WRECKED THE VESSEL.

A Possible Danger of Steam Jets as Fire Extinguishers.

For many years steam jets have been considered excellent means for extinguishing fires in inclosed spaces, and examples of their good services have been abundant. The theory of their action of course is, like that of the several kinds of fire extinguishing powders which have been proposed at different times, that the steam in the one case and the stifling fumes from the powder in the other displace the air in any particular space under consideration, and with it the oxygen as well, by which alone combustion can be sustained.

In at least one instance, however, the position was taken that if the steam jets did not extinguish a fire promptly they soon became a source of danger, and as such were held accountable for the loss about a year ago of a cargo steamer carrying several hundred tons of coal and as many more of miscellaneous chemicals and old rope. Fire broke out in one of the holds, which were fitted with steam jet fixtures, and the jets were at once turned on. On the day following it was proposed to try a hose in addition to the jets, and one of the upper deck hatches was therefore taken off.

The almost immediate result was a violent explosion, killing one of the officers and seriously injuring another. All the other hatches were blown off at the same time, and the ship began to leak, so that she soon had to be abandoned. One explanation advanced was that the steam from the jets, passing over the incandescent cargo, formed water gas, which, with suitable air admixture, became explosive, with the result noted. The theory is not a comforting one, but whether it portrays a possible condition of things yet remains to be demonstrated.—Cassier's Magazine.

Simple Ruby Lamp.

Secure an ordinary quart size red Rhine wine bottle and by gently tapping on the bottom thereof break out enough glass to allow the insertion of a candle. A hammer can be used for this purpose, if a little care be taken. Then wrap a piece of ruby paper all around the bottle, securing same by paste or nautical. The lamp is now ready for use, and by standing the bottle on a triangle of burned matches and lighting the candle, will burn without any trimming of wick and other oil lamp inconveniences. The little white light emanating from the top will do absolutely no harm.—New York Mail and Express.

Curious Typographical Errors.

Dr. Daniel of the Texas Medical Journal, referring to a recent editorial in The Statesman on typographical errors, gives an amusing experience in that line. He says he wrote, "Dr. Jno Ballyhache set 74 years, born July 22, 1822, and died"—Imagine his disgust when it appeared in The Journal, "Dr. Ballyhache ate 74 years of corn July 22, 1822, and died."—Austin Statesman.

It is claimed that the X rays are rendered harmless to the human flesh by a process discovered by Elliott Woods, superintendent of the capitol at Washington, which involves passing the rays through gold foil specially prepared for the purpose.

DR. AYERS

Spring is a Wolf in Sheep's Clothing

The gentleness of Spring, of which the poet sings is, to a certain extent, visionary. There is more disease wafted about on the gentle Spring breeze than is carried along by the gales of a blizzard. "When Spring unlocks the flowers that paint the laughing soil," it also frees from the frozen clutch of winter the imprisoned germs of disease. Each melting pile of a winter's collection of dirt and snow exhales disease laden fumes. Your health, at the critical season of the year, depends on whether your system is strong enough and your blood pure enough to withstand the disease that lurks in the spring atmosphere. Abbey's Effervescent Salt purifies the blood; strengthens the system; imparts energy to every portion of the body; prevents disease. It is not only a Spring medicine. It is a general all-the-year round tonic, in all climates, at all times. Its use in the Spring-time will do you more good than any self styled Spring medicine. The daily use of Abbey's Effervescent Salt gives robust, energetic health and a clean system. Do you take it daily? If not commence now. You could not choose a better time.

What two Canadian medical authorities say: The Canada Lancet says: "This preparation deserves every good word which is being said of it. A sample is offered to each physician, and most favorably it is commented upon. There is no doubt but that the daily use of Abbey's Effervescent Salt will be a great preventive and aid in warding off attacks of disease."

Dr. Chas. L. DeMartigny, of Montreal, has been a physician for the last fifty years. He has seen much suffering in that time, and has done much to alleviate it. This is his opinion of Abbey's Effervescent Salt: "I have given Abbey's Effervescent Salt a very thorough trial among the inmates of the House of the Sisters of Providence, where I am resident physician. I have found it particularly useful in cases of Flatulency, Headache and Chronic Constipation, and am using it now in a case of Rheumatism. I have tested Abbey's Effervescent Salt in a great number of cases, and have always found the results perfectly satisfactory. I have no hesitation in recommending Abbey's Effervescent Salt as a thoroughly reliable preparation. I may add that I use Abbey's Effervescent Salt myself every day, and have found it more beneficial in my own case than any similar thing I have ever tried."

Abbey's Effervescent is known as "The Foundation of Health." All druggists sell this standard English preparation at 60 cents a large bottle. Trial size, 25 cents.
