

A Little Mixed.

Dramatis Personae: HON. ALEX. MACKENZIE, HON. EDWARD BLAKE, HON. GEO. BROWN.

The scene is laid in BLAKE'S office, Toronto. Time—The day following the recent banquet at Ottawa. Hon. EDWARD and Hon. ALEX. discovered conversing familiarly.

Hon. Alex.—Weel, ma gude freon', what think ye o' this banqueting beesness? Sic a daft-like set, to be banqueting an awfu' scoundrel lak you mon. Dinna ye ken hoover, it has a mighty effect upon the country. The people are sic awfu' fules, they really think Jone A. has benefitted the country. (Aside—Alas! that they should be so near richt.) Would na it be a grand idea, to have the great Reform Party tender their leader a banquet?

Hon. Edward—Your ability, my esteemed friend, as a philosopher and manipulator of men, has never been denied; and this excellent idea you have promulgated, gives but another proof of your sagacity in dealing with mankind. And I am sure you will not accuse me of egotism, when I say I shall receive with pride and satisfaction any honor the great Reform Party may confer on me.

Hon. Alex.—Aye, mon, but it should be the leader, the chieftain, ye ken, that should be banqueted.

Hon. Edward—I quite coincide with you my dear sir, as leader, I may—

Hon. Alex.—Leader!! Are ye daft a' thegither, mon? Who made ye the leader? —I—I—

(Enter—Geo. Brown.)

Geo.—Hail brithers in a mighty cause! What's a' the contravary?

Alex.—(Excited)—You mon, Blake, dares to say he's leader o' the Party—

Hon. Edward—(Sneeringly)—That Mackenzie fellow fails to perceive his "usefulness is gone"—

Geo.—Aye aye; but dinna squabble, bairns. I ken yer baith wrang. I—I—I (very impressively and planting his left half-are fiercely on the floor), am the "Party" and the "Party's" Leader!! (Tableau.)

Washington Letter.

GENERAL GRANT AND THE THIRD TERM.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 15, 1879.

There may be persons verdant enough still to believe that General Grant and his friends are not working for a third term nomination; but since the developments of the last few weeks they must be very few. All their energy and adroitness has been in use ever since he landed in San Francisco to promote that one object, and the shrewd arrangement of receptions of an "unpartisan" nature, has been made to bear an important part, and one little suspected by many who have taken part in them. The last announcement of General Grant's friends is a sequel to the whole. He will not go to New York now, they say, because he wants to reserve that place as a base of operations for another reception campaign when he returns in the spring.

But I started out to speak of the most significant characteristic act of this sharp campaign. When General Grant and his party were informed of the death of Senator Chandler, there was much speculation as to who would take his place in various positions, among them the Chair-membership of the National Committee. General Grant promptly suggested for the latter "Dom Cameron." There were some insinuations about the "Cameron ring," and suggestions of other names, but General Grant would not hear to them. Within a few days General Grant's edict has been put in force so far as it can be. William G. Kemble, of Philadelphia, has withdrawn from the Republican Committee, and appointed Cameron as his proxy. They have not even waited for the State Committee to elect a substitute, but propose to force the National Committee to assume the responsibility of legalizing this new assumption of the Cameron clan in Pennsylvania. There is great indignation among Republicans at this impudent trick, and it may be the means of injuring General Grant. The result will be known to many of your readers before this reaches them, but I record the facts just as they appear now.

The House having passed the Pension and Fortification bills, it is announced that two other bills will be passed before the recess, to begin next Friday. These are the military, and the Consular, and the Diplomatic. The more important bills will be postponed until after the holidays. The Republicans begin to express fear that the Democrats are holding back the United States Marshals deficiency in order to back it on the new bill, and then prohibit payments of any money for election purposes. But it seems now more likely that the Democrats are disposed not to make any fight, and postpone consideration in order hit to upon some prohibitory policy that shall suit both stations.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 40,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your Druggist about it. Sample Bottles to try sold at 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by all Druggists.

Correspondence.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the statements or opinions of our correspondents.

DEAR SIR.—As a public journalist you would oblige very much by stating through the columns of your paper the reason that my reply to J. G. Yelland's letter, which appeared in the EXAMINER some time ago, was not published,—as various parties think he has crushed me at once, and that I had neither manliness nor dignity to reply. To such I would say that I am prepared to defend myself against any charges he may bring against me, either publicly or privately.

EDWIN CREW.

[The reason why Mr. Crew's letter was not published in THE EXAMINER was that it was very long and not of public interest.—EDITOR EXAMINER.]

The Liberal party in England is evidently determined to make a fierce struggle for the majority at the next general elections whenever they may occur. Mr. Gladstone has entered Midlothian, a Tory stronghold, and commenced his campaign with a vigor wonderful for a man of his years, and now Mr. Forster, one of the leaders of the party, is storming Westmoreland, with Sir Henry Tuf-ton as his candidate. This country is described as almost as much one of the hereditaments of the Lowther family as Lowther Castle, and not since 1821 has a Liberal member represented the county. If the Conservative party is not defeated next year, it assuredly will not be for want of effort on the part of their political opponents to bring about that end, for the war is being carried into Africa with a vengeance by the Liberals. There will be at least one good result flowing from the bitter and general contest, that it will produce a widespread thorough discussion of the great political problems which are to be presented to the people.

The New York World says:—"Lord Beaconsfield will probably take an early opportunity of familiarizing the British public with the fact demonstrated yesterday, at the Dairy Fair, that the best American cheese is made in Canada. Since he solaced the British farmer with the prediction that after the British farmer had been ruined by the American farmer the American farmer would in turn be ruined by the Canadian farmer, he is prepared to derive great satisfaction from this latter fact. In truth, the Canadian farmer, though American farmers do not go as much in fear of him as Lord Beaconsfield represent, is a highly deserving person, and his mutton, as well as his cheese, is worthy of all praise."

LORNE HIGHLAND WHISKY. THE ANALYTICAL SANITARY INSTITUTION, 54, Holborn-viaduct, E. C., London, Aug. 18, 1879, report on the "Lorne Highland Whisky" of Messrs. Greenlees Brothers:—"We have visited the bottling stores of Messrs. Greenlees Brothers, at Gresham-buildings, London, and have selected from the vats, samples of their Lorne Highland Whisky, and have subjected them to careful examination and analysis. The samples were pale, showing their freedom from added coloring matter, very fragrant, mellow and of pleasant flavor; in fact, they possessed all the characteristics of pure and well-matured Scotch Whisky of the first quality."
