SECOND EDITION NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

MAY 20 1880.

The Chatterby Coal and Iron Company have decided to soon stop work again. The Company is believed to have come to the resolution partly on account of the continued depression in the price of iron in the United States, which has already so touched the prices as to make the exportation of iron from England unprofitable; and partly on account of the unsettled condition of labor here, which may at any time bring about a strike, and at present the Company can much better afford to stop for a while, until the market changes than to risk trouble with their hands as well as losses on their sales.

BOY WITHOUT EYES.—A child at Dover South Mills, Me., now eight years old, was born without eyes. He has eyebrows and eyelids, but there is nothing which indicates the presence of eyeballs, and doctors say that he has nothing whatever in the nature of an eye organ. The little fellow is an unusually bright boy. He has never been heard to utter a word of complaint at his condition, and he invariably rebukes his friends if they give expression to any pitying words. That he appreciates, however, the misfortune that afflicts him is shown thus: His little niece had a cataract upon her eye, and he had heard her expressed lest it should destroy her sight. It was not long after this that his mother heard his voice in an adjoining room, and, going quietly to the door, she was surprised to hear him praying to God that the little baby might not become blind.

Correspondence.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the statements or opinions of our correspondents

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—I notice in last night's EXAMINER another letter from Mr. Theophilus Chappelle, which, while it is intended to injure me, can only result in lowering him in public estimation. Such a production could only emanate from a man who never had a very proper idea of the dignity of newspaper correspondence. The scurrilous and abusive language in which it is couched is a fitting covering for the falsehood and misrepresentation which it contains.

However, I have no wish to quarrel with Mr. Chappelle about the style of his composition or his choice of language. That is a matter which concerns him, not me. Different people have different ideas of the proper way in which to express their opinion. The style of literature of which his letter is a sample may be, in his opinion, everything that might be expected from a public man. Most people, however, I think will rather consider it a sufficient evidence that the electors who rejected him acted wisely. My present purpose is merely to correct a few of the many misstatements his letter contains.

He says that I made an arrangement with him to canvass the East end of the town, while he took the West. This I deny, and as evidence I need only point to the fact that almost immediately after the arrangement was said to have been made, he and his worthy lieutenant were actively canvassing in the district said to have been assigned to me.

The fact of Mr. Chappelle employing teams to bring his votes to the polls, some of whom indeed did vote for me, and would have done so in any event, had only a tendency to injure me with my own friends—a great many of whom were very much averse to my even seeming to run in conjunction with a man whom they held in contempt.

Mr. Chappelle finds great fault with me for voting for myself. But Mr. Chappelle himself voted for me, and he also voted for himself. Surely I am not to be blamed by him for voting for the candidate he himself supported. I no more represent myself than I do Mr. Chappelle and the 156 other gentlemen who accorded me their support. Surely I have the same right to vote for myself that he had in 1879, when in conjunction with twenty-seven other gentlemen, he cast his vote for his own election.

Mr. Chappelle says that he canvassed all his electors to vote for me. I am credibly informed by several of my Roman Catholic friends, who promised me their support, that they were induced to withhold it by the representations made by him.

That I am indebted to Mr. Chappelle, to the amount of a biscuit and half a sandwich, I freely acknowledge. No doubt he considers this a heavy debt, and I would only be too happy to discharge it were an opportunity afforded me to do so. Perhaps this is the first instance in which a man has so begrudged a dinner as to make it a matter of public notoriety!

I think there is nothing in Mr. Chappelle's letter worthy of further notice. I have unwillingly paid this much attention to his absurd production, and hereafter I shall give his letters that attention which is due to them with that contempt which is indicated by complete silence. Yours, &c.,
DAVID LAWSON.

OTTAWA, May 18.

Application has been made for the Royal Humane medal, for a man named McConnell who rescued a fellow workman named Torbay from going over the Chaudiere Falls.

The corner stone of the new cotton factory at Brantford was laid yesterday afternoon with great eclat. The factory is to be a very large four story building in which some two hundred hands will find employment.

MONTREAL, May 18.

This morning at 7 o'clock, when work began on the docks, a crowd of strikers and loafers collected opposite Beaver Line S. S. "Lake Champlain," and when the men began to work greeted them with volleys of stones. The Captain was wounded in the arm, and the men driven off. The Water Police and City Police soon arrived in force, however, and drove the strikers away. About 8.30 p. m., when the police were in small numbers at Beaver Line wharf, the strikers mustered suddenly and drove the workers away again. The small detachment of Water Police there, being reinforced by about forty City Police, they made a charge on the crowd who retreated, throwing stones. Policeman Standre received a severe wound on the head, but the crowd was rapidly dispersed and two ringleaders arrested. The strike is practically at an end, and the strikers have gained nothing. At Allan's wharf men are working at the minimum of 17c. per hour. The Dominion line have granted 20 cents demanded, but they have selected the best men. This concession materially weakened the rioters. The Beaver Line are only giving the minimum of 15 cents, at which they have a number of country hands engaged. The Donaldson and Clyde Line have suspended work, but the stevedore will try and get a gang of men together to day at their usual rate of wages, and will be protected. No further trouble need be feared.

MONTREAL, May 18.

By order of the Attorney General, High Constable Bissonette left this afternoon for St. Sophie. The object of his visit is to conduct an investigation into a case of arson, which is spoken of as a very serious matter. The Roman Catholic Church there was burned to the ground and several barns were also consumed. It is said that there is strong evidence that the fire was the work of an incendiary. The investigation will likely make some important revelations.

ST. JOHN, May 18.

The jury in the scuttling trial came into Court this evening at eight o'clock and announced a verdict of guilty. The result is a great surprise to the public, who expected an acquittal or a disagreement at the utmost.

A motion is to be brought forward in the House of Commons by a private member regarding the disestablishment of the Church of England.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 17.

DUBLIN, May 17.

The Irish Solicitor General has been re-elected at Mallow, receiving 201 votes against 52 for Kelly, a Parnellite. Mr. Parnell is furious over the failure of his candidate. An adjourned meeting of the Home Rule members of Parliament was held to-day. There were 45 members present. Lord Mayor Gray presided. Mr. Brooks proposed, and Mr. Richard Power seconded the election of Mr. Shaw as the sessional leader of the Home Rule party. The O'Gorman proposed Mr. Parnell which was seconded by Mr. Biggar. After a long discussion Parnell was elected by a vote of 23, against 8 for Mr. Shaw. Mr. Parnell returned his thanks for the honor conferred upon him and the meeting adjourned.
