Gordon Everett and Garth Blair.

Mr. Schurman endeared himself to all who were privileged to know him, a courteous and genial host he greeted his many visitors with a warm and genuine welcome. He always found time to chat with friends old and new. They enjoyed his wholesome character and went away feeling that it was good to know such a real unpretentious christian gentleman. The great number of cards, messages, letters and the banks of flowers sent by relatives and friends from far and near bore silent tribute to one so well beloved, and so deserving of the very best.

He was a member of Kensington Masonic Lodge No 12 and on the night of April 30th his brethren gathered at the home where they held service honouring a most worthy brother. The funeral service was held the next day Sunday at the Freetown United Church where Rev. Robert W. Shaw gave a most helpful and inspiring message to the large number present. J. B. Lewis beautifully sang "My Home Sweet Home".

The pallbearers were Howard Schurman, J. Scott Cairns, Everett Francis, Fred Paynter, Stanley Evans and Ralph Burns.

Flower bearers were Robert Jardine, Cecil Paynter, Ronald Lewis, R. A. Profit and C. B. Matheson.

Interment was in the Freetown Community Cemetery and was under direction of The Davison Funeral Home.

A normal ear of corn always has an even number of rows of kernels.

OBITUARY

MR. FRANK A. COOK

Inserted by the family. The death occurred suddenly at his home in Wood Islands on June 7th of Mr. Frank A. Cook in his 67th year.

Left to mourn his passing are his wife, the former Belina MacLennan, one son, Charles, at home, two daughters, Mrs. Athol Dewar of Montague and Mrs. Angus MacDonald of Wood Islands, sixteen grandchildren and three sisters and two brothers: Mrs. Charles Hancock of Murray River, Mrs. Belle Gillis of Wood Islands, Joseph of Belle River, Robert of Oakville, Ont. and Mrs. Chester Hancock of Belle River.

Funeral was held on Friday, June 10th from Wood Islands Church in Belle River Community cemetery.

The service was conducted by Rev. Ewen F. MacDougall. Pallbearers were Arthur MacMillan, Waldo Taylor, Charles MacLennan, Edgar Munn, George Young, Don Compton. Flower bearers were Russel Compton, William MacKay, Leon MacPhee, Don Fraser, Carl MacLeod.

CARD OF THANKS

The family wish to thank the many friends and neighbours for their kindness, letters and cards of sympathy and donations to the Heart Fund in their recent sad bereavement.

WIDOW PLANS RETURN

Mrs. Paul Carlson, LEFT, wife of the medical missionary who was killed by rebel gunfire in the Congo in 1964, talks with her brother-in-law, Dr. Dwight Carlson, in New York yesterday as the pair plan her return today to the Congo. They will spend two weeks looking for a suitable medical project to be undertaken by the Dr. Paul Carlson Foundation. Mrs. Carlson says she is not sure whether she will remain in the Congo. ## One Of Bitterest Strikes Far From Settlement

MONTEREAL, (CP) — One of the longest, bitterest strikes by textile workers in Quebec province's history is in its fifth month with no sign of a settlement.

The walkout, marked by explosive violence, charges and counter-charges and, in some cases, economic troubles for small merchants, involves 5,000 workers at Dominion Textile Co. Ltd. plants in Magog, Sherbrooke, Montmorency and Drummondville. Union spokesmen in Magog and Sherbrooke say the weekly cost of the strike is $113,000 in strike pay and other expenses, most of which must be paid from union funds.

The strikers are members of the National Federation of Textile Workers, an affiliate of the Quebec-based Confederation of National Trade Unions. The strike started in Magog April 1 and spread to the other three centres.

The walkout started quietly enough but as negotiations dragged on tempers became frayed and violence erupted. The bulk of the violence came during a six-day period in mid-July during which three bombs exploded and a company office was sacked.

On July 11 a goon squad broke into the company's temporary Sherbrooke headquarters and caused $2,000 damage by smashing typewriters and overturning desks.

Three days later a 16-year-old Montreal high school student, Jean Corbo, carried a time bomb into an alley behind the Dominion Textile plant in Montreal and was killed when the bomb apparently exploded prematurely.

Police said they believe the terrorist organization, Corbo's grief-stricken father, a Montreal notary, described his son as "the naive servant of the high priests of apartheid terrorism."

The Montreal plant is not affected by the strike because its employees belong to a different union.

On July 17 the homes of two company executives in Magog were rocked by an explosion caused by a Molotov cocktail and dynamite. Both men—Geoffrey Bonhomme, the Magog personnel manager, and Clarence Sivan, a foreman—were away with their families at the time but the explosions caused extensive damage to their homes.

SEK RIGHER WAGES
The dispute involves the question of night work for female employees and wage demands. The union is demanding an increase of 42 cents an hour and a 28-month contract and the company is offering 29 to 31 cents in a 40-month agreement. The present average wage paid to the workers is $1.79 an hour.

In a speech at the company's annual meeting July 29, F. F. King, executive vice-president of Dominion Textile, said the strike has cost the company about $6,000,000 without consideration of fringe benefits and possible wage increases. He said the "impact of the four communities is substantially in excess of this figure."

A few days earlier, two elected representatives from Sherbrooke became involved in the strike when they blamed the "rigid and miserly" attitude of the company for continuation of the walkout.

In a letter to then-president Blair Gordon, who retired July 29, Maurice Allard, independent Conservative member of Parliament and Raynald Frechette, Union Nationale member in the provincial legislature, warned that if the company did not modify its rigid attitude they will take the issue to the people in a "study and information" campaign.
